 (Non-Fiction)

Named on Booklist's Top Ten Religion and Spirituality Books of 2016, Threading My Prayer Rug is a richly textured reflection on what it is to be a Muslim in America. It is also the luminous story of many journeys: from Pakistan to the United States in an arranged marriage that becomes a love match lasting forty-five years; from secular Muslim in an Islamic society to devout Muslim in a society ignorant of Islam, and from liberal to conservative to American Muslim; from bride to mother; and from an immigrant intending to stay two years to an American citizen, business

PASTORS CORNER

“How long, O Lord” Psalm 13

My new friend strode into the room late. Her frustration and pain filled the air like a thick perfume. All present were suddenly silenced. We recognized the state she was in. We were all very familiar with it.

“I feel like my life is slapped together,” she said. “Nothing is in order. It’s not at all what I expected or worked for. I’ve tried everything. All the personal growth stuff. I’ve prayed and things only get worse. People pray for me and I just get sicker. I want faith to make a difference in my life, but I just don’t get it!”

As I reflected later on her statements and our group’s fumbling efforts to comfort and support her, I thought what a perfect contemporary paraphrase of Psalm 13 her words were. “How long, O Lord, will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me? How long must I bear pain in my soul and sorrow in my heart? All day long?” (Psalm 13, selected verses.)

Many of us have times like that every once in a while. Most of us can recall moments when all we felt was a crying absence of God’s presence. We had done all we knew how to do and still no relief. No glimpse of a way out. No sense of God’s comfort or guidance. We have had dry, empty, silent times when we felt tired, tired to the core. Tired of praying. Tired of waiting. Tired of trying.

Since the beginning of time, God’s people have wrestled periodically with feelings of absence, doubt or disillusionment. We’ve known times when the faith itself seemed to be “working” for others but not for us.

I would like to suggest that those times are immensely valuable. There is a story of a little girl who was taking piano lessons and trying to learn to read music. The teacher told her that the little blocks and squiggles sprinkled throughout the musical piece were called rests. After the explanation, the teacher asked the girl if she understood.

“Sure,” she said. “That’s when nothing happens.”

“Oh, no,” the teacher said. “Silence is not the same as nothing. The rest is a part of whole fabric of the music, as much as the notes. Rests reveal the real wisdom of the composer. They are not nothing.”

Perhaps the agonizing times of silent waiting are like that, part of the ultimate symphony of the spiritual life, necessary and natural, like Sabbath.

The suggestion that times of apparent silence are natural does not make them any easier to endure nor their onset any easier to understand or predict. Sometimes it seems that times of silence come as a result of sin that has subtly taken hold and misdirected our hearts and energy. Sometimes they seem to be a test to see if we truly believe or if we are fair weather only followers. Sometimes they come as a part of grief or change. Sometimes they even seem to come after a great high or success. Sometimes they come because we have put our hands over our ears like children not wanting to hear God’s call to change or grow.

Whatever precipitates times of God’s apparent silence, a number of things happen during them. Our priorities begin to be reshaped. We learn to let go of our dependence on external things to support and give meaning to our lives. We learn that having more, achieving more, getting more acclaim, approval and acceptance can never substitute for deep and sustaining relationship with God. All of the things we think we need, that we think define us, come into focus for what they are. We recognize that they are not bad. They are just not necessary. With that realization comes the stark awareness that we simply cannot manage without God. Nothing else in all creation can fill that aching need.

In times when we feel that God is silent, strangely and mysteriously, we find that we learn our need for God, grieve our sense of absence and learn to trust and rely upon God anyway. We learn that our feelings, even our feelings of God’s presence, are not God. Faith deepens as we choose to continue to believe and act on our belief even when we do not see or feel results. We learn that faith is not about what we feel to be real, any more than it is about getting what we want. Faith is about whom we choose to rely upon.

When we stop running from, or railing against, times of silence, we can recognize that silence is not nothing and neither is God truly absent. God is working miracles of faith into the very fabric of our lives.

The Psalmists understood the complexity of human emotions and felt no need to hide or sanitize those feelings in their prayers. They just put it all out there. I love that! This month the daily scriptures all come from the Psalms and the little prayers from a Psalm journal I kept years ago. I invite you this month to use them, if helpful, and lay all of yourself before God, no matter what you feel, or if you feel nothing at all. You will be blessed!

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Eugenia

July Daily Scripture and Prayer

1 – Psalm 99:5 Extol the Lord our God; worship at God’s footstool. Holy is our God!

3 – Psalm 33:4 – The word of the Lord holds true, and everything he does is worthy of trust.

Dear God, how I long to trust you more! Some days I feel that you are far away and distracted. Then I only trust myself. What a mistake! Help me to trust you even if I do not feel you. Amen.

4 – Psalm 104:24 How many are your works, O Lord! In wisdom you made them all; the earth is full of your creatures.

Dear God, I thank you today for the beauty of this land and for the gifts and responsibilities you have given us as a people. Help us to work for justice, freedom and peace. Show us how to mend our flaws and demonstrate your love. Amen.

5 – Psalm 91:1 God orders the angels to protect you wherever you go.

Dear God you are with me and in charge today. Thank you. Help me to lean into your loving provision and live this day in tranquility. Amen.

6 – Psalm 119:18 Open my eyes to see the wonderful truths in your law.

8 – Psalm 40:17 As for me, I am poor and needy, but the Lord takes thought for me. You are my help and my deliverer; do not delay, O my God.

Dear God, sometimes I am just a bundle of needs and hurts. Comfort me, I beg of you. Remind me that what I see is not all that there is, not to my situation, not to the world, and especially not to you. Amen.

9 – Psalm 130:1-2 From the depths of despair, O Lord, I call for your help. Hear my cry, O Lord. Pay attention to my prayer.

Dear God, sometimes I cry out to you and do not understand why you seem silent. Speak to me today, dear God. Help me to meet today’s challenges knowing that you are with me. Amen.

10 – Psalm 26:12 I have taken a stand, and I will publicly praise the Lord.

Dear God, it is my joy today to bear your name: Christian. Help me to honor you in all I do. Give me courage to be your person in every situation. Amen

11 – Psalm 106:1 Praise the Lord. Give thanks to the Lord, for God is good; God’s love endures forever.

12 – Psalm 84:11 – For the Lord is our light and protector. God gives us grace and glory. No good thing will the Lord withhold from those who do what is right.

Dear God, you are the light of my life. Today I ask that you show me a patch of your light to stand in. Help me to trust your bounty and live according to your plan. Amen.

13 – Psalm 106:2 – Who can utter the mighty doings of the Lord, or declare all God’s praise?

Dear God, I am amazed by you. I see the tiniest creatures and the grandest designs and I am humbled to the core. You have kept me and led me all of my life and I do not know what to say but ‘thank you’. Amen.

14 – Psalm 32:8 – The Lord says, “I will guide you along the best pathway for your life. I will advise you and watch over you.”

Dear God, some days my path seems strewn with boulders higher than I can even see. Help me to trust you to take my next step. Help me to know that you see the destination and to follow you willingly. Amen.

15 – Psalm 36:6 – By the word of the Lord the heavens were made, and all their host by the breath of God’s mouth.

Dear God, you have spoken all creation into being. Its vastness is supreme. You even spoke my own life into being. Thank you for your word. Train me to hear and respond. Amen.

16 – Psalm 27:1 The Lord is my light and my salvation---so why should I be afraid?

Dear God, sometimes my fears are just relentless. Even when they threaten to overwhelm me I know that they are really false because in you all fear is banished. Help me today to see your light. Amen.

17 – Psalm 127:1 Unless the Lord builds a house, the work of the builders is in vain.

Dear God, the house of my soul feels shaky today. Shore up my foundations with your peace for I cannot do it alone. Amen.

18 – Psalm 34:7 – The angel of the Lord encamps around those who fear God, and God delivers them.

Dear God, I believe that your angels are encamped around me to help and protect me. Thank you. Today I ask that you help me rest in the promise of your help. Amen.

19 – Psalm 31:7 I am overcome with joy because of your unfailing love, for you have seen my troubles, and you care about the anguish of my soul.

Dear God, all I can think about today is your love for me. It is more wonderful than words. You have held me in despair and your love is enough. Amen.

20 – Psalm 128: 1-2 Happy is everyone who fears the Lord, who walks in God’s ways. You shall eat the fruit of the labor of your hands; you shall be happy, and it shall go well with you.

Dear God, thank you for providing me with something to do today, no matter what it is. My life is full from loving you and I am feasting on your grace. Amen.

21 – Psalm 69: 14 – Rescue me from the mire, do not let me sink; deliver me from those who hate me, from the deep waters.

Dear God, people are driving me crazy today! I do not understand them or why they do what they do. Help me to rely on you. Guide me through these waters. Amen.

25 – Psalm 106:48 Praise be to the Lord, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting. Let all the people say, “Amen!” Praise the Lord.

Dear God, I want to praise you today but I am having a hard time doing it. Life is hard and I am stressed. Come to me, Lord, and open my eyes to your wonders. Amen.

26 – Psalm 46:1 God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

Dear God, I return to this verse again and again and again. I cling to it as a way of clinging to you. Help me. Strengthen me. Deliver me. Amen.

27 – Psalm 69:32 – The humble will see their God at work and be glad. Let all who seek God’s help live in joy.

Dear God, help me today not to try to do everything myself. Help me to seek and accept the help I need so that I may experience a little of the joy you have for me. Amen.

28 – Psalm 141:3 – Set a guard over my mouth, O Lord; keep watch over the door of my lips.

Dear God, today I ask that you help me to speak only good and loving things to others and to myself. Amen.

29 – Psalm 27:5 In the time of trouble God shall hide me in God’s own pavilion

Dear God, I would like to flee to you today. Please tuck me to your heart and let me rest there awhile. Amen.

30 – Psalm 100:2 – Obey God gladly; come before God, singing with joy.

Dear God, I seem to never learn that obeying you is my joy. Help me today to remember that your ways are always best. Amen.

31 – Psalm 124:8 – Our help is from the Lord, who made the heavens and the earth.

Dear God, you have made all things and we are all in your hands. Help me today to look to you for my support and my meaning. Amen.

executive, grandmother, and tireless advocate for interfaith understanding.

Beginning with a sweetly funny, moving account of her arranged marriage, the author undercuts stereotypes and offers the refreshing view of an American life through Muslim eyes. Sabeeha was doing interfaith work for Imam Feisal A. Rauf, the driving force behind the Muslim community center near Ground Zero, when the backlash began. She recounts what that experience revealed about American society and in a new preface discusses Islam in America in the time of Trump.

Movie Night

Disney's Frozen

Sunday, July 15th

6:00 p.m.

Pizza dinner, popcorn, red vines & special "Frozen Desserts" will be served

Dear folks,

The church is embarking on a new project, and we would like to invite anyone who's interested to participate. We have need of a new banner for the Jubilee Weekend in October, and we would like to combine the old with the new. The church has several banners from the Santa Maria church, but they are no longer in a condition to hang in the Sanctuary. We would like to create a new banner from pieces of the old ones, uniting the past with the present and future. We are looking to find people to help design the banner, and people to help sew and embroider it. You do not need to belong to Threads of Faith, the NCPC crafters group, to be involved with this project (although Threads is always welcoming new members!).

If you are intrigued and would like to help with any aspect of this creation, please contact Caroline Johnson in the office, or Caroline Cohen (860-268-6837)

Thank You!
