

Date Night Questions That Lead to Intimacy!

Both of you answer 3 of these questions on each of your next 4 date nights in order to really begin to understand each other better. (Read these questions to each other)

1. What things make you feel most fully alive, as in you find great satisfaction or delight when doing these things and you get so engrossed that you lose track of time?
2. What 3 things do you value the most in life?
3. What's the most important character quality you value in the people closest to you?
4. If you had $100 million and didn't have to work for a living, what would you do with your time and money?
5. What are the three most impactful moments of your life?
6. What is something I could do to make you feel more loved (for wives) or respected (for husbands)?
7. If you could have me change just one thing in our relationship, what would mean the most to you?
8. What one thing would you like to see me do differently when we are having a disagreement or conflict in the future?
9. What is the one area where you feel most inadequate or like a failure?
10. What is one of your deepest fears or insecurities?
11. What is a hope or dream you have for the future, even if it seems unrealistic?
12. What is one of the best and most enjoyable times you've had with me? Why was it so enjoyable to you?