

Codarts Rotterdam

DANCE

The dance department of Codarts Rotterdam was founded in 1931 by the modern dance pioneer Corrie Hartong. Corrie's vision required for her to use her performing, creating and teaching skills alike to generate enough momentum for her innovative ideas. With this legacy in mind, today, Codarts University of the Arts, offers BA programs in dance and in teaching dance, a MA program in dance therapy and a MA program in choreography.

Codarts' BA dance program is a combination of intensive studies in dance techniques and improvisations/composition, artistic practice and related theory and reflection. Apart from our dedicated faculty we work with a wide range of guest teachers and guest choreographers linking our student community to an active professional (inter)national dance field. Many of these representatives of the professional dance world are also alumni of Codarts/Rotterdam Dance Academy.
