Program Notes

by Rod Mortimer & Ric Jones

Robert Sheldon (1954 -): A Most Wonderful Christmas (2008)

Robert Sheldon is one of the most performed composers of wind band music today. Mr. Sheldon is currently Director of Concert Band Publications for Alfred Music. A Most Wonderful Christmas is a medley of familiar Christmas songs, compiled and orchestrated by Robert Sheldon.

Jonathan Allentoff (1991 -): Chanukah Festival Medley (2018)

The Chanukah Festival Medley which we hear today was compiled and orchestrated by our resident composer/arranger Jon Allentoff. It includes traditional Chanukah favorites such as the playful children's song "I Have a Little Dreidle"; "Mi Y'malel (Who can Retell?)", with its klezmer flavor and traditional Hebraic mode; "Chanukah, Chanukah, Chanukah", a folk song with Israeli origins; and "O Chanukah", based on a festive Yiddish song. The majestic "Maoz Tsur (Rock of Ages)" is used as a frame to open and close the medley.

Mykola Leontovich (1877-1921): Carol of the Bells (1914), arr. Peter Wilhousky (1936)

Carol of the Bells is a popular Christmas carol, with music by Ukrainian composer Mykola Leontovych and lyrics by Peter J. Wilhousky. The song is based on the Ukrainian folk chant "Shchedryk".

Daniel Baldwin (1978 -): Look To This Day (2011)

Based on the text of an ancient Sanskrit proverb of Serenity attributed to Kalidasa. It is a reminder to live in the moment, remember life is precious, and to be experienced in the moment.

Look to this day for it is life, and in its brief course lie all the realities and truths of existence, the joy of growth, the glory of action.

Today, well lived, makes yesterday a memory of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Therefore, look well to this day.

Kim André Arnesen (1980 -): His Light in Us (2016)

Kim André Arnesen is one of the most frequently performed classical composers from Norway today. His Light in Us is a work that is a thanksgiving about the gift of a tiny child, and that only the nature of love is changeless. It sings about our renewed hope and how light now shines. And the key word is "renewed", because Christmas is a new and refreshing gift, our hearts are renewed, and our hope is renewed, so it's reflecting the glory of what goes on in our spirits at Christmas.

Huron Carol (traditional). Arr. Dan Forrest (1978 -)

The Huron Carol is based on a text by Jean de Breboeuf, a 17th Century Jesuit missionary to the Huron, an Algonquian tribe living in Canada. In accordance with Jesuit practice, the text tells the story of the Nativity using references familiar to its native audience. Fr. Breboeuf set the text to the melody of a traditional French carol, "Une Jeune Pucelle." The arrangement for chorus and orchestra which we hear today was made by Daniel Forrest, whose Requiem for the Living we recently performed. In this arrangement the composer evokes the setting of the original by using open pentatonic harmonies and percussion instruments suggesting church bells and Indian drums.

Jesous Ahatonia. Gloria.

*'Twas in the moon of wintertime, when all the birds had fled,
That mighty Gitchi Manitou sent angel choirs instead;
Before their light the stars grew dim,
And wandering hunters heard the hymn:
"Jesus your King is born, in excelsis Gloria."*

*Within a lodge of broken bark the tender babe was found,
A ragged robe of rabbit skin enwrapped His beauty round;
But as the hunter braves drew nigh,
The angel song rang loud and high,
"Jesus your King is born, in excelsis Gloria."*

*The earliest moon of wintertime is not so round and fair
As was the ring of glory on the helpless infant there.
The chiefs from far before Him knelt,
With gifts of fur and beaver pelt,
"Jesus your King is born, in excelsis Gloria."*

*O children of the forest free, O sons of Manitou,
The Holy Child of earth and heaven is born today for you.
Come kneel before the radiant boy
Who brings you beauty, peace and joy.
"Jesus your King is born, in excelsis Gloria."*

Jesous Ahatonia. Gloria.

Daniel Baldwin (1978 -): Letchworth Suite (2018)

Daniel Baldwin has been the Composer-in-Residence for the Genesee Chorale for 2018. This large work based on Letchworth State Park focuses on four main themes; the Genesee River, The Vale of the Three Falls, The Seneca, and the Glen Iris. This is the first known musical piece honoring Letchworth. The text is taken from "Voices of the Glen," an 1876 collection of poems gathered by William Pryor Letchworth. Mr. Letchworth had a tradition of each year inviting his literary club friends to celebrate Independence Day at the Glen Iris. These visitors often wrote poems inspired by the beauty of the area – what became “Voices of the Glen.”

I. Genesee River; Roaring through the Gorge

Based on the poem "THE GENESEE" by Mrs H.E.G. Arey

*In the clasp of corn-clad meadows
'neath the hum of bird and bee; '
midst the forest's visioned shadows, rolls the gentle Genesee.*

*Folding many a home in beauty;
dealing out unceasingly monarch's power, or helot's duty, flows the lovely Genesee.*

*Hemmed by cliffs and lashed to surges,
where the crags hang fearfully,
down through blackened chasms and gorges,
writhes the tortured Genesee.*

*Holding there the mountains mirrored,
tossed in mists or wreathed in spray,
with the rainbow on it's forehead
rolls the rock-bound Genesee.*

II. Sehghunda; Vale of the Three Falls

Based on the poems "ONE DAY" by Jerome B. Stillson and "GLEN IRIS" by Josiah Letchworth

Blue skies that brood above a river-clefted vale, where love, incarnate in the mists, reigns ever, and ne'er dies!

*Glen of the Rainbow! valley of the blest, benedicite, vale!
may sweet calm and rest enfold thee like an endless twilight - stream and shore - ushh all thy dells in sleep,
thy fields and woods, and keep thee lulled
within her soft embrace for evermore!*

*Here hath God himself engraven words of peace that still our fears;
and within this circling haven breathes "the music of the spheres."*

O thou vale of chastened beauty, safe retreat from worldly care where so oft inspired to duty, I have breathed thy fragrant air...

III. Seneca; Voices of the Past

Based on the poems "VOICES FROM THE PAST" by W.H.C. Hosmer and "THE RIVER'S VOICE" by Mrs. Emily Howland Leeming

*Valley of the O nodowa'ga!
Since thy ancient people reigned,
lords of lowland and of highland
many years have waxed and waned.
Still the crystal springs of Potter feed
the river at its source,
but no more the Tribes are gladdened
to behold it run its course.*

*Lingering yet are Indian traces where of old their orchards grew;
but their cabin-homes have vanished,
hushed the hunter's shrill halloo.*

*Bones of sachem, seer, and warrior,
by the plow-share are upturned,
and the white man rears his temple
where their altar-fires burned.*

*Legends of the past are clinging to the land they loved so well;
grove and glade are full of phantoms,
haunting each sequestered dell.*

*Still the voice of Mona-sha-sha
the unwitting tourist hears where the Falls of Portage thunder
and its roof Glen Iris rears;
and the shades of Deh-ge-wa-nus and Hi-ok-a-too,
the Brave visit oft Gardow,
unfettered by the bondage of the grave.*

*So flows her story, hushed and still;
I hear the river crooning
to its peaceful shore of past and future;
indistinct, yet clear in strength that has been,
shall be forevermore.*

IV. Glen Iris; Goddess of Rainbows

Based on the poem "GLEN IRIS" by Mrs. E.M. Olmsted

*Sweet sylvan solitude! thy genius came!
Long ages waited for the tryst to be;
and in a poet's dream of ecstasy,
all smiles and tears,
he spake thy fond new name.*

*Glen Iris! and the voice of mountain rills with low,
melodious thunder woke the hills in answering echo;
and the swaying vines made leafy canopies,
fair forest shrines for silent worship.*

*Fairy troops of ferns bent in mute obeisance as they passed where velvet mosses had their mantles cast, leading the way to nectar-brimming urns;
and over all the softly veiling mist, now rose,
now changing pearl and lovely amethyst!*

Do You Hear What I Hear? Regney/Baker (1962)

Do You Hear What I Hear? is a song written in October 1962, with lyrics by Noël Regney and music by Gloria Shayne Baker. It was written as a plea for peace during the Cuban Missile Crisis.

George Frideric Handel (1685-1759): "Hallelujah" Chorus from Messiah (1741)

Composed in 1741, Messiah, Handel's most famous oratorio, was based on a text compiled by Charles Jennens from the King James Version of the Bible dealing with the birth, life, death, and resurrection of Christ. Messiah has been firmly associated with the Christmas season ever since its premiere during that season in Dublin in 1742 at a benefit concert for a foundlings' hospital. The "Hallelujah" chorus, from the final segment of the oratorio, has become an unofficial "national anthem of Heaven" ever since portly King George I rose to his feet during a London performance.
