In my opinion, the top issue facing the Town of Coeymans continues to be striking the proper balance between being a great place to work and also being a great place to live and raise a family. Halloween contest offers spooky good time

By Melanie Lekocevic

RAVENA — Teens offered local kids a spooky good time Saturday at the annual Halloween event at Grace United Methodist Church.

Each year, the church puts on a pumpkin carving contest and haunted house. This year the festivities were held outside in a drive-thru format due to COVID-19 concerns. Last year was the first time the event took place in the church parking lot, also due to the pandemic.

"The kids have been denied so many social opportunities because of COVID and having our haunted drive-thru gives them a chance to gather together safely and have fun because it's outdoors," organizer Kate Robertson said. "We've been throwing a Halloween gathering at Grace United Methodist Church for as long as we've been members and it's nice to be able to keep the tradition alive."

About 30 teens helped plan the event, decorating the parking lot and even a school bus festooned in "spider webs." A skeletal visitor hung out inside a blue truck parked in the lot.

But the first thing visitors saw were vehicles drove slowly through the the carved pumpkins made by local residents. Town Councilman Brandon LeFevre was one of the judges.

The event makes for a good time and unites the community, LeFevre said Saturday.

"This helps bring people together," he said. "Especially in these times, that is what we need — everybody is scared of what is going on in the world and this is a good opportunity to get people out and let them drop their defenses and enjoy themselves.

Elizabeth Robertson, 16, wasn't sure yet what she was going to dress up as, but she knew it would be spooky.

Library forum draws Dem candidates, GOP declines

Capital Region Independent Media

COEYMANS — The RCS Community Library hosted an online candidates' forum Oct. 18 and half of the candidates in the November election took part.

The Meet the Candidates Forum was held on Zoom, with all of the Democratic candidates participating. The entire slate of Republican candidates declined the invitation.

Incumbent Town Supervisor George McHugh, a Republican, said the GOP candidates decided unanimously not to participate in the online forum.

'We decided to take our campaign directly to the people and let them continue to do what they are doing," McHugh said. "[The Democrats] have taken every opportunity to sling mud and we are just not going to participate. It a stake in the election and wasn't my decision, it was a unanimous decision of everyone running on the ticket."

Library Director Judith Wines opened the program and said it was the first time the library hosted a candidates' forum.

"This is an event that a number of organizations in the community have tried to get going and have met with a couple of roadblocks here and there, so the library decided to take it over and give it a running start," Wines

Residents were given the opportunity to submit questions for the candidates and each candidate was allotted an opening and closing statement, and had up to two minutes to respond to individual questions.

The Rev. Antonio Booth moderated the program and said he does not have as a Selkirk resident, will not be able to cast his own ballot in the Coeymans "Any questions that are being brought up are going to be as impartial as possible. I don't have any agenda at all," Booth said.

Cindy Rowzee, Democratic candidate for town supervisor, has been town clerk for the past four years.

"My top priorities for when I am elected is I want to update the town ethics law, I want to mandate financial disclosure forms for elected and appointed officials to help with openness and transparency in government," Rowzee said. "I want to institute a multi-year plan in order to help the town stay on a more even keel, so we don't raise taxes one year and lower them the next." She wants to work with the business association in the village to work on a community branding campaign to bring more businesses and residents to the area, she said.

Town council candidate Yvonne Shackelton said her background in finance and data analytics, as well as her current post on the RCS Board of Education, gives her a unique perspective on local government.

"I understand what it means to have to operate in a local government according to what the taxpayers are asking for and I understand budgets and forecasting for budgets," Shackelton said, adding that one of her key priorities is ensuring the opinions of the people living in the community are heard and valued.

"I really feel that the people of the town do need a stronger voice in what happens in their community," she said.

Town council candidate Sara Pruiksma dubbed herself the artist of the group and said she prioritizes community input into how the town is run. "Part of my vision as a town board member is to preserve and highlight the natural and historic assets of our town," Pruiksma said of her plans should she be elected. "We have tremendous parks here, a lot of beautiful natural resources, including the river, and we have some of the most amazing architecture in the area."

Candidate Kristen Geoghegan is running to fill the 37th District seat on the Albany County Legislature.

"Coeymans deserves a strong advocate who can hit the ground running, and I believe I am a good candidate for that," Geoghegan said of her candidacy.

Candidate Sherle Slingerland is hoping to replace Rowzee in her current post as town clerk as Rowzee seeks the town's

"I have the skills to handle the job and I would love to continue the work Cindy has started in making things more efficient in the town clerk's office," Slingerland said.

Issues discussed at the forum included truck traffic, particularly on Main Street in the village; marijuana dispensaries in the community; the town's relationship with industry; economic development; and renovation of main streets in the town and village.

developing industry and job creation, while at the same time maintaining a healthy and safe environment so that our children and young people choose Coeymans as a place to live and raise families. Quality of life initiatives, recreational opportunities, and a strong school district are equally as important as good jobs and a strong tax base. If re-elected, I will continue to work with the town board, industrial partners, and community members to think outside the box, develop plans and strategies to improve our quality of life in Coeymans, and provide an environment that our children and grandchildren find as attractive to raise their families.

Why do you think you will be a good supervisor? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office?

As Coeymans town supervisor, I am proud of the work that we have accomplished in a relatively short period of time. However, no one person or elected official can make things happen - it takes a team, and this town board has worked together as a team since day one. We have opened the lines of constructive communication between local government and our industrial and commercial residents, working to reduce truck traffic on our Main streets, find alternative routes at the expense of industry, while always striving towards a proper balance for all. The town board has also opened the lines of communication with our elected officials at Albany County, and with our partnerships with people like Sheriff Craig Apple and Albany County Executive Dan McCoy, Coeymans residents are the beneficiaries of a new sheriff substation in the hamlet, and the opening of Lawson Lake Park to our youth and summer recreational programs all at no additional cost to Coeymans taxpayers. This town board had the foresight to update the town's master plan, hire a town grant writer, and secured over $1,200,000 in funding for Riverfront Park improvements and nearly $420,000 in federal funding, which will be used in part towards permanent bathroom facilities in Riverfront and Joralemon Park, as well as expanded broadband coverage in Coeymans Hollow and Alcove. We reduced the town tax rate by 9% in 2021 and held the line on taxes in 2022, while simultaneously investing in new basketball and tennis courts and playground equipment in our town parks. I am also very proud of how we handled the unprecedented COVID-19 response in Coeymans, as we secured testing and vaccines for our residents, and maintained some of the lowest number of cases of the disease in Albany County.

If re-elected as Coeymans town supervisor, I look forward to constructing the permanent bathroom facilities in both town parks and completing the $1.2 million Riverfront Park renovation project. Townwide broadband infrastructure expansion shall remain a top priority of my administration, as will the rerouting of trucks from our Main streets. The ultimate goal of this administration is to help make Coeymans a town where our children and grandchildren find it to be a great place to work, live, and raise a family.

Age: 45

Family: Husband Bryan Rowzee, 48; adult children Katie Rowzee and Emma Rowzee

Place of residence: Village of Ravena

How long you have lived in the county: 10.5 vears

Occupation: Town clerk

Are you an incumbent:

Party line on ballot: Democrat and Working Families

Previous elected offices: Town clerk, 2018-2021

College: B.A. in Family History from Brigham Young University, 1998; A.A.S. in Accounting from Hudson Valley Community College, 2019

What do you think is the top issue facing your community? What would you do to address this issue if elected?

I think the top issue facing our community is the lack of economic development. If we are able to bring in more small businesses many other problems will fix themselves. More businesses will bring less vacant buildings, less crime, a more beautiful 9W corridor and Main Street, more sales tax revenue, more property tax revenue, more residents and an improved quality of life.

In order to do this I will work with the RCS Community Business Association and the Village of Ravena on a branding campaign for our area. I will also work with the people in town to see what types of businesses they want here. If we have specific goals for the types of businesses we want to bring to town we can more easily reach out and attract them here. I will work with the grant writer to see what types of grants are available for economic development and to small businesses. We can hopefully start with a Main Street grant and work from there.

Why do you think you will be a good supervisor? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office?

I will bring several years of experience from different positions in different municipalities to the position of town supervisor. This gives me a unique view of seeing what has worked and what hasn't at different levels of government. I also have the ability to look at things from multiple viewpoints and in trying to understand those views it makes it easier to find compromises. I believe that in a community that is split politically this is a necessary skill. I will represent everyone, not just those that voted for me.

As town clerk I am most proud of the updating and efficiencies that I have brought to that office. As town supervisor I want to do the same for the rest of the town. By updating how things are done the town will be more open and transparent, will work more efficiently and will be better able to plan for the future. Some of the things that I will do is to work towards a paperless office, make sure more information is posted online and available to the public, create a multiyear budgeting plan and involve the town board and the town residents in what is happening at the town level. If we utilize openness, efficiency and planning to help the community, we will all be better for it.

Collins, Geoghegan seek county legislator seat

By Melanie Lekocevic Capital Region Independent Media

Zach-COEYMANS ary Collins and Kristen Geoghegan are going head to head in the race to represent Coeymans in the Albany County Legislature's 37th District.

Incumbent Richard Touchette was appointed to the seat in May after former legislator George Langdon stepped down. Touchette is not running for the seat in the Nov. 2 election.

Collins and Geoghegan were asked to complete a questionnaire about their candidacy. Their responses are presented in alphabetical order.

College: Siena College,

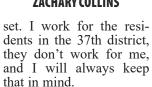

What do you think is the top issue facing your community? What would you do to address this issue if elected?

The biggest issue Coeymans faces from a legislative standpoint is that Coeymans is often overlooked at the county level. As a county legislator I will make sure the Albany politicians know the wants and needs of our community. I will work with all parties who will work with me. I am not here to represent my political party, I am here to represent Coeymans and that is what I will do. As a town board member, I have seen our relationship with Albany County elected officials increase, Dan McCoy and Sheriff Apple have been very helpful to Coeymans and I look forward to furthering that relationship.

Why do you think you will be a good legislator? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office? If you are a newcomer, what are you looking forward to accomplishing if elected?

I am completely invested in my community.
Coeymans has been, and always will be, my home. This is where I grew up, this is where I work, and this is where I am raising my family. I am a lifelong Grange member and an associate member of the Coeymans Hollow firehouse. Before I ran for office, I was also a director for the RCS Business Association. My family business is located here, and I've also started my own small business here. I love my hometown and I want to be involved with seeing Coeymans continue to prosper. Being involved in a small family business has equipped me with the ability to look at issues on both a macro and micro level. This will help me to keep a "Coeymans first" mindset at the legislative level, while also keeping the county's best interest in mind. As an elected official I have learned the importance of having a "quick to listen and slow to speak" mind-

One of the accomplishments that I am most proud of as a town board member is updating our master comprehensive plan, which enabled us to significantly improve our town parks. This isn't just a town board accomplishment; it is a community accomplishment. The process of updating the plan was rewarding to me because I really enjoyed being part of establishing a community vision for our town. Deciding to hire M.J. Designs as our town engineering firm was a homerun and they have helped us tremendously throughout this process. Couple that with hiring a fantastic grant writer and you start to see a recipe for success. We now have a plan for Coeymans and can continue to move forward.

Halloween as a bald man, then and now

Halloween, now there's a word that will get a kid's attention.

It's the chief kid holiday of the year. I don't care about its pagan origins or how it grew from ancient harvest festivals — I know a kid was involved in there somewhere. It's got all the right kid things — spookiness, intimidation, goodies, fantasy and excitement.

What other chance does a kid have to go around the neighborhood in disguise and threaten the adults with the awesome cry of "Trick or Treat." I, never having been one to be easily intimidated, will sometimes answer the question of the day by saying something like — "I think I'll take 'trick.'" It really confuses the little dears. I wouldn't recommend doing this with a group of teenagers, though, since they are devious enough at that age to come up with a trick or two.

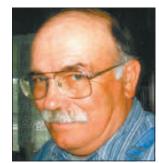

Being a kid at heart, I used to get dressed up to answer the door. I was so successful at this that a couple of times I scared the bejeebers out of the young ones, something I enjoyed more than they did, so I stopped.

When I was one of the getters of goodies instead of one of the dispensers of said goodies, one of my favorite costumes was to get dressed up in my father's clothes with a pillow stuffed into the pants, a latex cap made me look bald and Mom would draw a moustache on me with a piece of burnt cork. I figured that since I now look like that on a daily basis with little or no effort, I could forgo doing anything special to hand out goodies. I can't figure why the little ones still run away when I come to the door.

We used to start planning our costumes around the first of September or so. It was one of the hot topics on the school bus ride to and fro our daily imprisonment.

We checked out our parent's closet for possibilities, we checked out each other's closets for possibilities, we even poked into Grandma's closet when we went to

We never bought costumes, there were really no costumes as such to be had. J.J. Newberry's had a small selection of plastic masks, mostly cute kitties and puppies or one of the latest Disney offerings. In my early manhood and wanting nothing to do with cute and foregoing any temptation, I may have had to look like Sleeping Beauty, either that, or the creative juices had to flow.

After weeks of discussion and planning, we always settled on the same things. I was always a fat, bald, old guy with a moustache and my brother Bud was always dressed as a woman, something that thankfully he outgrew — at least I think he has. Youngest brother Harry was always a bum, outfitted with some of Dad's old clothes and carrying a rubber cigar. Our little sister was usually a princess; typecasting existed even in those long ago days.

We would jump off the school bus and into our waiting disguises, grab our loot sacks — the sack of choice being pillowcases because of their large capacity and the fact that when you're young, hope springs eternal, and hit the road

We literally hit the road
— it was a half mile to the nearest neighbor. With luck and if we really hustled, we could make it to three neighbors and back home before supper. After supper, our parents drove us to see relatives, then home again to compare loot, do a little candy
swapping, then off to bed to dream of Halloweens to come. I always hid my latex bald head under my mattress.

Thought for the week

Potato and apple season

The unseasonably warm weather has continued through much of October and I am not complaining about it at all.

It has been a wet and warm spell for several weeks now and many garden plants continue to grow. I am hoping to get a very good harvest of beets from the seed I planted on July 22, right after I harvested my garlic crop. I planted carrots on Aug. 15, and it does not look like they will reach harvestable size anytime soon, but perhaps if this warm spell continues, I may still get a decent harvest by mid-November.

Right now is the best time to plant garlic for next season. Remember that the bigger the cloves you plant, the bigger the bulbs you will harvest next July. Garlic prefers rich, well-drained, fertile soil, so take the time to till and add organic fertilizer now.

My grandson, Danny, dug some of my potatoes this past weekend and I was dismayed to see that about one-third of them had damage from either mice, voles or chipmunks. We cut off the damaged parts and had "Grand Bob's roasted potatoes" as a side dish for dinner. Slice the potatoes thinly, and layer in an aluminum pan. Sprinkle olive oil on each layer and season with salt, pepper, garlic powder and onion powder. Bake at 400 degrees till they are soft, or broil a single layer of very thin slices for the best potato chips you will ever eat. If you have never eaten freshly dug potatoes, you are missing a treat.

The potatoes that "volunteered" this season from overlooked, unharvested, potatoes I had planted in 2020 produced some really huge "lunkers." Planting, or neglecting to harvest whole potatoes, results in "volunteers" that are often huge in size, but few in number. Planting smaller cut pieces of potatoes usually results in more, but smaller, tubers. A couple of these "volunteers" weighed almost a pound each. This fall I will try to make sure I dig them all, but I try to do that every year and usually fail.

unseasonably GARDENING TIPS

The rest of this week's column comes from Ulster County Cooperative Extension. I rarely include recipes in these columns, but this week is an exception on two counts.

counts. Did you know apples are the official fruit of New York state? Celebrate our official state fruit during Apple Month. Zestar and SnapDragon are two newer varieties you can find in supermarkets and at farm stands and farmers markets. Zestar is zesty with a nice crunch and SnapDragon was developed by Cornell University and is sweeter with a "monster crunch."

Are you interested in taking your family apple picking? Use this link https://www.applesfromny.com/find-apples/pickyour-own-apples/ to find a U-Pick farm near you. Be sure to check with the farm about their hours and COVID restrictions before going to pick apples.

One large apple has 130 calories, 20% of your daily fiber needs, no sodium, fat or added sugars and is easy to take anywhere and eat for a snack. Here are some fun apple facts from the New York Apple Association: Apples are a member of the rose family of plants, along with pears, plums, peaches and cherries. It takes about 36 apples to make one gallon of apple cider. Apples float because 25% of their volume is air. The world's largest apple peel was created by Kathy Wafler Madison on Oct. 16, 1976, in Rochester. It was 172 feet 4 inches long. (She was 16 years old at the time and grew up to be a sales manager for an apple tree nursery.) (Source: Guinness World Records)

Taste test apples with your children. At the farmers' market, farm stand or local supermarket, choose two to three different varieties of apples to try. Once you get home, wash and slice each apple. As a group, try one apple variety at a time and decide which apple is your family favorite.

Recipe: Microwave Applesauce, serves seven. Serving size: half cup

Ingredients: Six apples, peeled, cored and quartered or chopped (about eight cups), 1/4 cup water, 1/4 cup sugar (or less to taste), 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon.

Directions: 1. Place apples and water in a 2 quart microwave safe dish. Cover with microwave-safe cover.

- 2. Cook on high for 10-12 minutes or until the apples are soft enough to mash.
- 3. Use a potato masher or fork to make chunky applesauce.
- 4. Add the sugar a little at a time to reach desired sweetness. Add cinnamon.
- 5. Serve warm or chilled. Refrigerate left-overs within two hours.

'You can't win an argument'

A famous quote of unknown origin says, "A man convinced against his will, is of the same opinion still."

A year ago, I talked to my good friend in Los Angeles and he told me about two of his friends who stopped talking to him; they blocked his phone calls and text messages.

He was upset. He knew them for over 20 years. They stopped talking to him because of too many heated political arguments. He ended the conversation by telling me he was done with their friendship forever.

Recently I've been flipping through the book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People" by Dale Carnegie.

I read the book in college, and for a time, I practiced the principles Positively Speaking therein. I remember them working fabulously for me. Over time I forgot some of the valuable lessons, and eventually, they fell out of practice.

I don't know about you, but since 2015 I've heard of many political arguments ruining long-established friendships. I'm embarrassed to admit that I, too, have become entangled in many of these types of discussions. I've learned

Dale Carnegie says in his book, "You can't win an argument; you can't because if you lose it, you lose it; and if you win it, you lose it."

How is that possible? How can you win an argument and still lose?

Of course, you can win an argument. You can shoot holes in your friend's viewpoint and burn all their logic to the ground. You can show them facts and figures and walk away feeling like you just won a significant debate, thinking proudly to yourself, "I showed them a thing or

What you don't realize is that you lost.

Benjamin Franklin said, "If you argue, rankle and contradict, you may achieve a victory sometimes, but it will be you will never get your opponent's goodwill."

What's more important? Keeping your friendship intact or boosting your ego?

As the old saying goes, "You don't know what you've got until it's gone." Some of us have to learn the hard way: I know I have.

I've lost friends due to arguing, but I never intended it to be that way. I guess that's called "unintended consequences." I think about them a lot and wish I would have just asked them how their family was doing or what was new in their life.

Carnegie goes on to say, in the next chapter, "The surest way to make somebody an enemy is to tell them they're wrong...if you tell some-an empty victory because one they're wrong, do you make them want to agree with you? Never! For you have struck a direct blow at their intelligence, judgment, pride and self-respect... It will never make them want to change their mind."

> It's hard to hear something you disagree with, but is it really worth the fight? Not every disagreement has to become an argument. There are ways of winning someone to your way of thinking, but it doesn't happen by arguing.

> You probably didn't become friends with that person because you agree with their politics, so why would you end it because you disagree with their politics?

> Back to my friend in Los Angeles. The other day one of the two friends who stopped talking to him called and tried to rekindle their friendship. He asked me, "How should I respond?" I replied, "What do you think you should do?"

He said he was going to forgive him and allow the friendship to move forward. He added, "If I don't forgive him and instead hold a grudge, you could interpret that as hatred; I don't want to carry that type of energy inside of me."

Some of us may not be so lucky as to have a good friend call us back after blocking us, but if they do, try and remember Dale Carnegie's advice: "You can't win an argument."

Utility assistance grants of up to $10,000 available can now apply for Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP) grants, a federally funded program that provides regular and emergency assistance to help pay heating and utility bills, and new this year, gas and electric utility arrears assistance grants of up to $10,000 per household.

Both HEAP grants and Regular Arrears Supplement (RAS) program grants are available through local Department of Social Services (DSS) offices. Applications for HEAP are also available at Offices for the Aging and online at mybenefits.

"We are pleased that additional assistance is available for families in our community who may be struggling, especially as we continue to navigate the COVID-19 pandemic," said Anthony Campagiorni, vice president of customer services and gas operations. "We encourage all customers who are eligible to apply."

Families who qualify for HEAP grants and use electricity or natural gas as their primary heating source could receive a HEAP grant of $350 or more toward their utility bill, depending on family income and size guidelines. For example, a family of four with natural gas heating and an annual income of $62,988 would qualify for a $350 grant.

Central Hudson customers who receive HEAP grants or qualify for other assistance programs will receive additional bill credits for up to 12 months on their Central Hudson bill.

As an example: A Central Hudson customer who qualifies for a Tier 1 HEAP grant and uses natural gas for heating is eligible for bill credits of up to $30 per month; while a Tier 1 customer who has electric heating can receive a credit of almost $40 each month. Customers with lower incomes who qualify for higher tiers could be eligible for larger bill credits.

Campagiorni added, "Households receiving a HEAP benefit for non-utility heating fuels such as oil, propane, wood/wood pellets, kerosene, coal or corn are also eligible for a monthly credit on their electric or non-heating gas bill."

Customers who heat with non-utility heating fuels should email their current Notice of Decision letter to Central Hudson at careunit@cenhud. com to be enrolled and receive the bill credit.

Regular HEAP grants for the fall and upcoming winter are available from now through March 15, or until funding is exhausted. Emergency HEAP grants will be available between Jan. 3 and Mar. 15. These benefits are designed to meet an eligible household's immediate energy needs.

The Heating Equipment Repair or Replacement (HERR) program is also available to assist customers who have primary heating equipment that is either inoperable or unsafe. HERR grants are currently available and will remain so through Sept. 30, 2022.

NEW THIS YEAR

The Regular Arrears Supplement program is a new program providing up to $10,000 in utility arrears assistance to eligible households that are unable to pay their unpaid electric and/or gas utility arrears. This program is open to homeowners and renters and can apply to all arrears, including those accrued prior to the COVID-19 pandemic. This program only applies to electricity and natural gas, and not deliverable fuels such as home heating oil or propane. It is currently available and will remain open to qualified customers until Sept. 30, 2022 or until funding is exhausted.

In addition to Central Hudson's bill discounts for customers receiving HEAP grants, these bill discounts are now also provided to customers who receive Lifeline; Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); Medicaid; Supplemental Security Income (SSI); Federal Public Housing Assistance; Veterans Pension or Survivors Pension; and certain programs for Native Americans. This program provides a monthly bill credit for up to 12 consecutive months.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Central Hudson has suspended service terminations and is actively reaching out to customers who are experiencing financial challenges to determine if they are eligible for further assistance. In order to provide necessary documentation for certain assistance programs, some Central Hudson customers are being proactively provided with statements showing a past due balance or a termination notice. These statements may be necessary for a customer to qualify for an emergency HEAP benefit or other charitable resources like Central Hudson's Good Neighbor Fund that provides "last resort" grants to help pay the energy bills of local residents in need who have exhausted all other forms of public and private utility assis-

For more information on HEAP eligibility requirements and benefits. visit www.CentralHudson.com/HEAP or http:// otda.ny.gov/programs/ heap/program.asp; and for more on all of Central Hudson's assistance and billing programs, visit www.CentralHudson. com, and click on "My Account."

BBB warns holiday shopping scams are a risk

BUFFALO — Online purchase scams now account for more than a third of all scam reports filed with the Better Business Bureau (BBB), and four out of five consumers who report such scams lose money, making it the No. 1 riskiest type of scam.

BBB is warning consumers ahead of the holiday shopping season to be aware of how scammers deceive consumers, whether they are actively shopping or passively browsing.

The 2021 BBB Online Purchase Scams Report examines more than 55,000 online purchase scam reports submitted to BBB Scam Tracker between 2015 and 2021, as well as new survey conducted research in 2021 to get insights from those who reported online purchase scams in 2020 and 2021.

Online purchase scams consistently rank among the top three riskiest since 2017, and a significant number of people continue to lose money when targeted by online purchase scams (74.8% in 2021). The median dollar loss for this scam type has risen in recent years, up from $76 in 2019 to $102 so far in

Experts are predicting an earlier start to the 2021 holiday shopping season because of supply chain concerns, microchip shortages, and holiday hiring.

BBB warns scammers will find ways to take advantage of the situation by varying the product categories, capitalizing on what people are looking for online, and focusing on the most sought-after gifts such as electronics, toys and other trendy gift items.

Each year, the BBB Institute issues a BBB Scam Tracker Risk Report, which analyzes the previous year's data. Since the advent of the COVID-19 pandemic, online purchase scams have jumped along with an increase in online shopping. BBB took a deeper dive into the data by surveying people who had reported scams to ask them more about their situation.

Whether a consumer was actively shopping for a product or passively browsing, it appears this activity had an impact on susceptibility. Sixty-four percent of survey respondents were actively searching for a product when they lost money to an online purchase scam. Thirty-six percent of those who lost money were passively looking or not searching. When it came time to placing an order and expecting the item to be shipped, 32% surveyed reported receiving shipment tracking information that seemed authentic, 30% received fake shipping information, 2% received shipping information they didn't verify, and 36% didn't receive shipping information. Several survey respondents noted that they didn't suspect a scam at first because they expected shipping delays due to the pandemic.

The analysis of online purchase scam reports submitted to BBB Scam Tracker found that more than 400 different types of products were used by scammers to perpetrate scams.

Pets and pet supplies were the riskiest sales category in 2020. Almost 35% of online purchase scam reports were pet-related, with 70% of people losing money, and a median dollar loss of $750. The French bulldog was the top breed used to perpetuate puppy scams.

One year ago this month, Dave MacLauchlin, started as manager of the Lafarge cement plant in Ravena - an opportunity that enabled him both to utilize his two decades of industry expertise and realize a dream of returning to his home state of New York.

But the job also presented significant challenges to MacLauchlin, 45, a Western Mohawk Valley native and Clarkson University graduate. He arrived five months after the coronavirus pandemic forced the closure of everything but essential businesses across the state.

The Lafarge Ravena plant, MacLauchlin said, shuttered briefly in April, but otherwise "operated successfully" throughout the Covid-19 crisis and never experienced an outbreak.

"That's a testament to the workforce," he said.

Now that the Covid restrictions have eased, MacLauchlin is focused on getting into the community and forging relationships. He is working to highlight how the local team has "evolved as an organization" and the plant has "evolved as a site."

"Our goal is to be a good member of the community, to be a respected member of the community," he explained. The plant is the largest employer in Southern Albany County, with 150 workers, and the largest contributor of local property taxes.

MacLauchlin often points to Ravena plant's multimillion-dollar modernization project completed in 2017. He notes it has produced cement for many projects, including the GlobalFoundries site in Malta, which announced a significant expansion; and looks forward to playing a key role in helping New York reach its ambitious renewable energy goals.

Voters approve $40.7M capital project

By Melanie Lekocevic Capital Region Independent Media BETHLEHEM — Voters in the Bethlehem Central School District approved by a large margin a $40.7 million capital improvement project.

The 2021 Facilities Improvement Capital Project was adopted Oct. 19 by voters, with 2,017, or 71%, voting in favor of the project and 810, or 29%, voting against the project.

"Thank you to our BC community for turning out today to support this project," said District Superintendent Jody Monroe. "Maintaining, modernizing and improving our facilities is essential to our mission. Many elements of this plan are designed to improve student opportunities within all four of our core district values of academics, character, community and wellness."

The project will mean improvements at every school building in the district.

Taxes will not increase in the district due to the project, according to a district statement. The project is expected to be budget neutral, with debt service costs fully offset by New York state building aid and significant use of the district's capital reserve fund, according to the district.

The total estimated cost of the project is $40,693,000. Funding sources will cover 100% of the cost of the project, with no property tax impact for homeowners. Funding sources are as follows:

ARP/ESSER Funds: $2,397,000

Federal E-Rate Funds: $543,000

Capital Reserve Funds - 2015: $5,100,000

Four candidates vie for two seats on town council

COEYMANS candidates are seeking the two open seats on the Coeymans Town Council in the Nov. 2 election.

Trying to find a balance between job creation, green industry and economic development opportunities to attract new business to start up in Coeymans and maintain families that are here and hopefully bring in new young families that will want someday retire in Coeymans. I will continue to listen to our residents about the day-to-day concerns as well as work with the town/village boards and our business partners to drive for sustainable employment opportunities here in Coeymans.

Why do you think you will be a good trustee? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office?

I am a lifelong resident here and I want my children to hopefully raise their families here as well.

DANIEL D. BAKER

I will continue to work director, STARS Intergen hard for the residents of Corp. the town, being a strong voice of reason for them, at the same time holding the line on taxes while delivering results for better quality of life.

The list is long, but I will explain a few that I am most proud of. This town board worked hard with Albany County to finally take a 20-yearold run-down, tire-filled building that was a huge eyesore and get it cleaned up so it could be placed back on the tax rolls. I was instrumental in our quest to find a grant writer that would fit into the town's model and we were successful to be able to hire one two years ago. Supervisor McHugh and myself met with the Albany County sheriff and formulated a plan to develop a new sheriff's substation located in the hamlet, doubling public safety.

We also started working with RCS schools to have students attend and sit on the board during our regular monthly meetings to try and offer young students a chance to see the inner workings of how a town board operates.

I would think the balance needed between business and residential concerns is always a priority.

Small communities need more than their local population to help a community thrive and carry on into the future. School districts also need the support of local businesses, especially larger corporations. The current supervisor and my fellow board members have made great strides in working with both large corporations and smaller family-owned businesses. Also working for the protection of our natural resources and creating areas for the whole community to enjoy, like our parks and areas of recreation. This was a priority this year before I was appointed to the town board. Working to recreate a local business district with small busi-

There's an old saying, "You don't get second chance to make a first impression." How wonderful would it be to see all of our community working together for the good of all. This is what the town government is working to continue doing. Working for the future is not negating or repeating the past. It's having awareness and the ability to use the current grant monies and resources to work together. Moving forward, making things better, creatively using what's been given and adding to it to make it still better for the next generation. "There's only one way to bring in the new. You must make room for it." - Neale Donald Walsh

Why do you think you will be a good trustee? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office?

I was asked to fill the seat of town board member, Kenny Burns. He is an amazing person, and he left very large "shoes" to fill. I was honored and humbled to be asked to serve with the current town board members. I've seen these men work and work with them, to see that they leave nothing undone that is worth doing. They work well together and welcomed me to serve with them. I can't take any credit for the current tax rate, the park upgrades or the protection of resources and balancing that with large,

I'm looking forward to continuing to serve with my fellow board members. They are honest, truthful, transparent, work for the good of all, listen with open minds and are willing to look at all sides of an issue to balance the outcome of their decisions. My background in human services has given me a unique outlook into government at many levels. I have served both local, county and federal programs, working through the many facets of government necessary to achieve a positive outcome. Supervising staff, volunteers, coordinating services, connecting local people to needed resources, and working in other areas — Athens, Catskill, Kingston, as well as Albany and Glenmont — has given me experience to see a broader view of what surrounds Coeymans. I also covered 22 counties for the Regional Foodbank when they were still learning how to serve their member programs. This is where I learned about poverty in NYS, especially in rural areas. I went on to serve this area through Albany County's Cornell Cooperative Extension's C.H.O.I.C.E.S Program. This was created by asking the women I was serving in a nutrition program what they needed to get ahead and not need to rely on government services. This program received two awards from Cornell University during my tenure there. It was an honor serving the people of this community in that program. I also oversaw an AmeriCorps project that I had requested for this community to assist with job training/placement, as well as small business startup.

I have also served in three different churches in the Albany Diocese and one in the Archdiocese of NY coordinating Faith Formation Programs, working with staff and volunteers and providing intergenerational programs. I also worked as a consultant for RCS to provide job shadowing and placement for students with area employers. I have had management experience with employees and volunteers, grant writing experience, interned at NYS Historic Preservation, as well as served on the boards of Women's Employment and Resource Center, Food Pantries of the Capital District, Justice for Orphans and STARS Intergen's Board of Directors and a myriad of other organizations. I am currently serving on the Board of the Hope Full Life Center, the Albany Alliance of Braver Angels, the RCS Association of Churches as vice president. I also volunteer at the Church of St. Patrick with Adult Faith Formation and women's Bible study. I have been employed as the executive director of STARS Intergen Corp for the last eight years. I pledge to use my years of experience to foster a future that brings new opportunities to this community, as well as preserves the rich history of the Town of Coeymans.

College: Two years, Hudson Valley Community College

What do you think is the top issue facing your community? What would you do to address this issue if elected?

I believe that the top issue or challenge facing our community is the fact that we have two local governments in the town and village, which at times seems that it can be a challenge for residents as well as public officials. As town clerk, it is my goal and intention to work together with the town board and staff, as well as the village clerk and staff. Also, to ensure that all Coeymans residents receive the absolute best service possible from their town clerk. while at the same time staying within budget and keeping our services cost effective to the taxpayers.

clerk? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office? If you are a newcomer, what are you looking forward to accomplishing if elected?

I am a lifelong resident of Coeymans as well as my husband. We both graduated from RCS High School and chose to raise our family in Coeymans. I see the position of town clerk to be less about making policy, which is a town board responsibility, and more about customer service and the focal point for most residents' requests and needs. If elected, I will work to support the town board as they continue to lead the town and make policies for the betterment of our residents and taxpayers, while at the same time concentrating my efforts on ensuring that Coeymans residents and taxpayers receive the best possible service from the office of the town clerk. Whether it is paying a tax bill or a water or sewer bill, applying for a marriage license, submitting a FOIL request, or purchasing a hunting license, all residents will be greeted with a smile and respect.

My office staff and I will do our very best to accommodate the needs of the public. I spent 25 years of my life working as an executive legislative assistant and membership development coordinator and I understand the importance of treating the public with dignity and respect, as well as the importance of maintaining an organized and professional office environment. If I am fortunate enough to be elected as the next Coeymans town clerk, it will be my duty, honor and privilege to humbly serve with the town supervisor and town board members, and to provide the citizens of Coeymans with a town clerk's office that will be dedicated entirely to serving their municipal needs in a timely and professional manner, and with a cheerful smile.

A top issue would be bringing in small businesses while maintaining industrial growth and the community's safety. I would work towards attracting small businesses and increase town police.

Why do you think you will be a good town clerk? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office? If you are a newcomer, what are you looking forward to accomplishing if elected?

As town clerk, I would modernize the office and work on scanning in records for electronic filing to increase access of records to town residents.

What do you think is the top issue facing your community? What would you do to address this issue if elected?

Coevmans needs to reinvest in the livability of our town. The focus of our town board should be on the residents of Coeymans. If Coeymans continues on the path it is on now, I fear there won't be a hometown in our future. If we allow the town board to focus their energy and efforts elsewhere than on the people, our town will become unlivable, uninviting and our families will relocate. So much of what makes Coeymans special needs to be highlighted, protected and advocated for, such as our historic architecture, our beautiful landscape, and the people who choose to make Coeymans their home regardless of how long they've lived here.

Why do you think you will be a good trustee? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office? If you are a newcomer, what are you looking forward to accomplishing if elected?

I will make a good council person to represent the Town of Coeymans because I value, and will actively seek, community input. Prior to moving to the hamlet, my husband and I lived in the Hollow for four years on the Hannacroix Creek that I used to play in as a child. I have an appreciation for the unique needs of the residents throughout town, and the diversity of our people. If elected, first and foremost I will be an advocate for the people of Coeymans. I will work hard to improve the livability of our area: addressing safety issues for pedestrians, truck traffic, creative solutions for empty storefronts and multiple beautification and wellness initiatives such as beginning a garden club, improving programs for programs, and continuing to spearhead community murals to brighten our streets.

bia-Greene Community College, The College of Saint Rose What do you think is the top issue facing your community? What would you do to address this issue if elected?

While Coeymans has several priority issues such as a need to attract more small business, a need to revitalize our Main Street complex and a need to reconstitute our local law enforcement structure, I believe the most pressing, over-arching issue is the need for forthright and honest leadership that is truly driven by the needs of the town and its people. Ideally, this leadership will be one free from influencing and conflicting business interests and one that values the input from not only other members of the leadership team, but also especially from the resident taxpayers.

When I am elected, I plan to look into starting a Community Committee, which will enable residents to engage in a two-way, real-time conversation with town government about the issues that they feel are important. My vision for this committee is that it will meet on a regular basis, so as to keep up with the dynamic circumstances that are happening in our community all the time. It is very important to me that the voices of Coeymans residents are heard and valued.

Why do you think you will be a good trustee? What are you most proud of accomplishing if you hold office? If you are a newcomer, what are you looking forward to accomplishing if elected?

I believe I will be an effective member of the town board for the following reasons:

As a member of our local school board, I have experience with what it means to be fiscally responsible to taxpayers and what it takes to accomplish that. I feel this is something that is lacking with the current administration.

The basics of applying for Social Security

Dear Rusty:

I am planning to apply for Social Security in May of 2022 and would like to understand how to file. I will be taking it when I am 62.

Signed: Ready to Retire

Dear Ready to Retire: Congratulations on your upcoming retirement!

You should apply for your Social Security benefits about three months before you wish benefits to begin (you will tell them the month you want benefits to start when you apply).

Since you plan to apply at age 62, be aware that you must be 62 for an entire month to be eligible for benefits — you cannot get benefits for the month you turn 62 (unless you were born on the first or second of the month). Rather, you become eligible the following month.

Your benefit payment date will be either the second, third or fourth Wednesday of the month, depending on the day of the month you were born. Born between the first and 10th of the month, your payment will be received on the second Wednesday; born between the 11th and 20th of the month, payment will be made on the third Wednesday; born after the 20th of the month your payment will be received on the fourth Wednesday.

You can apply for benefits over the phone by calling Social Security at 1(800) 772-1213 (or by calling your local office) and requesting an appointSOCIAL SECURITY MATTERS

ment to apply. However, by far the most efficient way to apply is online at www.ssa.gov/applyforbenefits.

Here's a link to a short video about applying online: https://www.ssa. gov/hlp/video/iclaim r01. htm. To do the online application, you will first need to create your personal "my Social Security" online account, which is easy to do at www.ssa. gov/myaccount.

When you have that online account set up, you will see your estimated benefit amounts at several ages. You'll see that if you claim at age 62, your benefit will be 30% less than it would be at your full retirement age (FRA) of 67 (a permanent reduction), and you'll also see that your benefit at age 70 would be about 75% more than your benefit at age 62.

Please also be aware that if you claim before your full retirement age and you continue to work, Social Security has a limit for how much you can earn before they take away some of your benefits. The 2022 earnings limit is not yet known, but it will be something a bit more than the 2021 limit of $18,960. If you exceed the annual limit, Social Security will take back benefits equal to $1 for every $2 you are over the limit (half of what you exceed the limit by). The earnings limit goes up by over 2.5 times in the year you reach your full retirement age and goes away entirely once FRA is attained.

Finally, your Social Security benefits may be subject to income tax if your combined income from all sources is high enough. The thresholds depend on your IRS filing status — if you file as "married/jointly" and your combined income (yours and your husband's) is more than $32,000, then 50% of your SS benefits for the tax year becomes part of your taxable income. If your combined income as a married couple is more 85% of your SS benefits will be taxable. The thresholds are less if you file your taxes as a single — in that case income over $25,000 means 50% of your SS benefits are taxable, and income over $34,000 means up to 85% of your benefits will be taxed at whatever your normal IRS tax rate is.

Cranberries: The smart choice

Like most people I look forward to celebrating the holidays with family, friends and, of course, the great food! But to me, the holiday meals aren't complete without the vibrant, versatile, red cranberry.

Love them or not, cranberries definitely add some sass to any holiday meal. And while many people associate cranberries only with the holidays, there are several good reasons to consume them year-round.

So in today's post, we look at the health benefits of cranberries and how you can incorporate them into your healthy diet.

Now a popular super food due to its high antioxidant content, the humble cranberry has a unique and colorful history. Native to the swamps and bogs of the Northeast, Native Americans used cranberries as blood purifiers, laxatives, a remedy for upset stomachs, a food source and even as a textile dye.

And today, my favorite ruby-red beauties are also used for preventing cardiovascular disease, decreasing inflammation, improving immune and digestive function and may help ward off Alzheimer's disease and reduce brain damage after a stroke.

In this country someone dies from Alzheimer's disease every 65 seconds. However, a promising line of research suggests that ursolic acid found in cranberries may help protect brain cells from wasting away and also delay age-related cognitive decline.

And if you're one of the 40% of Americans suffering from high cholesterol, cranberries may be able to help there, too. According to a 2019 systematic review published in the National Library of Medicine, the polyphenols contained in cranberries can help lower (HDL) cholesterol levels and blood pressure, too! Just drinking two cups of low-calorie cranberry juice a day increases levels of good cholesterol, lowers bad cholesterol levels and also improves blood-sugar levels. However, please consult your health care practitioner before making any changes to your medication.

cranberries are a a great source of fiber. As you know, fiber helps prevent blood-sugar swings, prevents bloating and constipation.

And here's something I didn't know — due to their high antiviral and antibacterial properties, cranberries are the perfect food to help cleanse your liver! So, no need to worry about drinking that extra glass of wine or vodka over the holidays!

While eating raw cranberries is definitely an acquired taste, my chef sister says that incorporating the versatile cranberries into your favorite recipes is easier and tastier than you think. For example, she uses cranberries in pancakes, puts a dab of cranberry butter on top and tops it off with cranberry maple syrup. I put dried cranberries in stuffing and it was so delish! I don't know why it took me so long to do

My sister also suggests adding a new flavor element to your favorite cut of meat: Top a nice sirloin steak or pork chop with grilled onions, blue cheese crumbles and cranberries. Yummy!

So go grab yourself a bag of fresh cranberries and start the journey to a healthier you!

Happy eating!

Cashless tolling begins Nov. 1 on RVWBridge

By Melanie Lekocevic Capital Region Independent Media

CATSKILL — Cashless tolling will go into effect on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge beginning Nov. 1.

The New York State Bridge Authority announced Wednesday that electronic gantries installed at the bridge over the summer will go live at midnight on the morning of Nov. 1, enabling drivers to pass through the tolls without stopping.

"Motorists will experience non-stop travel under gantries with state-of-the-art sensors and cameras that read E-ZPass tags and take license plate images,' according to a statement released by the Bridge Authority on Wednes-

Vehicles with E-ZPass tags will pay the toll as they drive under the gantry, which will read their tag and deduct the toll amount from their account. Drivers without E-ZPass will be billed by mail after their license plate is photographed by the gantry.

Construction on the gantries began July 13 and has continued through the fall. After installation, the gantries underwent testing to ensure smooth operation.

All five bridges under the jurisdiction of the New York State Bridge Authority are shifting to cashless tolling.

Because you care!

Sometimes, things don't always work out at home for a child. New York's Office of Children and Family Services estimates that 130,000 children around the state live with a grandparent, an aunt or uncle, or other family member. Some even live with close family friends. When a family member or close family friend assumes the responsibility of caring for a child, that's called Kinship Care.

Perhaps you are a kinship care provider, or know someone who is. If you are, you do it for all the right reasons. Because you care. But there's good news. St. Catherine's Center for Children has launched a new program to support kinship caregivers in Albany, Schenectady, Greene and Ulster Counties. The program connects caregivers like you to a variety of community and public support services, providing you with the tools you need to succeed. Want to learn more? We're Dedicated to Working for You!

Our Congressman, Paul Tonko, knows that the Coeymans A Team will bring integrity back to our town.

I am proud to endorse the impressive candidates of the Coeymans A Team-Cindy Rowzee, Sara Pruiksma, Yvonne Shackelton, Sherle Slingerland, and Kristen Geoghegan--in their bid to help lead the town of Coeymans forward. They are committed to full transparency in government, supporting small business growth, beautifying the community, and standing for the health and safety of Coeymans' children, seniors, and working families. They are exactly the leaders Coeymans needs in order to take the next steps into a brighter future.

-Congressman Paul Tonko

NYS Comptroller Tom DiNapoli on the A Team

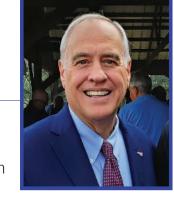

On Cindy Rowzee for Town Supervisor:

Public service is key to who Cindy is. Her experience will help bring integrity and trust back to Coeymans Town Government. Her commitment to ethics, planning to make the Town's departments more financially stable and having an open door policy will restore the community's faith in local government.

On Sara Pruiksma for Town Board:

Sara understands how important it is to listen to people and provide citizens with a voice for change. Her commitment to protect Coeymans' rich cultural, historical and natural assets from local companies that are polluting the area is what we need on the Coeymans Town Board.

On Yvonne Shackelton for Town Board:

Yvonne has shown her commitment to community by serving on the RCS School Board. She was a voice for those without one and will do the same as a Town Board member. She recognizes that only three women have ever sat on the Town Board—she believes local government should look like the people it serves.

On Kristen Geoghegan for Albany County Legislature

Coeymans deserves a County Legislator that will represent everyone in the district. Kristen's commitment to clean air is especially important given the environmental challenges facing Coeymans and the area. She will be an asset for Coeymans and the Albany County Legislature.

Comparing Medicare Plans Could Save You Money

Medicare Open Enrollment is here. Now's the time to review coverage and select a plan that meets your health care needs.

FAMILY FEATURES

edicare's Open Enrollment period gives everyone with Medicare the opportunity to make changes to their health plans or prescription drug plans for coverage beginning Jan. 1, 2022. Don't delay, the Open Enrollment period ends Dec. 7.

Comparing Plans Can Be Easy

Medicare plans can change year to year – even your current plan may be changing. Medicare gov makes it easy to compare coverage options, shop for plans and feel confident about your choices. You can do a side-by-side comparison of plan coverage, costs and quality ratings to help you more easily see the differences between plans. If you choose a new plan for 2022, you can enroll right there. If your current coverage still meets your health care needs, you don't have to do anything.

Open Enrollment (Oct.15-Dec. 7) is your chance to compare your choices for the year ahead and to see if you could save money all year long.

Here are some things to consider when shopping for Medicare coverage:

- Check if your doctors are still in-network and your prescriptions are on the plan's formulary.
- The plan with the lowest monthly premium may not always be the best fit for your health needs.
- Look at the plan's deductible and other out-of-pocket costs that factor into your total costs.
- Some plans offer extra benefits, like vision, hearing or dental coverage, which could help meet your unique health care needs in 2022.

Medicare is Here to Help

Here are three ways you can compare plans:

- Find plans at Medicare.gov, where you can see estimates for all your
- Call 1-800-MEDICARE. Help is available 24 hours a day, including weekends.
- weekends.

 Help in your community is also available. You can get personalized health insurance counseling at no cost to you from your State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP). Visit shiptacenter.org, or call 1-800-MEDICARE for your SHIP's phone number. Many SHIPs also have virtual counseling available.

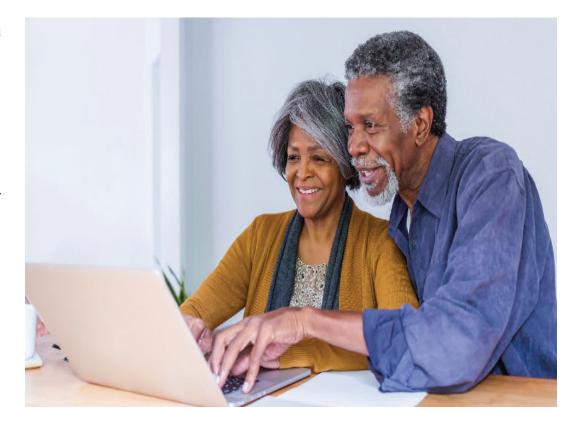

Medicare Open Enrollment ends Dec.
7. Now is the time to act if you want to enroll in or make changes to your Medicare health or prescription drug plans for coverage beginning Jan. 1, 2022. If your current coverage still meets your needs then you don't have to do anything. Remember, if you miss the Dec. 7 deadline, you will likely have to wait a full year before you are able to make changes to your Medicare coverage.

For more information, visit Medicare.gov/plan-compare or call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227). TTY users can call 1-877-486-2048. Help is available 24 hours a day, including weekends. Need Help with Medicare Costs?

If you have Medicare and you're facing challenges paying for health care, you may qualify for Medicare Saving Programs run by your state that can help save you money on health and prescription drug costs. If your income for 2021 is below $18,000, it might be worth contacting your state's Medicaid program about programs that may be available to you. To learn more, call 1-800-MEDICARE.

Protect Your Medicare Card and Help Fight Fraud

Don't let your guard down. Here are a few important steps you can take to protect your identity and help fight Medicare fraud.

- Guard your Medicare card and number Treat your Medicare Number and card just like you would your Social Security card or a credit card. Remember, Medicare will never contact you for your Medicare Number or other personal information unless you've given them permission in advance.
- Review your Medicare claims When you receive statements from Medicare, look them over to make sure they're accurate. Watch for any services billed to your Medicare Number that you don't recognize. Ask questions about your statements if you see something you think is incorrect.

Elect Kristen Geoghegan as Coeymans' Albany County Legislator

Coeymans needs an independent voice.

Someone who puts people first and fights for what matters most in our community.

- Protecting public health and environmental quality
- Creating good jobs
- Keeping taxes low while preserving services that are important to you, and
- Making sure everyone has access to affordable housing, childcare, healthcare and transportation

Coeymans deserves a County Legislator that will represent everyone in the district. Kristen's commitment to clean air is especially important given the environmental challenges facing Coeymans and the area. She will be an asset for Coeymans and the Albany County Legislature.
