

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Isn't this just another layer of government?

Yes. The Town Zoning REPLACES the County's Zoning with Local Control.

No. The Town can do road projects which counties normally don't do (and are forbidden from spending property tax money on road projects.)

The Town of Denver is proposed to be a lean government entity with the goal of minimizing taxation while providing for the ability to better manage issues currently plaguing the area including rezoning, approval of developments, and road planning and maintenance. The proposed charter includes a hard cap on the local tax rate of 12 cents per $100 (compare to County tax of 61.1 cents, or Fire Department tax rates of 8.9 cents (ELFD) or 11 cents (DFD))
