LET'S WATCH JESUS

I really like this season in the church year, right after Christmas. We've made a big deal out of the birth of Jesus, and then we put away the decorations, like it's all over, but we feel a little ingenuous about that because we know it had better not be all over. And it isn't. Epiphany is when we say blatantly to ourselves and anyone who will listen that Christmas is just the beginning. The baby Jesus grows up and walks out into the world with a message and a presence we better not miss. He has come to change the world and all our lives, so let's pay attention.

Epiphany is the announcement, the ringing of the bell, the shining out into the world the light that reveals what is true, what has begun, and what is now going to happen. So let's watch Jesus and see what is going to happen.

It begins as we see him as a 12 year old in the synagogue explaining truths to the rabbis and saying he needs to be about his father's business. Wow, that's a clue! Then he gets baptized by John the Baptist who says he, Jesus, is the one we really need to follow. Then a voice from heaven tells us this young man, just baptized, is His Son, and one with whom He is very pleased. Quite an endorsement! Then Jesus attends a wedding and does his first miracle. Now people are paying attention. Next Jesus goes back to the synagogue in Nazareth on the Sabbath, as he has done all his life, reads a passage from Isaiah chapter 61 which says: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor," and then he puts the scroll down and says to all in the synagogue, "Today this scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing." Read that again. Huge statement!

The adventure has begun. How did people then respond to Jesus' claim? Come this Sunday (February 3) and see. Some were super excited the 'promised one' had come. Others hated it, for this would really mess up their plans. How about you? Excited? Or wish he would go away?

Come and let's work on this. This is big. This is exciting.

CHURCH MAINTENANCE

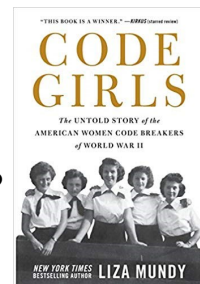

Wednesday, February 6—9:00 a.m.—Church Maintenance

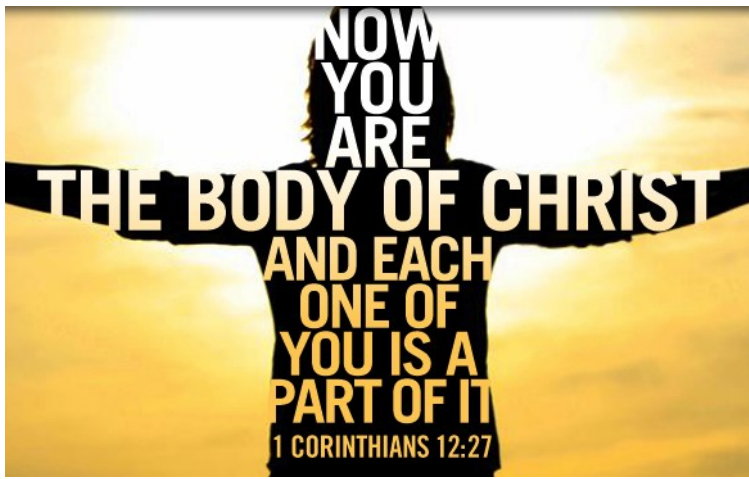

Thanks to everyone who undecorated the church last month. We know that is a big job and we appreciate all the help around the Advent season. We will often have clean up or repairs around the building that we need help with. If you're free on the first Wednesday of the month, we invite your participation in minor upkeep of the church buildings and grounds. We get a few people every month and we're always hoping to see new and old friends coming for this!

- Susan Vernon
- Jude Gustafson
- Dan Skjonsberg
- Mark Bergin
- Dave Hill

Meeting called to order by President, Stan Skjeie, at 6:30 p.m.

Devotions & Communion – Embracing grace. A letter from Seattle Lutheran High School in West Seattle is a reminder of groups/organizations that we see as partners. God is alive in many places, organizations, and people. Rejoice and lift each other up.

Adopt Minutes: Bob Atkinson moved to accept [November's] meeting minutes. Jude Gustafson seconded. The meeting minutes from November were accepted.

From the Presidents Corner: Stan shared that this is his last report. He asked that all council members get into pairs and brainstorm/reflect on last year. Mentioned were the blood bank, Quilters, WELCA's Love Project, Peace Shelter, Hospitality House, William's excellence in music and the meditative worship service, Reaching Out With Hope, the bee hives, remodeling the Education Building, planning and implementing the emergency preparedness/drills, affordable housing (who are we called to be; who are we), facility updates including replacing the boiler, exterior lights, bathrooms, the parking lot repairs, the sadness of losing Justin Cormier, and new people attending on a regular basis.

The Youth Group, growth, ongoing Uganda ministry, Christmas Pageant, community meal, Thanksgiving meal, Halloween & Easter egg hunt, Bible studies, the Ladies Book Club, Giving Tree, our unsung ministries such as our counters and our landscaper (German), and Don Rova who does our food bank runs, church maintenance parties, the "adopt a garden" program, the memory garden project, the refurbished bell, and our worship coordinators were all discussed as valuable ministries here at the church which have seen a lot of activity in the last year.

Affordable Housing – Another curve ball was thrown into the planning on this. We had thought that Compass Housing had committed to us. However, Compass used the $3,000 to do a feasibility study that was less complete than the $15,000 Compass agreed to

(at least to our understanding). Jude Gustafson made a motion to create a special committee to coordinate the development of ministry on the vacant property was made. Discussion around Compass and curiosity of what this means took place. Will it give us what we need for the congregation in terms of moving forward. Dave Hill asked, "Has this been talked about within the larger community?" Yes, the City of SeaTac and other legal issues or expenses have been discussed. John Kelly suggested that creating a special committee might slow down the timeline. What documents have been prepared to outline this project for the congregation to see and understand. The motion was not seconded and did not pass.

Pastor's Ministries: Pastor Conrad said that Sam Sseba is officially interning with us. There is a support committee with John Kelly leading that group as part of the seminary requirements. Sam needs a home congregation. Dan Skjonsberg, Stan Skjeie, and John Kelly will help Sam and be responsible to check in with him. Sam has just shy of 18 months left in seminary. He will be returning to seminary in late January.

Also of note is that Charity Tollefson is working with a damaged voice (nodules) so she is needing to limit how often she can sing.

Continuing Ministries: Mel reported that the Love Project is the Giving Tree. The Quilters are still quilting with the newly-updated quilting rooms. WELCA will not have a board meeting in December.

John reported that as of November we are somewhat recovered in our budget – we may still be shy of last year's total yet the budget committee put together a budget that corresponds to giving of this year.

He also reported on the Senate bill regarding paid family and medical leave. The premiums will start being collected on January 1, 2019. The requirement is to send a bundle of cash on April 1 so that the state has a "kitty" to use for 2020. We will need to sit down with all church employees to discuss this bill.

Conrad's housing allowance approval was discussed for 2019. The motion was made by Dan Skjonsberg to approve the amount; seconded by Jude Gustafson. It passed by unanimous vote.

Church Security: John Kelly reported that the research has been done, but now discussion with vendors and negotiation will take place in January 2019. No answer on monitoring fees at this point.

Old Business: John Gilbert is working on the church Constitution. It was not ready to vote on at this time; maybe in January.

New Business: Thanks was offered to Stan Skjeie for his hard work and leadership. The gavel was passed on to Dave Hill, our 2019 incoming Council President, at the end of the meeting.

Meeting was adjourned at 8:21 p.m.

HOSPITALITY HOUSE

THE SPRING FLING DINNER/AUCTION

Hospitality House is celebrating 19 years of serving women who are homeless in South King County. Attend the House's biggest fundraiser of the year—Saturday, March 16, at St. Francis of Assisi Church Unity Hall, 15226 21st Ave SW, Burien. Doors open at 6:15 p.m.

The Spring Fling raises money for the shelter's financial needs. The program includes—again, scrumptious buffet dinner prepared and served by the Puget Sound Skills Center, stories shared by graduates and staff, live and silent auction items, raffle, dessert dash, and more.

New this year—professional software will streamline the checking in and checking out process. Also, a professional auctioneer will conduct the auction. Tickets for the Spring Fling are $50 per person. Online tickets can be purchased at www.hospitalityhousesouthking.org or contact Barbara Atkinson. Let's continue the good PoP attendance at this event—one of the many ways we support Hospitality House. Coordinator Eileen Severns

The Nurse's Corner

Time to check up your medicine cabinet...take stock and stay safe in the new year by:

1. checking your expiration dates. Prescription medications have expiration dates on the original container. Your pharmacist is required only to put a "discard by" date on the bottle; this date is usually one year from the date the prescription is filled. The medication may actually be good longer than you think. Certain medications should NEVER be used beyond their discard by dates. Examples of this are insulin, inhalers, and EpiPens. Ask your pharmacist if the medication can be used safely beyond the discard by date. Look at the original packaging for the expiration date. If the date has passed, it's time to get rid of the drug.
2. knowing the dangers of the common painkillers. If your doctor has prescribed powerful opioid medications, follow the orders on dosage and frequency. For chronic pain, try non-drug treatments like physical therapy and exercise. Always store opioids in a locked box to avoid children taking them.

3. being aware of risky herbal supplements that can interact with certain prescription medications and causing dangerous side effects. Bring a list of your medications, herbal, and vitamin supplements to your doctor or pharmacist who can evaluate them for safety.
4. being careful not to overdose on everyday vitamins. Watch daily limits on Vitamins A, B6, C, and D. Check the labels to make sure you are not taking more than the recommended daily dose.
5. cutting back on allergy or sleeping pills. Studies show that those who take long-term allergy and/or sleep medication are more likely to have problems with memory and decision making, and also have a higher risk for dementia. Talk to your doctor about this and any other drug-related subjects.

WELCA—WOMEN OF PRINCE OF PEACE

Meetings with Jesus in the Gospel of John continue in February. We will meet Nicodemus...why did he first come in the night with his questions to Jesus? AND how did his faith grow? What did “born again” mean to him? (John 3:1-10) We all feel like we know all about the Samaritan woman at the well. But do we? What did “living water” mean to her? To us?? (John 4:5-30) Once again, we are back in Cana where we revisit three healings in Jesus’ ministry. How were they the same or different? (John 4:46-54 and 5:1-9) Finally, we look at the time that Jesus fed the 5,000. John seemed to have a different take on this story. This is where we meet Jesus as the “bread of life.”

Born again, living water, bread of life, and healings. How do we connect the dots and color in the lines? (not a riddle!...well...maybe). Once again this month’s study is full of information and application. Sometimes scripture is difficult or hard to understand. However, it is packed with “good stuff” to feed our souls and encourage our walk.

“Come and See!!”

Study opportunities are available at different times during the month. We would so love to have more of you join us for these rich studies. We have three circle times now and you all are welcome!! GRACE will meet the same day as Ladies Book Club on Monday February 11, at 10:00 a.m.. JOY circle will meet on Tuesday evening, February 19, at 6:30 p.m. in the library. FAITH circle will meet on Thursday morning, February 21, at 10:00 a.m., also in the library. Bible Study leaders will meet with Pastor Tollefson on Tuesday, February 12, at 10:30 a.m.

ALL WOMEN ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND...PLEASE JOIN US!

The QUILTERS are hard at work each Thursday. They seemed to have lost their supplier for batting. If any of you have a “bead” on a supplier, please let one of the quilters know. Thanks.

The LOVE PROJECT for February will be soup and canned pasta for the food bank. Watch for specials and let’s fill up that huge bin! It will bless many in our neighborhood.

BIRTHDAYS!

We hope you'll enjoy seeing when a birthday is coming up and saying, "Happy birthday!" to your church family member.

BLOODWORKS BLOOD DRIVE

The next blood drive is on Monday, February 4, starting at 12:30 p.m. and going until 6:30 p.m. The drive takes a break from 2:30-3:30 p.m. for lunch.

Right now, the Puget Sound area is experiencing a real decline in new donors and has for the last four years in a row. BloodWorks has also sent many much needed units of blood to help with recovery efforts from the recent hurricane on the East Coast which depleted the supply here. Donations are at a critically low level. We need your help! Think about donating if you haven't. If you're healthy, you can donate. If you wonder, stop in during the blood drive to talk to the professionals and find out.

Nancy Hadley is still looking for a volunteer (or two) who can help in the cantina portion of the blood drive, putting out snacks, juices, other supplies. See her at church or contact her if you're interested. You would need to arrive roughly noon on blood drive day and stay until 2:30 p.m. when lunch break happens; or arrive at 3:30 p.m. when the afternoon session begins and stay until 6:30 p.m. Nancy also would like some help when she drives around afterward picking up her signs. It's after dark and she's used to having a companion on these drives. Think about it!

CONNECTING THE DOTS

Bishop Kirby Unti
NW Washington Synod / ELCA
From the February 2019 edition of The Spirit

I have thought many times about my trip last year to Standing Rock to stand in solidarity with our Native American brothers and sisters as they fight to protect their lands and waters.

I will never forget how the Standing Rock people spoke of their sacred land. Their relationship with the land is very personal. They understand the earth is their mother. The soil is the womb of the mother. The rivers, lakes and sea are the amniotic fluid. They were there with tribal representatives from around the world not to protect their property, but to protect their mother's womb and the fluids that make for life.

It was so clear to me how they live in relationship with the land and water. Relationship for them is about seeing themselves as a part of the earth - not separate from it or in any way above it. Their relationship with the land is very mutual - each knowing they rely upon the other for their very existence.

Compare that to how we have treated the earth in the Western world. Often, we see the earth as an object that we are free to exploit. The earth is there for our use and benefit. It becomes our property and our possession, and we have monetized every part of it.

It is only in recent times that we come to the realization that we are severely harming the earth and may be pushing her beyond her capacity to heal and renew herself. The rate of decline of the polar ice cap and the increase of carbon dioxide into the air is alarming. We are noticing the damage in the rising of both temperatures and the seas. Our Lutheran Church in Shishmaref, Alaska is faced along with the whole town with having to relocate as the seas continue to rise.

Luther would find this to be very disturbing because he believed so strongly that God is embedded in all the creation - even in the tiniest tree. Just as we are called to love our neighbor, we are called to see the creation as sacred and to be in relationship with it.

When we do not honor our relationships, we cease to live long in the land.

I am starting to connect the dots - I see that we in the West have not only become separated from the land, we have become separated from our neighbors. I believe this separation is one of the leading forces that is dismantling the church as we have known it.

In too many cases we no longer see our neighbors as subjects to be highly regarded. We see our neighbors as objects to be used for our benefit. Exploitation not only will destroy the earth, it will destroy the church and the communities in which we live.

Our Living Local movement invites us to overcome the gap that exists between us and our neighbors. The movement invites us to come to know our neighbors. It is all about entering mutual relationships of caring and serving together.

One of the classic definitions of sin is separation - when we become separated from God and neighbor and are turned in on ourselves.

Might I suggest we all need to get our hands in the dirt and discover once again Mother Earth. Might we care for her, deeply respect and honor her, and learn how to live in relationship with her. And might we come to know our neighbors, care for them, deeply respect and honor them and learn how to live in relationship with them. +BKU

GOSPEL FOR FEBRUARY

February 3—Luke 4:21-30

People in Jesus' hometown are initially pleased when he says that God will free the oppressed. Their pleasure turns to rage when he reminds them that God's prophetic mission typically pushes beyond human boundaries so that mercy and healing are extended to those regarded as outsiders.

February 10—Luke 5:1-11

Jesus' teaching of God's word has begun to draw great crowds. For Simon, James, and John, Jesus' teaching inspires hospitality, then obedience, and then risk. After Jesus' creative power is revealed, fear and amazement lead these three fishermen to leave everything behind to become apostles.

February 17—Luke 6:17-26

After choosing his twelve apostles, Jesus teaches a crowd of followers about the nature and demands of discipleship. He begins his great sermon with surprising statements about who is truly blessed in the eyes of God.

February 24—Luke 6:27-38

Jesus continues to address a crowd of his disciples. He invites his followers to shower radical love, blessing, forgiveness, generosity, and trust even to enemies and outsiders. Living in harmony with God's intent brings the reward of overflowing blessing.
