I went aboard the Annapolis out of boot camp, 1966 -1967. Quite a change of life for a young Nebraska boy. In August 1969, while aboard the USS Waldron, DD699, we were just leaving Norfolk for a 6 month cruise in the Med. Just got out to sea and here comes the Annapolis into port. I keep kicking myself yet today for not having my camera.

I think it was in Athens, Greece on our way back to the States when on a liberty boat, I took a photo of a sailor that looked like he was walking a tight rope to get to the boats attached... just luck I guess. Actually, the sailor was on a boom above the boats. It looked like he was going to get the Captain's boat. I just said he was walking the rope because the boom looked that thin from the liberty boat. It's one of the things in the picture that can be missed if not looking for details. I was sorry to hear they scraped Anna Boat. She would have made a great training ship if anchored at the Academy in Annapolis Md. I got the bumner of a job to go to Philadelphia Navy yard to decommission her. We had duty during decommissioning, taking shifts as guards walking around with a .45 on our hip to secure the ship till all the electronics were removed. The one thing that was a bumner was that I was an electronic tech before the Navy working at a Gov defense plant near Baltimore, Md and they put me in Damage Control. lol While driving truck through the area for years after I got out of the Navy, I'd see Anna sitting in the yard then one year I noticed she was gone. I didn't know what they did with the ship till just a few years ago.

Served aboard the Anna from Nov 67 to Aug 69. It's my absolute favorite command. I was fortunate enough to play for the ship football team during the Yokosuka dry dock. Worked Crypto Repair driving DS1 Hazzard crazy with my antics. I continue a fabulous friendship with Larry Moulin and Curt Loschy. If anyone knows the whereabouts of ETN2 Rick Martin who also worked Crypto Repair I'd love to connect with him.

I am proud to have served aboard Anna; she was my first assignment following boot camp in June of '69. I was mentored and 'taken under the wing' of Roger VanSlooten 'Sloopy' IC2 (deceased) being fresh to the sea. Made some great ports, particularly fond memories of calling back home courtesy of Ray Ehrlich and his ham radio during those long Mediterranean nights. Best friends Gary Robb-SA and Jim Campbell-EM2. Brought Anna back to Norfolk for decommissioning then on to Philly for mothballing. Departed December 20, 1969 and reassigned to Amphion (AR-13) out of Norfolk. Worst time aboard Anna was off-loading ammunition in Rota Spain prior to decommissioning cruise back to the states. Wouldn't trade ANY of my time aboard Anna for anything; it was there that I grew up, matured and learned to take responsibility for my actions. Fond memories - see all once again in RI, 2019!!

I was one of the many ETs on board but was sort of segregated as I was in and later in charge of the AN/SSC-2 satellite terminal. Most of the time, we only had 3 watch-standers and worked a 6 hour on and 12 off schedule. I am curious if any of the people I knew were at the reunion. Thanks, Gene

The Annapolis was my first ship and one of my most enjoyable assignments. I was part of the Syncom shop in CE division when the AN/SSC-2's status was changed from 'experimental' to 'operational. Due to my experience, I was assigned TAD to the USS Arlington, AGMR-2 to help get the second AN/SSC-2 Satcom terminal into operation for the Apollo-8 recovery south of Hawaii in December 1968. I was also promoted to ET-1 while assigned to the Annapolis.

I was on the Annapolis from 1966 to 1967. I was assigned to the second Div. deck force and made BM3 on board. I was boatswains mate of the watch, a boat coxswain and assigned ready life boat watch. I have many memories some bad but a lot good. Most notable was, I was the coxswain on a rescue of an oriental sailor who's ship sank in that typhoon we went through. I got out in 1971 and went back in 15 years later to the Navy Seabees as a steel worker 1st class for eleven more years.

I served aboard the Annapolis from 67 to 68 and I spent most of my time as a Master At Arms during my one year on board. We had some great times on the Annie and I made some great friends and I still keep in touch with one of them, Ron Fotland ex SK2. I did make it to one reunion in Corpus Christi, Texas a few years ago with Ron and his wife was fun. I wish I could find some others who were aboard during that time, like Mel Coffman SH2 and Joe Barber PO2 who was on the MAA force with me.
