

6 WAYS TO BE A SEA TURTLE HERO

PICK UP TRASH

Properly dispose of any trash you bring to or find on the beach. Plastic bags, balloons, and other debris may be mistaken as food by sea turtles. Excess fishing line can entangle and drown sea turtles.

LEAVE NO TRACE

Turtles don't need hurdles! Each night remove beach furniture and recreation items for sea turtles. Sea turtles can't back up and do not move easily on land. Obstacles can cause them to abandon nesting, become trapped or injured.

LEAVE IT FLAT

Fill in any large holes dug in the sand, knock down sandcastles and beach art so adult and hatchling sea turtles are not harmed. Any obstruction may cause:

- Adult sea turtles to abandon nesting
- Entrapment or injury
- Hatchlings not making it into the water

DO NOT DISTURB

Do not disturb nests, markers, signs, or tracks. If you see a nesting sea turtle or hatchlings, stand still behind the sea turtle, stay out of their line of sight and observe quietly. Call *FWC to report the sighting. Do not use flashlights or flash photography.

LIGHTS OUT

Sea turtles need the dark to nest and hatchlings, baby sea turtles, need the dark to find the water.

Minimize sea turtle disorientation by:

- Drawing beachfront curtains & shades at night so interior lights are not visible on the beach.
- Turning off outside lights after dusk.
- Using sea turtle-safe red lights.
- Not using flashlights on the beach at night.
