

Pathways of Parenting

All About Parenting

Parenting is all about thoughtfulness and caring in day-to-day activities.

Parenting is all about cooperation, sharing and waiting.

Parenting is all about making it easy to do the right thing.

Parenting is all about saying what you mean and meaning what you say.

Parenting is all about maximizing everybody's best behaviors and recycling the rest.

Parenting is all about teaching the values of relationship over ownership.

Parenting is all about knowing when to step in, when to step aside and when to step out.

Parenting is all about balancing wants and needs.

Parenting is all about creating a little piece and quiet now and then.

Parenting is all about exploring new ways of thinking, feeling and doing.

Parenting is all about facing the big issues together.

Parenting is all about living with rules that help everyone to respect each other, the home, the family and the neighborhood.

Parenting is all about welcoming young people's friends and classmates into the family circle.

Parenting is all about offering support, laughter and inspiration at home.

Parenting is all about staying close, watching out for and loving one another.

Parenting is all about bringing the spirit of growth, creativity and faith into everyday family living.

©1999 Dorothy Law Nolte, All Rights Reserved

For more poems and words of wisdom visit www.childrenlearnwhattheylive.com