Keith Richard is a Master Casting Instructor certified by Fly Fishers International and is one of less than 50 Masters in the world who has earned a level 2 status which allows him to test candidates for CI certification and Master Casting Instructor certification. He has served on the Casting Board of Governors for the past two and a half years. Keith is also owner of The Camp Fly Fishing School in Breaux Bridge, Louisiana. Keith travels throughout the US promoting fly fishing and has done numerous workshops at the International Fair over the past 4 years. Over the years he's authored articles that have been presented in The Loop. Presently he is working with AHEROUSA promoting fly fishing for veterans and has produced a series of videos which are to be available for public use on their website for anyone wishing to learn how to fly fish as well as advanced casters.
