

Finding the caliber that is best for you can propose a challenge, but it's best to think of what you will be doing with it. Hunting big or dangerous game, hunting medium size North American game or just simply shooting paper on the range. Choose something that will be good fit for your intended use.