

The History of Victorian Seances

Saturday @ 10:45 AM

Pope Marine Building

$10.00 each

- Victorian seances were a popular form of entertainment and spiritual practice that involved communication with the dead through mediums.
- The practice was influenced by theories of “animal magnetism” and was part of the Victorian spiritualist movement.
- In the 1860’s, spiritualism became part of the Victorian subculture.
- Join Dr. Matthew Bell as he leads an informative discussion and slide show of how seances were conducted and contrived during the Victorian era.
