

Your NAWE Companion

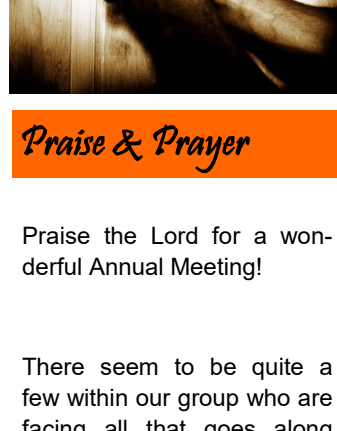

'N AWE

A Way Out

Charles Powers, Erlanger, KY

August—September 2019

I love being outdoors and especially working in my garden, although admittedly this year the weather has been less than cooperative. I believe that God uses nature to speak to us, if we will just slow down enough to pay attention. In our modern high-tech and hyper-speed world, where most people can't take their eyes off a screen, we often miss the most subtle examples of God's love for us. If you're like me, sometimes you have to observe something a hundred times before you have one of those "aha" moments.

Praise & Prayer

Praise the Lord for a wonderful Annual Meeting!

There seem to be quite a few within our group who are facing all that goes along with the declining health of aging parents. Please pray for these families.

Pray for Rev. Jim Parham upon the recent death of his wife, Patti.

Wednesdays have been designated by the NAWE as days of prayer and fasting. Pray especially on those days for:

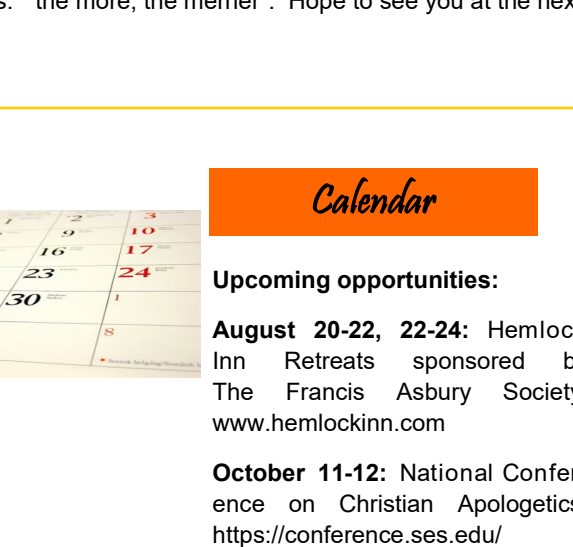

- our nation
- its leaders
- revival in the Church

NAWE Annual Meeting

Hope You Didn't Miss It

John McCulley, Roswell, GA

The Annual Meeting of the NAWE was held recently at the Danielsville Evangelical Church near Commerce, GA. What a great time! Dr. Bill Ury was the conference speaker and during two evenings and an afternoon, delivered three encouraging and thought-provoking messages. His afternoon seminar about Wesleyan Responses to Social Justice Issues helped me personally to see that our emphasis on the saving power of the Gospel can be balanced and compatible with a desire for the betterment of all branches of society.

Another great event at the meeting was the opportunity to witness the ordination of our newest Elder, Rev. Jim Leonard. Son of former missionaries, and a veteran of many years of lay ministry, these newly awarded credentials will allow Jim to pursue a ministry to incarcerated men in the Augusta, GA area. Jim and his wife, Olivia, are welcomed to the NAWE family.

As usual, the Danielsville congregation exceeded expectations with their friendliness and hospitality. It was good to see so many old acquaintances again. There was an abundance of food for breakfast and snacks; it was impossible for us to eat it all.

Also notable was their generosity. The second evening, a special missions offering was taken to assist in the ministry of Jonathan and Lisa Mayo with WGM in Africa. Besides a contribution from the NAWE general fund, more than $800 was taken in the impromptu offering. We will attempt to publicize needs like this so all our churches and members who wish may contribute at future meetings.

One thing I've noticed at these meetings: "the more, the merrier". Hope to see you at the next one!

Visit us at
www.theNAWE.com

Follow us on Facebook

Calendar

Upcoming opportunities:

August 20-22, 22-24: Hemlock Inn Retreats sponsored by The Francis Asbury Society; www.hemlockinn.com

October 11-12: National Conference on Christian Apologetics; <https://conference.ses.edu/>