FAITH, THE KEY TO YOUR DAILY WALK
by Pastor Troy Wiley

Many people are thinking that when God does this or when God does that, faith must never be overlooked because without faith it is impossible to please God. The natural man needs the body to function properly in order to have good health. The mind needs the function of the human brain in order to have good mental health, and the human spirit must have the working of faith within, in order to live for God. The just shall live by faith.

Because so many believers are not really trying to live for God, faith is often times not even considered as part of the Christians daily walk. So many Christians are trying to live by everything but faith, and this is the reason why their life is so often out of true spiritual order. We do not pray when we are sick, and pray when we are depressed, and fail to spend time with the Lord when we are not sick and depressed. Men ought always to pray.

Man must walk in faith in order to relate to the presence of the Lord. He that comes to God must believe that He is. Faith is not the initial element to the supernatural alone, it is very much the will of the heart. The Bible says if you be willing and obedient you shall eat the good of the land. Many Christians are just stuck, they all want the good of the land, but they really don't want to fully obey the Lord and his will.

In other words, we often want the blessing, but we fail to see that the blessing comes from spending time with the Lord. When one considers today the importance of faith and knowing God, it is by faith that we even come to God, in order to be saved, and then once we are saved, it is by faith that we have come to him continually. He that cometh to God must believe that he is, Hebrews 11:6.

The day of our healing, the day of our miracle, the day of change, the day of our physical deliverance from sickness and disease, the day our marriage is restored, the day our promotion comes, none of these days will come to pass without walking by faith daily.

Then everything will be good. But how are you and I going to have faith for that day, if we are not walking by faith today. Day by day, step by step. Every breath from God is the miracle of the moment. And it is the miracle of the moment that is going to get me through to the next moment. The Word says though our outward man may perish, our inner man is renewed day by day. It is the daily walk of faith that is going to take me to the days of miracles and glory in the future.

BREAK FORTH, Isaiah 52:9

by Pastor Troy Wiley

God speaking through the mouth of Isaiah the Prophet by the Spirit, prophesying to Jerusalem, in the 52nd chapter of the book of Isaiah, declares to the people that spiritually the time of their breakthrough has come. God, using the term in verse 1, "Break Forth". This Word from God contains the revelation that the force of God's spiritual power would not only move that which has been in the way, but that the force of God's power would penetrate the oppositional forces of darkness and cause a breaking forth concerning the people of God. In other words, the move of God would cause the people of God to breakthrough and break forth concerning their needs and circumstances.

As you are reading this message, the mighty power of the living God is working and moving in behalf of your situation, and part of that breaking forth is going to cause a place spiritually for you to move forward. God is going to enable you to spiritually relocate to higher ground. And we know that all things work for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose, Romans 8:28.

The New Testament church can look for the spiritual fulfilment of the prophetic promises made to Abraham's seed, the Bible says, and if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise, Galatians 3:29.

In this day the Spirit of the Lord is ministering unto the body of Christ, the Church. And it is his will to raise up the waste places as mentioned in Isaiah 52 and 9. The areas of our life that have suffered decline and yet because of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, God has sustained us spiritually. And in this hour there is a short work that God is doing concerning the body of Christ, Romans 9:28. He has made us the head and not the tail.

Concerning the believer in this day, there is a great prophetic fulfillment concerning spiritual restoration in each of our lives, those of us who are born again, and sealed by the Spirit, we are going to experience a greater restoration from within, then what we have ever anticipated, for the Lord is pouring his Spirit out upon all flesh, Acts 2:17-18, and the church is being prepared and conditioned to go up.

As the Lord, by the Prophet Isaiah in Isaiah chapter 52, prophesied to Jerusalem to tell them to break forth into joy, the New Testament Church must remember the joy of the Lord is our strength, Nehemiah 8:10 This is the same thing spiritually that God told Jerusalem in Isaiah 52:1. He said awake and put on thy strength.

There are experiences that can be common among believers and in one sense the word struggles can be used. These struggles are recent experiences that have been a test and they are formative to the life of the New Testament Church, but there is hope. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, Isaiah 40:31. God has not forgotten about you. You are his child. He has always promised his people to restore the waste places, be still and know that he is God, Psalms 46:10.

DEPRESSION AND THE CHILD OF GOD
by Pastor Troy Wiley

There are all kinds of things that can cause depression, and there are scriptures that show us about depression. In the book of Jude, the Bible says building yourself up in your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost, Jude verse 20. This scripture speaks about what the opposite of depression is. As depression is being torn down inwardly, prevailing prayer builds you up in the faith. There is a preventative measure concerning faith and prayer, when we pray and act in faith constantly. It is continual prayer that will no doubt prevent the causes of depression from taking over the mind of a person who is under attack, and it is prayer and faith that are the ingredients of a renewed mind.

Before he was called Satan, Lucifer was the anointed cherub who was instrumental in the praise and worship of the heavens, to the extent that even his body consisted of instruments, Ezekial 28:13-14. He was anointed and he was appointed, but he fell. Praise and worship alone are not sufficient. Men ought always to pray, and not faint, Luke 18:1.

Lucifer in his mind sinned and in his heart, he turned away from the presence of the Lord. This connection between the mind and the inner man is how man can still fall today. The Bible says fulfilling the lust of the flesh and of the mind, Ephesians 2:3. Lucifer didn't suddenly say one day that today I am going to be like God, but the Bible says he was a murderer the beginning, John 8:44. He didn't change. He rejected the truth in order to sin. And his personal sin led to a third of the angels falling with him, Revelation 12:4.

Concerning depression, the child of God must look to the Word of God as examples in the Spirit of Truth and true worship. The example of Lucifer shows the believer how easy it is to fall into a personal state of internal sin, and where that road leads. Wide is the way that leads to destruction, Matthew 7:13, and many there be which go in there at. Depression can be a very real part of that fall. The Bible says Satan abode not in the truth, John 8:44.

Depression often times comes into a person's life because they desire something that is denied them. Hope deferred makes the heart sick, Proverbs 13:12. This is where our desires must be prayed over and prayed through. To pray about what we want is a test in itself, if done the right way. The Bible says we pray and we have not, because we ask amiss, meaning we ask according to our lust, James 4:2-3.

Praying about a desire the correct way is to spiritually test the spirit that is possibly connected to that desire. The Lord gave us the model prayer. Give us this day our daily bread, and thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven, Matthew 6:10. To further test a desire by prayer is to follow the example of the Lord as in the garden, not my will but thy will be done, Matthew 26:39.

Depression can be the results of the wrong kind of desire and lack of temperance, which is self-control. Self-control is part of crucifying old self. Many times, human beings open up to the spirit of depression because they have mentally yielded to some desire that is sinful in its origin. The Word tells the believer, we are not to walk as other Gentiles in the lust of the flesh, Ephesians 4:17. Children of God are to weigh their desires in the balance of God's Word. And a false balance is an abomination in the sight of the Lord, Proverbs 11:1.

THE BOOK OF 2ND SAMUEL

by Pastor Troy Wiley

The books of First and Second Samuel historically were one authenticated work, meaning they were written as one complete manuscript. The same is true concerning several other Old Testament books that are in the division known as the historical books of the Old Testament. First and Second Samuel were not divided until the time of the Septuagint. They have been published as First and Second Samuel since that time. The book of Samuel as it is now and has been published, contains a total of 24 chapters, 695 verses and some 20,612 words.

A convenient outline of the total work of First and Second Samuel is as follows, Samuel as judge, 1st Samuel chapters 1-7. King Saul chapter 8 of 1st Samuel through 2nd Samuel chapter 1. King David, chapter 2 of the Book of 2nd Samuel through its entirety, ending with the final chapter, chapter 24. There has been much research concerning the individuals who contributed to the writing of First and Second Samuel. Samuel is the key figure in the beginning of the work, and Jewish traditions stated that he wrote the first part of 1st Samuel. The authorship of the remaining part of 1st Samuel, and what is now known as 2nd Samuel, has been attributed to the Prophet Gad, the Prophet Jasher, King David, the Prophet Isaiah and possibly others.

The entirety of the whole book of Second Samuel contains one main character. His name is David, and the first section of the book of 2nd Samuel, deals with the transition from King Saul to the ascension of David upon the throne, of the land of Judah, and then all of Israel. Thus, it must be recognized that David was the first king in the Messianic line. David is an ancestor of the Lord Jesus Christ. His reign and Kingdom comes under a greater classification than King Saul. The entire 24 chapters of Second Samuel deal exclusively with the life of King David.

The combined books of First and Second Samuel are some of the most interesting text found in the Old Testament. One reason for this is that these two books contain the story of David. His beginning as a Shepherd boy, his rise to the throne. His tremendous deeds as a warrior, his prophetic insight as a true prophet, his work as the sweet psalmist of Israel and his gift as a musician. Second Samuel also contains a total of ten wars that David carried out as king, in a period of some forty years.

There are two great accomplishments in the life of King David that correspond with the book of Second Samuel, that are noteworthy. The first would be the book of Psalms, many of the Psalms were composed by David during the events and time period of First and Second Samuel. Secondly, the kingdom in its prophetic fulfillment, was and is the achievement of King David that would shape kingdoms of the world to this day. For there is most likely no leader in the history of the world since David, who does not find common ground with his accomplishments.

David is also one of the two tremendous Old Testament figures who are types of Christ. The other being the Patriarch, Joseph. Both of these men fit the prophetic criteria, and the spiritual characteristics of those who reflect the person of Jesus Christ. It is worth noting that David as a prophet, was used of God to pen several Messianic Psalms. This gives us insight into the Life of Christ. Also, it is to be said that Joseph and David were greatly used by God to shape the Hebrew Nation, and that through the Hebrew Nation all nations of the world would be blessed, this is a fulfillment of prophetic vision.

In simple form a further outline of the book of Second Samuel would consist of David's ascension to the throne and great victories, chapter 1-10. Beginning in chapter 11 we have David's downfall, which continues through various forms internally, all the way to chapter 20. The final things concerning King David can be found in chapter 21, to the end of the book.

Prophetically in chapter 8, David conquers the land that was promised to Abraham. The final chapter of the book of Second Samuel, chapter 24 contains the account of King David purchasing the title deed to the present day Temple Mount. This event sets the stage for prophetic clarity, the return of Christ and in the millennium he will rule and reign from Jerusalem. Jerusalem being the kingdom that his ancestor David reigned over, and also at the time that Christ will return, he will have clear title to the lands of the Temple Mount.
