New Decision Therapy

When Alice went through the looking glass her whole world changed. She began to discover new and exciting things about herself and finally learned to trust herself.

Your body can be a trusted teacher and guide if you are in tune with it. Understanding the Mind/body connection and getting in touch with your needs is a key element in the prevention of disease.

New Decision therapy allows you to assert control and eliminate fears, improve your relationships with people, create your own financial environment, and overcome obstacles to spiritual growth

What You'll Learn

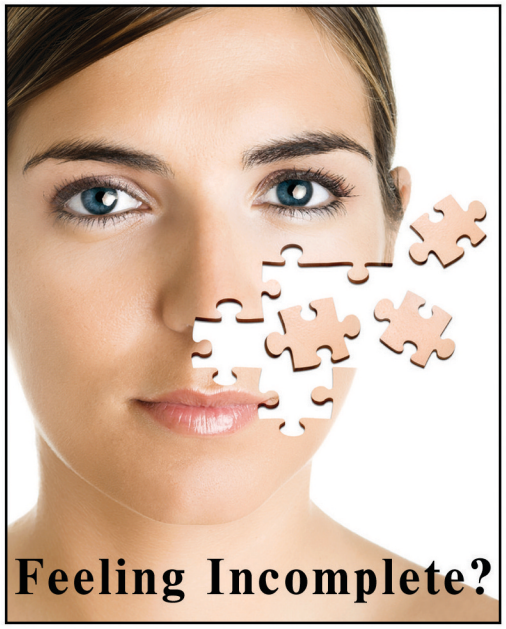

Clearing Denial -
In four easy steps

Mirror Work -
Allows you to reprogram your life from the cellular level up.

Scripting -
From the power of the spoken word, your own voice gives access to healing on the deepest levels.

Circuit Testing -
Many people agree that the body is our spiritual temple. Through circuit teasing, we'll know how to sweep it clean emotionally and physically.

Do It Yourself -
NDT can be used on yourself or with others. Some systems promise quick results which work for the short term but often omit the underlying reasons for your emotional problems. NDT heals your emotional history with long term standing results.

1. Are you still looking for clues to unravel your behavior patterns?

2. Have you tried various therapies and are still making the same mistakes?

3. If so, Perhaps you are ready for a techinque which addresses the real root causes of your unconscious choices.

What Happens When Life Hands You A Dirty Deal?

New research in the field of the mind/body connection indicates that how we handle negative life experiences will determine our health and our ability to get what we want in life. Much of Everyday stress and negativity stays with us and may make the physical body weak, and prone to disease over time. It literally lowers your immune system's will to live.

Bad experiences come and go in life, and some times you may get smacked by life really hard! You know the feeling? When you've just had enough, want to quit and give up.

Most people as they go through life will experience one or more big traumas or losses, such as a divorce or loss of a loved one. When this happens, our body can go into shock or numbness as a natural defense so that we won't get overwhelmed in all our systems at the same time.

The shock and numbness gives us cushion of space while we sort out how we feel and what we need to do in order to respond. If our feelings or emotions don't get processed in a healthy way, they sink into the memory of the cells of the body and we get to stay in a numbed state longer and longer.

Sooner or later, the emotions will start to come to the surface and when that happens, many people choose something that will make them numb them again such as food, drugs, alcohol, gambling, sex, stealing or hundreds of other "Distraction-Type Pain Killers"

Here's what's at stake – If you ignore the unresolved emotions you never get to be happy at the highest levels. When you have anger and resentment lingering in you, you are never really fully happy. When we refuse to resolve our emotions we carry them with us and each time they resurface, we return to the numbing device of our choice. NDT helps stop this cycle.
