SEE YOUR VICTORY AND NOT YOUR STORM

By Pastor Troy Wiley

The Word says to look upon the invisible, the unseen. Look upon the eternal things that can only be seen by faith, 2 Corinthians 4:18. Yes, you can see it, yes you can look at these things, but only by faith, and not by the natural. Seeing these things is the difference between life and death. If all we ever see is the storm, then right there is where we will be, in the storm. We can live of the storm, and never have the victory, or we can live of the victory by faith, and never have to be controlled by the storm.

Unfortunately, so many saints are storm saints. They are always focused on the storm. In a real sense, they are spiritual storm watchers. They don't know any better than to keep up with the storm. The Bible teaches that Satan is the Prince of the Power of the air, Ephesians 2:2. So, to try and keep up with the storm, is to keep up with the works of darkness. We are Children of the Light, and not the darkness. We are to walk in the light. And these costly mistakes are the very reason why many saints are living defeated lives

Critical spirits distract us from the working of real faith. A lot of saints have tapped into the supernatural from the standpoint of being critical and judgmental. In other words, they are constantly critical and judgmental of everything around them. The root of bitterness is still intact in their life, they are holding on to something that is robbing them of their blessings, Hebrews 12:15. They got hurt somewhere or another, and that wound opens up the door for doubt and selfishness. There is always a storm brewing in their life, day and night. These precious souls live their days dominated by emotions, never really experiencing the life of faith. Faith has to replace all the flesh feelings of the self life.

Never let the struggle be more real to you than the victory. Saints are waiting for the doctor to say everything is good, then we will believe it. The Good News is, God's Word has already told us that we are healed. And he told us how it happened. By his stripes we are made whole, 1 Peter 2:24. When you pray, believe that you receive the things that you ask for, and you shall have them, Mark 11:24.

Living of the storm means that we are not feeding our faith. Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God. And the Word of God tells us that Satan is defeated. We must know this in our spirit. Because Satan is defeated, we can resist him. Resisting him is necessary in order to feed our faith. I have seen a lot of saints try and fight Satan then resist him. The only way to fight is to first resist him by what the Word of God says. It is written. Resisting Satan is only possible by submitting to the Word, James 4:7. The Word is where our victory is.

The saints who are living of the storm always possess a defeated spirit. The praise and worship service really doesn't move them much. They just kind of sit right there, dry and passive. But the real saints are hungry and stirred. Their fire is burning, and they know that they must live of the victory and not the storm.

FREE BIBLE COURSE

It's not too late to start the course! There is no enrollment fee. If you are interested, you may text, email, or write to me. Following your notice that you want to participate, I will enclose in your monthly newsletter, a question-and-answer sheet. Once you have read the newsletter sermons, simply answer the related questions, then mail them to me. I will grade them and return them to you. A yearly Certificate of Completion will be offered once 12 months are completed. Hope this helps you with your studies.

MOTIVATION, SPIRITUALLY SPEAKING

By Pastor Troy Wiley

There is something that I want to talk to you about that is one of the most important truths that any believer can ponder, in their mind and in their heart. Spiritual motivation. Why are you doing what you do? And is it for self or is for God first. Are you praying because you are in a mess, or are you seeking God because you desire him, and you know that he wants to, and is changing something in you?

Offentimes people come to church because in their mind, God can help them. And thank God that is what the church is there for, a place to come and get help. But there is more to it than that. You are going to have to see the other side of things. God desires to work in such a way, as to change your life. And many times, we end up rejecting God because we don't want to change.

Motivation is needed, but are we motivated because we have a problem, or are we looking for the answer. People often times want something to improve, but no investment. They want it to get better, but at no lasting cost. Church is good, but we need a move of God. So, a very important question must be asked. What is motivating us the most? And in reality, we human beings are not spiritually minded enough to separate self-motivation and self-consciousness. Is there a solution to this problem, and if so, what is it? Self-denial.

Self will keep you from the real move of God. And the move of God, is the results of getting self out of the way. Self-improvement has no spiritual value unless the Word of God is taking root in us. It is the Word that produces results. The miracle is in the seed. The seed is the Word, and the Word is alive. We mix faith with the Word, and it works, but there is only one kind of faith that moves God, and that is heart faith, not head faith.

Offentimes, heart faith is not in operation because our affections are not on God. Other things are in our heart besides the things of God. Therefore, the application of our faith is not heartfelt. This is why many trials and tests are sometimes permitted until we get desperate.

The desperation can help us get our priorities spiritually in line. In desperation our faith is realized a little more clear. When we come to God, there is only one way that any of us can come, and that is in faith, Hebrews 11:6. Heartfelt faith often times is not really stirred until we get our motivation right.

THOUGHTS ABOUT ANGELS

By Pastor Troy Wiley

Angels have their residence in the spirit Realm. Hebrews 1:7 says that he makes his angels spirits. This can be understood to mean that these angels by nature, function in the realm of the invisible. They are therefore witnesses too many possible supernatural acts and deeds of God that originate in the realm of the spirit, and the heavenlies.

The Bible says in 1st Corinthians, chapter 13 that we know in part, as one who beholds through a glass darkly. One reason why many believers deal with some warfare in the realm of the spirit, it's because they get distracted from focusing upon the Lord Jesus Christ, and his Word. Therefore, we are to not look at angels as we look at God. We are to look unto Jesus Christ who is the author and the finisher of our faith, Hebrews 12:2. We are to be God-conscious and God aware. Many believers and many other religions look at angels in the sense of consciousness and awareness which excels their consciousness and awareness of the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus is referred to as the king of kings, Revelation 19:16. Therefore, we are not to put angels on the same level.

The Bible says he will give his angels charge concerning thee, Psalms 91:11. This speaks about the witness and the assignment concerning angelic beings and the believer. It is very possible that an angel is assigned to each of our lives individually.

Throughout the Word of God, angels are connected to the prophetic. We see this in the book of Job chapter 38:4-7. This account lets us know that the Angels were present at the creation of the world and that they rejoiced.

Angels of course as being part of the creation were created by God, Psalms 148:2-5. Angels differ from human beings in many ways, Hebrews 2:7. They possess superhuman knowledge, 2 Samuel 14:17, 20 and 2 Peter 2:11. However, these angels are not all powerful and are not all knowing, Psalms 103:20 and 2 Thessalonians 1:7.

In Matthew 4:11, the Bible says the angels came and ministered unto Jesus during his wilderness experience. Luke 22:43 states that angels came and ministered unto Jesus in The Garden of Gethsemane.

In Revelation chapter 4, we see that there are cherubims around the throne of God. We see these angelic beings in other places in Scripture also. We find them throughout the book of Ezekiel in the prophetic visions that the Lord gave him. We also note that the cherubims that are around the throne, sing a psalm of worship that is prophetic in nature. It is continual before his throne. This speaks about the flow of the prophetic, and how it relates to the angelic realm. One of the conditions concerning the prophetic throughout the Bible, is the manifestations of angels in the midst.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MY SON

By Sister Dollie Harrell

Founder & Pastor of The Penetecostal Revival Center, Palatka,
Florida & Founder of GospelVision WJGV-TV

Dear Son,

I remember the night I kissed your 5-year-old Sister goodbye to drive 20 miles to a hospital to bring you into the world. Your Daddy was nearly a hundred miles away trying to make a living. God was bringing us down into His Will, to use us for his glory. Three days later your daddy took us to a strange place called Palatka. Here you started your life.

Many a night I dried you, left a bottle with your Daddy, and slipped away from your crib to the little church down the street to seek the Lord for a closer walk in God, little knowing that I would find in Christ the reality of the Holy Ghost Baptism, and to be called to preach His gospel.

Your life has not been a bed of roses, yet, it has been blessed on every hand, and even though you have been called the preacher's kid, it has been more rewarding than any child's life, which has been raised in sin.

The devil has been following you, trying to destroy your mother's Faith as well as your life, but he was defeated nearly 2,000 years ago by our Saviour, Jesus Christ. I had a dream from God before you were born. And I know it was from God! I know it had the meaning that your life would have purpose in God's will.

I remember when your first-grade teacher called me down to the school and said she was worried about you not speaking plain. I told her I had faith in God to heal you, and if God did not heal you, Moses couldn't talk plain either, but God gave him Aaron to speak for him. I'm sure God honored our faith by healing you.

I remember when you were so pigeon-toed you could hardly run. Your Aunt Carolyn came from Jacksonville and said I was neglecting you. Of course, she loved you and thought your mother was touched in the head because I told her the Lord would heal you. And He did. Today your feet are as normal as any man's feet.

Do you recall the day you told your P.E. teacher that you did not want to dress out in P.E. shorts, and he said you could not run fast with long pants on. The other boys laughed at you, but the Lord let you be one of the fastest runners in your class.

I'm sure you cried many tears behind my back, as well as your sister did, when your mother would wave goodbye to leave to preach revival meetings. And many more tears would come when your mother would call after the second week to say, "Mother can't come home this week for souls are being saved."

Many times you would come in from school and have something special to do with your friends, and mother would say, "Son, we have to be in church tonight, Jesus comes first."

Other times you thought I was an old foggy because you could not go to the movies or participate in the things of the world. I could hear my family, who then couldn't understand that I was willing for us to suffer at any cost, rather than to bring a reproach on the precious blood of Jesus...

Remembering back when you were little, outside hunting and fishing, you knew nothing but church. I remember you and your sister played church when other kids would have been playing cops and robbers.

I've seen you in your early teens wearing a hat that was so big for your head it pushed your ears nearly upside down. You would slip a big gun on your shoulder and go out into the morning as the sun would be rising over the horizon to follow your Daddy hunting. Your heart would be joyed as David said, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, Oh God." (Psalms 42:1)

I remember our neighbor, Tom, thought we were going to let you die, because we were trusting God to heal you of appendicitis. Do you recall I went to the radio that morning to preach, and I told the Lord that if he did not heal you by the time I got home, I was willing for you to go to the doctor, and to be operated on. But thank God you were up playing, healed by the power of God when mother turned into the drive.

In your early life you and I spent many Sundays away from home in churches where we knew few people. We would go to strange homes where we would eat. You would never complain about the food, no matter if you liked it or not. You always had to be careful not to put your feet on the sofa, or not to talk too much, for all the older folks were talking, and nobody had time for you.

I remember the times you had to sit back at the church and let me reward another child when you really deserved the reward. Mother would say, "Son, his soul is lost, and we're doing this to get him saved."

I remember times when the people at the church would talk ugly about us and we would hold our peace thinking of the scripture, "Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God." (Matthew 5:9)

Many nights as we were driving across the states in revival, I would become so tired that I could not make another mile. I would have to pull under a light on a street corner and say, "Son, you watch for me while mother sleeps for a few minutes." God let you be my bodyguard long before you were old enough to protect anyone.

Son, I have today mentioned just a few of the experiences that we have had together during the years of working for the Lord. As I see you filled with the Holy Ghost and living for God, I know the scripture is true, "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6)

Son, if mother is called off the scene of action, remember what I have written to you in this letter. The Lord has given you life in the greatest hour, the coming of the Lord. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few," (St Matthew 9:37) I am counting on you and yours to carry on the battle.

Never listen to the doubters or scoffers, but look from the land of Egypt to Canaan's land, which flows with milk and honey. God is looking for a man filled with the Holy Ghost, who has the backbone to speak the truth. He wants leaders which fear nothing but fear itself.

You are a man in your own right now. You have learned that life is a battle with the devil. There are a few days to work for God, a few days to be glad in his salvation, and a time to help others on their way to Canaan.

Remember that nothing is too hard for God, for "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose." (Romans 8:28)

God cannot bless sin. Just as it says, "Fret not thyself because of evildoers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb." (Psalms 37: 1-2)

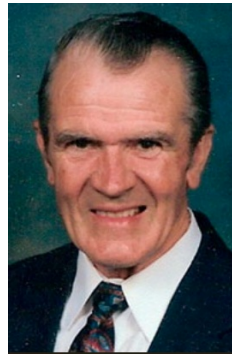

Never let the disappointments of the ministry outweigh the joy of soul winning. When people you have confidence in turn on you, and speak all manner of evil against you, always keep a good spirit. "For it is written, vengeance is mine I will repay said the Lord." (Romans 12:19)

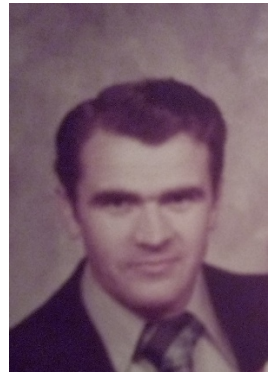

The end of a righteous man is peace. Love in Christ,

Mother
