FR. JACK'S CHUCKLE

NASA was interviewing professionals to go to Mars. The touchy part was that only one guy could go, and it was a one-way trip. The interviewer asked each candidate how much they wanted for going. The engineer wanted $1 million to donate to his alma mater – Rice University. The doctor wanted $1 million for his family and $1 million to leave for the advancement of medical research. The lawyer asked for $3 million. When asked why so much he replied "I'll give you $1 million, I'll keep $1 million, and we'll send the engineer."
