Lacemaking Demonstration
Saturday @ 12:15 PM - Free

Cotton Building

- The Puget Sound Lacemakers will be demonstrating the exquisite art of lacemaking.
- Victorian lacemaking was a cottage industry that involved the creation of intricate lace by hand using bobbins, needles, and other techniques.
- Margaret More, a local artisan from the United Kingdom with a wealth of knowledge of specialized laces, will narrate a slide show, followed by a free demonstration lacemaking that would have been crafted during the Victorian Era.
