

THE KENTUCKY KEYSTONE

A PUBLICATION OF THE GRAND CHAPTER OF KENTUCKY
ROYAL ARCH MASONS

VOLUME 30

NUMBER 9

JUNE 2019

Message from the Grand High Priest

Greetings Companions.

I hope all is well as we get into summer. Visitations to our constituent Chapters are going well with several left to see. If I have not been to see you yet, I will be there soon. Please attend your Chapter this month since it is time for elections. I am asking you to participate in all your York Rite bodies (this does include Blue Lodge) and take a leadership position if called upon to do so. Our bodies can flourish only if good men are at the helm. I also ask that the bodies don't put one man in charge of all the bodies in your area. I know that it has been done occasionally, but that puts too much responsibility on one individual's shoulders.

Next month will have our annual Royal Arch Research Assistance banquet in Danville. It will be held at The Showroom on the U.S. 127/150 bypass. This is located at the intersection of the bypass and Lebanon Road (Ky 34). The doors will open at 4:30 with the meal at 5:00 PM. This is being done so that Companions travelling long distances will not be too late getting home. The menu has not been set as of yet, but you can be assured that chef Tom Brown will again provide an exquisite dining experience.

The elected officers of the Grand Chapter continue to meet monthly to discuss what is going on in our chapters. I hope that we will be better enabled to serve the craft by keeping the lines of communication open between the officers as well as with the Companions. My number is in the directory if I can be of any assistance to you. Please do not hesitate to call if my help is needed.

Fraternally Thine, Ron

From the Editor

Greetings, Companions!

The busy pace of inspections and associated degree work is behind us for another year. Please make every effort to continue to include your York Rite activities in your summer schedule. This month is elections and you are needed – to be there so the elections can take place in some cases, but more importantly, to take office. Let me encourage you to do that, and to put in the effort to learn the office.

We are so much more impressive to new members when we walk in the door, sit in our office and go through the ritual without a book in our hand. And I see that on a personal basis; when I do degree work with a book, (not something I like to do, but if you show up and want to do a part that I know, I will let you), I get a pat on the back and a half-hearted “good job”. When I do the work from memory, I get a “that was good!”, directed at the work rather than the effort. And I see that when others do it as well. We impress our candidates, and our existing members when we demonstrate our love for the fraternity by taking the time and learning the ritual.

Those of you who are seeking office at the Grand sessions in September, please send me a copy of your announcement letter, along with anything else you'd like to let the companions of the Kentucky York Rite know about you and your plans as a Grand Officer. A good picture would be nice! I plan to highlight the candidates in an upcoming issue.

I'm also working on a couple of updates to KYRIS, so for the Secretaries, take note. You should see some changes in the next few days. One major change, if I can get a couple of bugs worked out, is to include a report for the Annual Election Returns. If your membership data is up-to-date, you'll be able to print out, and hopefully electronically submit, that report. There's more about that a little farther along in the newsletter this month. I hope the changes make your job easier.

Fraternally,

Randall Partin, Editor

Royal Arch Research Assistance

“your research arm for better hearing health”

What is R.A.R.A.

Royal Arch Research Assistance (R.A.R.A.) is a non-profit 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt foundation incorporated in the State of Kentucky in 1974.

It is governed by a Board of Directors who are all Royal Arch Masons. The General Grand High Priest is the President. The Board Secretary receives all contributions, keeps records, and sends out receipts, certificates and awards.

Each works with the R.A.R.A. Representatives and the Ambassadors for each state, together with the Regional Deputy General Grand High Priest to coordinate Chapter. In this way, the Grand Chapters in their Regions will be encouraged to participate publicly to demonstrate our community involvement.

Through greater visibility to the public, the hope is to generate greater commitment to this endeavor and promote Royal Arch Masonry.

There are three Regional Coordinators to provide public relations and fundraising assistance under the direction of the Executive Director.

What is Central Auditory Processing Disorder?

Central Auditory Processing Disorder (CAPD) is a hearing deficiency that does not allow those afflicted to distinguish sounds that can be heard by those with regular hearing.

When a sound occurs, the sound is taken into the inner ear and delivered to the brain and the brain translates what is being heard. When a person is deaf, the part of the ear that delivers the sound to the brain does not function.

When a person has central auditory processing Disorder (CAPD), the part of the brain that translates what the ear delivers does not function properly. The person with CAPD can hear sounds, but how the brain translates the sound is incorrect, and the end result is a garbled message.

People who have CAPD have normal hearing, so they are not considered hearing impaired. The neurological processing of the sounds they hear is impaired, which is why it's called a processing disorder. Research is developing paths of opportunity to correct this problem, and your Royal Arch Research Assistance (R.A.R.A.) contributions support these efforts.

What is our Commitment? The R.A.R.A. Board of Directors is committed to identifying and supporting those scientists who are searching for treatment regimens and eventually a cure for CAPD.

What can you do? You can join our cause through your support of R.A.R.A. activities. Why? Simply and directly—Because as Royal Arch Masons, WE CARE!

R.A.R.A. Recognition Awards

Certificates are designed for contributions of $25, $50, and $100.

- A $300 dollar contribution receives a keystone lapel pin.
- A $500 dollar contribution within the triennial years receives a lapel pin with a diamond in the center.
- Additional contributions of $500 add an additional diamond to the lapel pin.
- Certificates and pins are awarded to both individual donors and donating organizations.

Grand Commander's Message

Companions and Sir Knights,

Do you take an active part in your Commandery?

Do you step up when there is something to do?

Do you attend on a regular basis?

Can you be counted when things need to be done, even if that something is just sweeping the floor?

Unfortunately, far too many of us would have to answer no to most, if not all, of these questions. And I truly can't figure out why. Freemasonry, and especially Templar Freemasonry is about making yourselves and those around you better. But, how can you do that if you aren't active. Each of us need to find our place. That one or two things that we can do.

Can your Commandery even open each month without assistance from visitors? Most cannot. But maybe they can if you just show up to sit on the sides.

Can your Commandery confer the Orders without assistance? Again, most cannot. But if you took even a small part, things would be easier. And do those Commanderies who can confer the Orders rely on one or two Sir Knights to do most if not all of the work? Sadly, the answer is probably yes. But what if you decided to take one of their parts to give them a break. Wouldn't that help?

Sir Knights, I don't expect you to do it all. I'm not asking that you do everything. But I am asking you to do something. If each of us will do at least something, much more would get done.

Can't come to every meeting. Learn one of the parts and let it be known that when work is needed, you will be there to do that part.

Can't memorize? Well at least commit to showing up so that your Commandery can open without visitors.

Help set things up for the conferrals. There is always something that each of us can do.

Sir Knights find your spot. Find the one thing that you can do to help and do it. Working together we can make our Commanderies better. By taking even a small part, we can add to the performance of all.

Sir Knights, there is a place and a job for you. Find it.

Courteously,

Bill

The 'True' York Rite, And Our Relationship To It

The following is taken from Dr. Albert Mackey's Encyclopedia of Freemasonry published in 1884

(The York Rite) is the oldest of all the Rites, and consisted originally of only three degrees: 1. Entered Apprentice; 2. Fellow Craft; 3. Master Mason. The last included a part which contained the True Word, but which was disrupted from it by Dunckerley in the latter part of the century, and has never been restored. The Rite in its purity does not now exist anywhere. The nearest approach to it is the St. John's Masonry of Scotland, but the Master's degree of the Grand Lodge of Scotland is not the Master's degree of the York Rite. When Dunckerley dismembered the third degree, he destroyed the identity of the Rite. In 1813, it was apparently recognized by the United Grand Lodge of England, when it defined pure Ancient Masonry to consist of three degrees, and no more: viz, those of the Entered Apprentice, the Fellow Craft, and the Master Mason, including the Supreme Order of the Holy Royal Arch." Had the Grand Lodge abolished the Royal Arch degree, which was then practiced as an independent Order in England, and reincorporated its secrets in the degree of Master Mason, the York Rite would have been revived. But by recognizing the Royal Arch as a separate degree, and retaining the Master's degree in its mutilated form, they repudiated the Rite. In the United States it has been the almost universal usage to call the Masonry there practiced the York Rite. But it has no better claim to this designation than it has to be called the Ancient and Accepted Rite, or the French Rite, or the Rite of Schröder. It has no pretensions to the York Rite. Of its first three degrees, the Master's is the mutilated one which took the Masonry Of England out Of the York Rite, and it has added to these three degrees six others which were never known to the Ancient York Rite, or that which was practiced in England, in the earlier half of the eighteenth century, by the legitimate Grand Lodge. In all my writings for years past, I have ventured to distinguish the Masonry practiced in the United States, consisting of nine degrees, as the "American Rite," a title to which it is clearly and justly entitled, as the system is peculiar to America, and is practiced in no other country.

Bro. Hughan, speaking of the York Rite, (Unpubl. Rec., p. 148,) says there is no such Rite, and what it was no one now knows." I think that this declaration is too sweeping in its language. He is correct in saying that there is at this time no such Rite. I have just described its decadence; but he is wrong in asserting that we are now ignorant of its character. In using the title, there is no reference to the Grand Lodge of all England, which met for some years during the last century, but rather to the York legend, and to the hypothesis that York was the cradle Of English Masonry. The York Rite was that Rite which was most probably organized or modified at the revival in 1717, and practiced for fifty years by the Constitutional Grand Lodge of England. It consisted of only the three symbolic degrees, the last one, or the Master's, containing within itself the secrets now transferred to the Royal Arch. This Rite was carried in its purity to France in 1725, and into America at a later period. About the middle of the eighteenth century the continental Masons, and about the end of it the Americans, began to superimpose upon it those high degrees which, with the necessary mutilation of the third, have given rise to numerous other Rites. But the Ancient York Rite, though no longer cultivated, must remain on the records of history as the oldest and purest of all the Rites.

Did you know? According to Dr. Albert Mackey, ... "the only Orders of Knighthood that have had any historical relation to Masonry, except the Order of Charles XII in Sweden, are the three great religious and military Orders which were established in the Middle Ages. These are the Knights Templars, the Knights Hospitallers or Knights of Malta, and the Teutonic Knights. Of these three, the Masons can really claim a connection only with the Templars. They alone had a secret initiation (italics added), and with them there is at least traditional evidence of a fusion. The Knights of Malta and the Teutonic Knights have always held themselves aloof from the Masonic Order. They never had a secret form of initiation; their reception was open and public; and the former Order, indeed, during the latter part of the eighteenth century, became the willing instruments of the Church in the persecution of the Masons who were at that time in the island of Malta. There is, indeed, a Masonic degree called Knight of Malta, but the existing remnant of the historical order has always repudiated it."

The result, or Page 1, anyway, as it now appears. The Grand Secretary/Recorder still has to approve. I'm currently having a couple of issues but hope to have this finished soon. I will have Jim look it over and then release it with his approval. I believe the deadline for submission of the election returns is the end of July, so we have a few days yet. I'll try to isolate the actual users and send out an email when we're ready to release the updates.

Any questions, comments, or concerns, you can contact me at the email address on the last page of the newsletter, or my cell number is in the Directory. Spam calls are a curse on mankind, so if your caller ID shows 'Kentucky', or 'United States', etc., you won't get an answer. Please leave a message and I'll call you back.
