

Bill Dorn was elected president of the Pittsburgh Rose Society in February 2019. He is a certified rosarian and an apprentice judge with the American Rose Society. He also serves as the assistant director of the Penn-Jersey District of the American Rose Society.

Since joining the Pittsburgh Rose Society in June of 2014, Bill continues to enjoy sharing his love of roses with fellow members in the Society. He has offered several educational presentations to members of the Society and to various garden clubs in the greater Pittsburgh area. He currently maintains rose gardens totaling 100 roses at his home in the Windgap section of the City of Pittsburgh.

In his own words, "Learning from our mistakes is the key to continued growth in anything we do." This is certainly true when growing and maintaining the world's best-known flower – the rose. Growing roses is educational and stress reducing, but above all, it is fun!
