Biodiesel is a renewable fuel that is manufactured from vegetable oils, animal fats, or recycled restaurant grease for use in diesel equipment. Biodiesel's However, as the biodiesel is produced from vegetable oils and animal fats, there are concerns that biodiesel feedstock may compete with food supply in the long-term. The successful financing of an ethanol or biodiesel project requires a substantial amount of capital. The cost of constructing a biofuels plant that produces 50 million gallons per year can easily exceed $80 million. To contribute to better health and environmental conditions, this project collected waste oil and processes it into biodiesel.ECPN “Bio diesel” projects target will be 200,000,000,000 litre production per year.

Benefits of Jatropha

- Low cost of seeds.
- High oil content.
- Small gestation period.
- Grows on good to poor soils.
- Grows in low to high rainfall.
- Plant size makes seed collection convenient.

In the Philippines, Jatropha curcas L. can easily produce 5,000 kg of seeds or 1,500 L of biodiesel per hectare. Given good management, production could be as high as 8 t or 2,500 L of biodiesel per hectare.

3) ECPN "waste to energy" target will be 200,000,000,000-ton waste to be converted to energy. waste-to-energy projects have gained special attention from the central government. States have been directed to procure all electricity generated from waste-to-energy projects without fail. Waste-to-energy or energy-from-waste is the process of generating energy in the form of electricity and/or heat from the primary treatment of waste.

4) ECPN "waste to compost" target will be 200,000,000,000 tons waste to be convert to compost. Compost is rich in nutrients. It is used in gardens, landscaping, horticulture, and agriculture. The compost itself is beneficial for the land in many ways, including as a soil conditioner, a fertilizer, addition of vital humus or humid acids, and as a natural pesticide for soil. In ecosystems, compost is useful for erosion control, land and stream reclamation, wetland construction, and as landfill cover (see compost uses). Organic ingredients intended for composting can alternatively be used to generate biogas through anaerobic digestion.

5) ECPN "Waste to Fuel" target will be 200,000,000,000 tons waste to be convert to fuel.

6) ECPN "Green & clean Energy "target will be 200,000,000,000 Solar panels First of all Renewable Energy Projects That Pave the Way to a Cleaner Future. Sun, wind, water, biomass, waves and tides, and the heat of the soil, all provide alternatives to non-renewable energy. The fastest growing of these green energy sources is solar power and wind power. Hydro power is the largest alternative energy source but geothermal power, biomass power and tidal power are starting to make strides. Renewable is not only the need of the hour, but also the talk of the town.
