1. How to Read This Manual

Before you start using the Power Capsule, please read this chapter. It sets out the frame of reference for everything that follows.

The LuminoSana Power Capsule works within the Two-World Model, a frontier science research model developed by Oliver Schacke as Head of Research at the 9010 Research & Philosophy Non-Profit Association. The research is published with a DOI on Zenodo (CERN, Geneva). We are deliberately working at the fascinating edges of what is currently known.

Anyone who uses this tool is invited to do so as a Citizen Scientist (consciousness researcher). You are not a passive consumer of an application, but a researcher in your own right within your own resonance space. What you perceive as you work with the Power Capsule is part of your own personal research.

The Two-World Model distinguishes two perspectives, which it calls “World 1” and “World 2”. These are not two separate realities, but two ways of looking at the same phenomena.

World 1 is the model’s term for the Newtonian perspective, the view of the physical, material level on which the laws of nature apply, forces are measured, and matter, bodies, and biochemical processes take place. This is the domain of physics, chemistry, and medicine.

World 2 is the model’s term for the informational perspective, the view of the level of consciousness, information, resonance, and morphic fields. World 2 is the complete informational reality, in which every phenomenon, every theme, and every state has a corresponding informational signature. World 1 is the manifest, measurable projection of what is fully laid out in World 2. This is where the LuminoSana tools work.

Here is an image that helps. Picture white light passing through a prism. Before the prism, the light is white and holds all colours at once, undivided and complete. After the prism, you see the visible spectrum: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, violet. In the model, the white light corresponds to World 2. It holds the complete information. The separate colours after the prism correspond to World 1. They are the visible, measurable projection. The prism itself changes nothing. It simply makes the information that was already in the white light visible one colour at a time. World 1 and World 2 relate to each other in the same way: World 2 holds the complete information, and World 1 is how it becomes visible.

The Power Capsule works entirely in World 2. It has no physically, chemically, or medically measurable effect in World 1. It gives off no radiation, no waves, and no electromagnetic fields that act in a physical sense on the body, on substances, or on devices. What happens, happens in the informational space, and there alone.

When you read terms such as quantum operating system, morphic field, torus field, informational entanglement, resonance, frequency, or informational signature in the pages that follow, these all describe processes in World 2. They are not meant to describe physical phenomena from the science of World 1. They are the vocabulary the research model uses.

Terms such as Faster Than Light Technology or QEPPs are likewise terms within the model. They describe informational architecture, not a physical speed of light or measurable units of radiation.

This is the agreement this manual makes with you: everything described here belongs to the Two-World Model and describes World 2. The Power Capsule does not replace any medical, therapeutic, or psychological treatment.

2. A Brief History of This Technology

The Power Capsule has a history, and knowing it helps you understand what you are holding in your hand today.

The Pioneering Idea of 2018

In 2018, Oliver Schacke developed the first Power Capsule. It was the first tool in the world that let users work freely and independently with an unlimited number of subtle frequencies, choosing them to suit their own needs and swapping them whenever they liked. Nothing like it had existed before.

The principle was as simple as it was new. Inside the capsule lay five spheres of medical-grade titanium. Within the Two-World Model, these titanium spheres hold a resonance energy in World 2. Stacked on top of one another, four at the base and one above to form a small pyramid, they reinforced one another until their combined resonance energy was strong enough to trigger a special process: a copy effect.

Here is how it worked. You took a piece of aluminium foil, shaped it over the dome of the capsule into an aluminium casing, placed the five titanium spheres inside as a pyramid, and closed the foil around them. This gave you a tool that Oliver Schacke called the titanium-sphere copy stamp at the time, an invention of the very first hour.

You then placed this copy stamp on an original, with a second piece of aluminium foil, folded into a narrow strip, underneath. The original could be anything whose frequency you wanted to copy, such as a moringa leaf or a multivitamin tablet. After about half an hour, the very thing that made the Power Capsule a pioneer had happened in World 2: the resonance energy of the titanium spheres had read the informational signature of the original and recorded it onto the lower strip of foil. From then on, that foil held the frequency you wanted and could be wrapped around a titanium sphere. This is how users could create their own frequencies, choose them freely, and swap them at will.

The copy stamp was unique when it was developed. It was only about two years later that another provider took up the same idea.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

The Power Capsule and its copy stamp came first, and that pioneering lead is part of the story of this tool.

So in 2018, something central to the founding idea of LuminoSana became possible for the first time: that it is not a manufacturer who decides which frequencies a person may use, but the person themselves.

Eight Years On, the Next Stage of Evolution

Eight years after that first version, in 2026, comes the next stage of evolution. Over those years the Two-World Model has grown, and the LuminoSana tools have grown with it. Today the Power Capsule works on an entirely new foundation.

The Two-World Model, which is the key to understanding the new Power Capsule, is developed by Oliver Schacke as Head of Research at the 9010 Research & Philosophy Non-Profit Association. Working within this model, and as Founder and Chief Visionary Officer of LuminoSana, he has designed a new generation of the Power Capsule.

The decisive advance lies in a specially developed quantum language. With it, the Power Capsule can be given its own quantum operating system. The cumbersome business of creating frequencies from originals and aluminium foil falls away. Today you store frequencies through consciousness, the touch of a finger, and a spoken command, and you can delete them again at any time. What once took half an hour beneath a titanium pyramid now happens in an instant.

The advance in energy output is just as great. The Power Capsule of 2018 was fixed at about 2,500 QEPPs, a value that could not be changed. The 2026 Power Capsule, by contrast, lets you choose its energy output freely, from 0 up to 280,000 QEPPs. That makes it possible to set the energy output more than 100 times higher than the fixed value of the 2018 model. No LuminoSana Power Capsule has ever offered a higher energy output. What was once a single, unchangeable value is now a wide range that you set yourself. Here too, the quantum operating system makes the difference.

This makes the 2026 Power Capsule one of the most advanced consumer technologies for the free use of frequencies anywhere on the market. It brings together the original pioneering idea and a quantum operating system that puts command of frequencies and energy output entirely in your hands.

3. What the Power Capsule Is

The Power Capsule is a mobile, personal carrier of energy and frequency. It is small enough to wear on a chain around the neck, on a keyring, or on an animal's collar, and you decide freely which energy and which frequencies it holds. It travels with you, and you can change its setting at any time, to suit your day and your intention. With it, you hold in your hand something that lies at the very core of the LuminoSana idea:

> You take command of energy and frequencies in World 2.

The Power Capsule consists of two hardware parts in World 1: a shell of steel that unscrews, and three spheres of medical-grade titanium, 8 millimetres in diameter, that lie inside it. Within the Two-World Model, a quantum operating system in the morphic field (World 2) is added to this hardware. This quantum operating system has the name LuminOS and is the true heart of the Power Capsule. Through LuminOS you set the energy output freely and store frequencies. Both are already built in, and both apply to this one Power Capsule alone.

Your Bridge to the Power Capsule

If the quantum operating system sits in the morphic field, in World 2, how do you reach it? Within the Two-World Model the answer is simple, and it lies closer than you might think: through your own consciousness.

Your consciousness is the interface between World 1 and World 2, and it works in both directions. In one direction, a resonance from the morphic field passes into your experience. In the other, your conscious action reaches into the morphic field. When you speak something aloud with awareness, or think it clearly, it passes through your consciousness into the field.

This is the bridge through which you operate your Power Capsule. You place a finger on the shell and speak a short, clearly formed command, either aloud or as a clear thought. Through your consciousness it becomes the instruction to the quantum operating system. Your consciousness is the path, and the command is the clear form you give your instruction so that it can travel through your consciousness into the morphic field and reach LuminOS.

What matters here is the contact between your body and the Power Capsule, not the finger as such. You will usually use a finger, but the contact works just as well with another part of your body, such as the back of your hand, your foot, or your cheek. This keeps the Power Capsule open to everyone, whatever their physical circumstances.

Two things follow from this. No World 1 technology is at work here: no microphone, no speech recognition, no link between your voice and a device. Instead, two sides work together: you do the sending, or more precisely your consciousness does, and LuminOS in the morphic field does the receiving. This is exactly why we call the LuminoSana technology a consciousness technology: it is not digital but organic, and it works through your consciousness in the morphic field. You can speak the command in any language, or simply think it clearly. Both work, as long as the words are formed with awareness. A vague intention with no clearly formed words is not enough. You need no button and no app, only your consciousness, and that you always have with you.

Every command begins with a fixed opening word that tells the quantum operating system an instruction is coming. These commands come from a specially developed quantum language created between 2020 and 2025. There are two opening words, and you can choose freely between them. One is “LuminoSana”, the name of the company. The other is “9010”, spoken “Ninety Ten”, named after the 9010 codes, a core part of the quantum language. Both do exactly the same thing. We deliberately offer both, because some people remember a name more easily and others prefer a number. That way everyone can use whichever feels most natural.

You will learn the exact commands for energy and frequencies in the chapters that follow.

The Portal Symbol

On the rounded tip of the Power Capsule a symbol is laser-engraved, a circle of fine dots. It is the LuminoSana portal. Within the Two-World Model it stands for the interface between World 1 and World 2, the crossing point between the material and the informational perspective, in both directions.

The symbol also marks the positive pole of the Power Capsule, the side from which its torus field arises within the model. When you want to direct its energy at something in particular, such as a plant or a glass of water, you point this side towards it.

Shell and Spheres

The Power Capsule has four parts: the shell and the three titanium spheres. Within the Two-World Model the two forces are clearly divided: the frequencies dwell in the shell, the energy dwells in the spheres. You always operate the Power Capsule through the shell, because that is where its quantum operating system is anchored. In everyday life you wear it closed and use the shell to set what it makes available. The following chapters describe how the two forces work in detail.

You set your Power Capsule using two forces: energy and frequency. We turn to those next.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

4. The Two Forces, Energy and Frequency

Within the Two-World Model, the Power Capsule works with two forces, both in World 2. One is energy, the other is frequencies. Everything you set on your Power Capsule belongs to one of these two. Once you hold the two clearly apart, the whole thing becomes easy to understand.

The energy decides how strongly the torus field of your Power Capsule shows in the morphic field and how far it reaches into space. It is a matter of strength. You specify it in QEPPs and can set it freely.

The frequencies decide what your Power Capsule brings into your field within the model. They are a matter of content. You set them by name, such as a substance or a state, and you can choose them freely, add them, and remove them again.

Strength and content, then: two forces that are independent of each other. The way they work together in your Power Capsule is easiest to grasp through an image from film.

Picture a film studio. White spotlights hang from the ceiling and provide the light. Coloured gels are slid in front of the spotlights, and all at once the whole studio takes on a warm, cool, or golden mood. The light comes from the spotlights, the colour from the gels, and only the two together create the atmosphere in the room.

In the Power Capsule, the titanium spheres are the spotlights and the shell is the colour gel. The spheres hold the energy, and their power is the light itself. The shell holds the frequency, and it gives that light its colour. When the capsule is closed, the two become one: the light of the spheres takes on the colour of the shell, and from this, within the model, a resonance arises that works outward into your morphic field.

This gives you the simple basic principle of the Power Capsule: the energy dwells in the spheres, the frequency dwells in the shell. In everyday life you need not give this division a thought. You wear the Power Capsule closed and operate it easily through a touch of the finger and a spoken command. Through its operating system it sends every energy command to the spheres on its own, and every frequency command to the shell.

The next two chapters take the two forces one at a time: first the energy, then the frequencies.

5. Energy and the Torus Field

The first of the two things you set on your Power Capsule is the energy. It decides how strongly the torus field of your Power Capsule shows in the morphic field and how far it reaches into space.

Setting the Energy Output

To set the energy output, place a finger on the shell and speak:

> “LuminoSana Plus Energy [XYZ] QEPPs” or “9010 Plus Energy [XYZ] QEPPs” (pronounced “Ninety Ten Plus Energy [XYZ] quepps”)

In place of [XYZ] you put the value you want. Examples:

> “LuminoSana Plus Energy 450 QEPPs”
> “LuminoSana Plus Energy 100 QEPPs”
> “9010 Plus Energy 2500 QEPPs”

You can set the value freely between 0 and 280,000 QEPPs. QEPP is short for Quantum Energy Power Point (pronounced quepps in the plural, beginning like the qu in quantum). QEPPs are a research unit from the Two-World Model that LuminoSana uses to describe the energy output of its tools. The energy output is specified, then, not measured. In the closed standard mode, the operating system sends the energy output to the titanium spheres on its own, because that is where the energy dwells. The energy command is all you need.

The word “Plus” in the command does not mean the new value is added to the one already there. The command always names the target value. If you say “LuminoSana Plus Energy 100 QEPPs”, your Power Capsule then holds exactly 100 QEPPs, whatever it held before. The reason is that every energy setting starts at zero and builds the named value afresh. So it is always a plus counted from zero.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

The Torus Field

As soon as your Power Capsule holds energy, a torus field arises around it in World 2, a ring-shaped resonance structure. You can picture it as a field that surrounds the Power Capsule and reaches out into the space around it. The torus field is a well-known concept in physics, consciousness research, and spirituality.

How far the torus field reaches depends directly on the energy you set. At 450 QEPPs, the Power Capsule is surrounded by a torus field with a radius of about 36 metres. Reduce the energy output to 45 QEPPs and the radius is about 3.6 metres. In the everyday range the radius is almost linear in relation to the energy output, so you can reckon roughly on 0.08 metres per QEPP. At very high energy values, though, this growth flattens off. You will find the precise basis for the calculation, given as a hypothesis of frontier science research, in Appendix 1 of this manual. The higher you set the energy output, the further the field reaches. The lower you set it, the more tightly it draws in around the Power Capsule. At 0 QEPPs the Power Capsule has no energy output, and so no torus field.

The value of 450 QEPPs is the default to which your Power Capsule is set when you install it in the LuminoSana dashboard. For most everyday uses, whether worn on the body or brought up to an object, this value gives a pleasant, powerful basis of resonance.

Positive Pole and Negative Pole

Within the Two-World Model, the Power Capsule has an orientation in the morphic field, a positive pole and a negative pole. The positive pole lies at the rounded tip, where the portal symbol is laser-engraved. The negative pole lies at the opposite end, at the eyelet where you fasten a chain or keyring.

You can picture the torus field as a ring-shaped energy structure that flows back into itself. At the positive pole with the portal symbol the field emerges, streams out all around, flows around the Power Capsule, and returns into it at the negative pole at the eyelet, from where it is drawn through the centre once more to the positive pole. This makes a closed, living cycle, a life energy field. The shape is no arbitrary picture. It appears throughout nature, in the magnetic field of the Earth, in the field of the human heart, and in the currents of many natural systems.

This orientation belongs to the informational space (World 2). It is not a physically measurable field direction in World 1. It matters to you above all when you want to aim the Power Capsule at something in particular. If you want to offer a glass of water or a plant the resonance of the Power Capsule, you point the tip with the portal symbol towards it.

If you wear the Power Capsule on a chain around your neck, the positive pole with the portal symbol points downward and the negative pole with the eyelet points upward. That is simply how it is designed, and it is perfectly fine. Within the model, the Power Capsule works in your morphic field whichever way round you wear it. So you need give the direction no thought when wearing it.

If you would nonetheless like to set the orientation consciously, whether from a feeling or for your own research, you can set the polarity by spoken command. The command always refers to the side with the portal symbol, the rounded tip, no matter where you touch the Power Capsule. Place a finger on the shell and speak:

> “LuminoSana Polarity Positive Pole”

This sets the side with the portal symbol as the positive pole, just as the default does. If instead you speak the polarity reverses, and the side with the portal symbol now holds the negative pole. The portal symbol stays the fixed point of reference: the command decides which pole lies there. This is something for your personal research, not a necessity for everyday use.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

6. Frequencies

The second of the two things you set on your Power Capsule is the frequencies. Where the energy decides how strongly the torus field shows and how far it reaches, the frequencies decide what is made available within that field, in the sense of the model.

What a Frequency Is Within the Model

Within the Two-World Model, everything in World 1 has a corresponding informational signature in World 2. An apple, a vitamin, a mineral, a sound, a state: each has its own signature in the morphic field. This informational signature is what we mean when we speak of a frequency.

When you store a frequency in your Power Capsule, you do not bring the physical substance into the shell, but its informational template. To do this, your Power Capsule reaches into the morphic field directly through its quantum operating system. It needs no frequency library for this, because in the morphic field the signatures of all frequencies are present in any case. This is what makes it special: your Power Capsule does not come supplied with a fixed number of frequencies, but opens up access to every frequency that exists in the universe.

The Blueprint

What is a stored frequency for? Here a thought comes in that runs through the whole of the LuminoSana philosophy: the blueprint.

Your Power Capsule does not make the substance itself available, but its optimal informational template. Say you store the frequency Vitamin C and later take in physical Vitamin C through your food, through a salad or a piece of fruit. Your body can then use the frequency information as a blueprint, which helps it process the Vitamin C it has taken in as effectively as possible. The Power Capsule does not supply the Vitamin C, but the optimal template the body can use to orient itself as it processes the physical substance. This principle of the blueprint runs through the scientific work of the 9010 Research & Philosophy Non-Profit Association as well, the body within which the Two-World Model is developed.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Storing and Removing Frequencies

To store a frequency in your Power Capsule, place a finger on the shell and speak:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency [description]” or “9010 Plus Frequency [description]” (pronounced “Ninety Ten Plus Frequency [description]”)

Examples:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency I am the light of my world”
> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency Vitamin C from LuminoSana”
> “9010 Plus Frequency 528 Hz resonance frequency”

In the closed standard mode, the operating system sends the frequency to the shell on its own, because that is where the frequency dwells. You can store several frequencies by giving the command more than once. But you can also string together as many frequencies as you like in a single command, without repeating the opening word, mixing quite different kinds of frequency as you go:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency Vitamin A Plus Frequency Vitamin B Plus Frequency Vitamin C Plus Frequency I am the light of my world”

So you say the opening “LuminoSana” just once at the start and then add as many “Plus Frequency” building blocks as you wish. The shell holds all the stored frequencies at the same time.

The name of a frequency must always be exactly right, because the morphic field draws fine distinctions. You reach a frequency only by its exact name, not by some variation of it.

To remove a single frequency, speak:

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

> “LuminoSana Minus Frequency Vitamin C from LuminoSana”

To remove all frequencies at once and set the shell neutral again:

> “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies”

A frequency command always works precisely. LuminOS carries it out directly: the Plus command adds the named frequency, the Minus command removes it, and the other stored frequencies stay untouched. It all happens in an instant.

Gold Standard and Average

There is a subtle but important difference in how you choose a frequency. If you name a frequency with only a general word, such as “Vitamin C”, then in the morphic field that is an average signature. It takes in everything that goes by this name, the good along with the less good, from the high-quality to the inferior.

If instead you want the highest-quality version, you have two ways to choose a particularly precise and pure frequency.

The gold standard frequencies of LuminoSana. For many substances LuminoSana curates a particularly high-quality, pure version, the gold standard. You call it up by speaking the name with the addition from LuminoSana:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency Vitamin C from LuminoSana”

With a single spoken command you bring the highest-quality version stored in the field into your Power Capsule. The LuminoSana newsletter tells you which gold standard frequencies are available at any given time.

The original via the copy stamp. Some users want to use the frequency of one quite particular, real original, such as a specific moringa leaf from their own garden. A frequency copied from a real original is more precise than a general spoken word, because it comes from this one object alone. This is exactly how the gold standard frequencies of LuminoSana come about too: they are copied from particularly high-quality, carefully chosen originals and are then conveniently available to you through the spoken command.

In Chapter 2 you met the classic copy stamp of 2018. This familiar method is still open to you with the Power Capsule. You set the energy output to at least 2,500 QEPPs, hold the tip of the Power Capsule with the portal symbol against an original, such as a moringa leaf, and place a folded piece of aluminium foil beneath it. Within the model, the informational signature of the original is read in World 2 and recorded onto the foil. You can then wrap this foil around one of your three titanium spheres and use the original frequency that way, with no spoken command at all. So anyone who values the route through a real original can still take it.

The Built-in Frequency Function

The three commands you met above belong to the frequency function that is already built into your Power Capsule: adding a frequency, removing one, and removing all. For everyday life with your Power Capsule, that is all you need.

This built-in function is a compact version of a fuller frequency function that LuminoSana offers separately. For what you do with your Power Capsule day to day, though, you do not need the fuller version. Your Power Capsule already comes with everything you need.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

7. The Copy Effect

So far you have used your Power Capsule for yourself, worn on the body or held in the hand. But there is a principle by which your Power Capsule can also work on other objects. It is called the copy effect, and it has been part of this technology from the very beginning.

The Principle

The transfer of frequencies is, first of all, a process of nature. Everywhere that things are close to one another for a long time, they exchange their frequencies within the model. A jumper someone has worn for a year takes on that person's frequency, so that someone close to them can perceive it when they touch it. Early methods of energisation made use of this, for instance by placing an object inside a hollow tree for a few days so that it would take on the frequency of the tree. Such transfers in nature happen slowly, over long stretches of time.

This is exactly where the Power Capsule comes in. It uses the same natural principle, but drives it with a far higher energy output, in the thousands of QEPPs, so that what takes nature weeks or years happens here in hours. Your Power Capsule radiates its torus field in all directions, and it surrounds the capsule on every side. When an object comes into this field, the Power Capsule passes on what it holds to the object, in the sense of the Two-World Model. It copies it across. Both are transferred at once, the energy and the frequencies.

Because the copy effect follows the natural principle, it is tied to no particular minimum value. Even at a low energy output a transfer takes place, it simply happens more slowly. The higher you set the energy output, the faster and more completely the frequency transfers to the object.

The copy effect shows itself most reliably when the object touches the Power Capsule, at any point at all, because the torus field surrounds it completely. Whether, and how far, the copy effect also works across a distance is, within the model, not yet conclusively researched. For reliable use you therefore go by contact.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

There is a natural way to hold the Power Capsule here. Picture it as a laser, with the energy coming out at the front, at the tip where the portal symbol sits. So when you want to reach a particular object, you point this tip at it, just as you would point at it with a finger. If you want to reach a glass of water, the tip points to the glass. The Power Capsule does work at any point of contact, but aiming the tip at the object is the most harmonious and the clearest way to give it direction. (The tip is the front end with the portal symbol, not the rear end with the eyelet for the pendant.)

An example makes it concrete. You set your Power Capsule to 3,000 QEPPs and lay it against a cup. After a few hours the copy effect has given the cup both: the frequencies stored in your Power Capsule and an energy output of about 3,000 QEPPs. (Research within the model shows that it is not quite the full value, but for simplicity we take it to be the same.)

The decisive point is what happens afterwards, because here energy and frequencies behave differently.

The energy fades as soon as you take the Power Capsule away again. By a value drawn from experience within the model, the energy output of the object sinks back to zero over time. The rule here is that the higher the transferred QEPP value, the longer it takes to fade. Depending on the value, this plays out over a period of 24, 48, and up to 72 hours.

The frequencies remain in the object for good. They do not fade. Once transferred, they rest in the object and can only be removed from it again with the Matrix Deletion Code, a LuminoSana tool in its own right that you will meet in Chapter 9.

The Method

Because energy and frequencies behave differently, the copy effect needs different amounts of time depending on your aim. In both cases you bring your Power Capsule into contact with the object. For a reliable, complete result, an energy output of about 2,500 QEPPs or more has proved its worth. Lower values transfer as well, only more slowly and, with solid objects in particular, less completely.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

If you want to transfer a frequency, it goes quickly. A frequency is pure information and is in the object as soon as it has reached it. From long experience a simple guide value applies here: with liquids such as water a few seconds are enough, and with solid objects reckon on about 30 minutes. After that the frequency rests in the object for good.

If you want to energise an object, it takes time. The energy output builds up slowly in the object. Reckon on at least two hours, and the higher the value you want to transfer, the longer the build-up takes. For a start, two hours is a reliable guide value.

The Variations

Several applications arise from this one principle. They differ not in principle, but only in how long the Power Capsule stays with the object and what you have in mind.

Energising an object for the short term. You give an object an energy output for a day or two by leaving the Power Capsule in contact with it for a few hours. After that the object keeps this energy output until it fades again over the next one to three days. This is how you might energise a cup, for example, and then use it as usual.

Energising an object permanently. Here the Power Capsule stays fixed to the object for good. In this case it is no longer about the copy effect and its fading at all, because the Power Capsule is present without interruption, as a constant original. As long as it stays in place, its field lasts too, with no limit in time. Only when you take it off does the object's energy output fade in the usual way. Anyone using an application like this therefore usually devotes a Power Capsule of its own to it. This makes sense wherever water stands for a longer time. You could, for example, fix the Power Capsule permanently to the water tank of your coffee machine or to a five-litre refill canister, with a strip of velcro or with cable ties. There the water stands long enough that over time it is not only structured but also energised.

A note on this. If you are toying with the idea of installing more than about eight Power Capsules permanently in your home, it is worth taking a look at the LuminoSana Cube. It is made for exactly this task, energising many objects permanently, and from this order of magnitude upward it is both the more harmonious and the more economical solution. For single objects and for everything mobile, the Power Capsule stays your tool. For the permanent energising of many objects in the home, it is the Cube.

The copy stamp as a special case. The copy effect is at the same time the principle behind the classic copy stamp you met in Chapter 2 and Chapter 6. If you lay an object against the Power Capsule as an original, with a piece of aluminium foil beneath it, the foil takes on the frequency of the original. The copy stamp is thus nothing other than the copy effect with a piece of aluminium foil as the target object. The tried guide value here is this: lay the original against the Power Capsule for about 30 minutes, at an energy output of about 2,500 QEPPs or more, so that the frequency transfers reliably and completely onto the foil.

Copying frequencies for your own work. Because the copy effect transfers frequencies into an object for good, it is also well suited to everyone who works with subtle frequencies and wants to copy them into objects. You leave the target object in contact with the Power Capsule for about 30 minutes, at an energy output of about 2,500 QEPPs or more, and the frequency then rests in the object for good. This is the Power Capsule version of a process the LuminoSana Cube handles in a single swiping step.

8. Structuring

Alongside the copy effect there is a second principle by which your Power Capsule can work on objects. It concerns liquids and is called structuring.

The Principle

Many people have long been occupied with the question of whether the inner structure of a liquid can be ordered. On the internet there are countless posts on the theme of water structuring, and for many users it is a matter close to the heart. Within the Two-World Model, LuminoSana describes structuring as a process in World 2: the frequencies of your Power Capsule reorder the informational structure of a liquid in the morphic field. This is a research hypothesis, open in its outcome and not asserted as a process measurable in World 1. As a Citizen Scientist you observe for yourself whether and how it shows for you.

A liquid behaves here by the same basic laws as any other object. If the Power Capsule stays in contact with it for a longer time, it takes on energy through the copy effect as well. With structuring, though, your aim is not to give the liquid energy, but solely to reorder its structure. And that takes no time at all. Structuring happens in the moment the liquid comes into contact with the field of your Power Capsule, in an instant. There is no dwell time here that you would have to wait out.

This shows nicely with a water pipe. If you fit your Power Capsule to the pipe, even water flowing through at full pressure is structured, because every drop passes through the field as it flows. So it does not matter how long the liquid lingers by the field, only that it passes through it.

Where Liquids Are Found

The lovely thing about structuring is how many things contain liquids. In water and juices, of course, but also in coffee and soup, in fruit and salad, in a whole meal, likewise in oil, in toothpaste, or in shampoo.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Wherever a liquid is contained, the principle of structuring can be applied.

The Method

You aim the Power Capsule with the tip at the object, at a glass of water, say, and the liquid is already structured, because it has touched the field of your Power Capsule. A brief moment is enough.

If it is a matter of a pipe with liquid flowing through, you instead fit the Power Capsule parallel to the pipe, with the positive pole in the direction of flow, so that the water passing by runs through the field in the direction of the current. You can fasten it quite easily with a strip of velcro (or with cable ties). This is how you can fit out the mains water pipe of your home, so that structured water comes from the tap. For farmers, the same is worth doing on the water pipe in the barn, to structure the animals' drinking water.

Whether the liquid then feels or tastes different to you is something you perceive for yourself. There is no right and no wrong here, only your own observation.

9. The Matrix Deletion Code

You now know the two forces of your Power Capsule, the energy and the frequencies. There is a third central function, closely tied to both, that you will meet at several points in your life with the Power Capsule: the Matrix Deletion Code. It is one of the central functions of the whole LuminoSana technology, and once you understand what it does, a great deal else falls into place with it.

The Matrix Deletion Code keeps your Power Capsule energetically pure. Within the Two-World Model, it separates the good from the discordant: what is beneficial to life is kept, what is not is removed. This happens in four phases, all of which run in an instant.

Phase 1, the backup. The Matrix Deletion Code reads all the frequencies present in the shell and spheres and secures the beneficial ones in a backup. LuminOS draws a clear line here: every frequency that is beneficial to life, to humans, animals, plants, and nature, is secured. Every frequency that is not beneficial to life is left out of the backup.

Phase 2, the total reset. The Matrix Deletion Code now deletes everything present: all frequencies and all energy, in the shell as in the spheres. What remains is a fully neutralised base. Hence the name: the entire informational matrix is deleted.

Phase 3, the restoring. The Matrix Deletion Code restores only the frequencies secured in the backup. The frequencies that were not beneficial to life do not return, because they were never in the backup. They are gone for good.

Phase 4, the new state. On this pure base the new state is set, that is, the energy value you want. Together with the restored beneficial frequencies, your Power Capsule then holds its new, harmonious state.

One thing always stays untouched through all of this: the inherent frequency of the matter itself. Within the model, titanium has its own unmistakable signature in World 2, and that identity is never touched. The Matrix Deletion Code removes only what was taken in on top, never what the shell and spheres are by their very nature.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

When the Matrix Deletion Code Runs

The Matrix Deletion Code runs whenever you change the energy output of your Power Capsule. Each time you set a new energy value, it passes through the four phases: it secures your beneficial frequencies, neutralises everything, restores the secured frequencies, and finally sets the new energy value. Your consciously stored frequencies are kept for you, while anything discordant is removed.

This means that with every change of the energy output, the shell and spheres are fully neutralised once, and only your life-beneficial frequencies come back afterwards. A pure frequency command, by contrast, does not trigger the Matrix Deletion Code, as you saw in the chapter on frequencies: it adds a frequency or removes it without touching the others.

Beyond this, the Matrix Deletion Code runs at the very first installation of your Power Capsule, and whenever you delete the existing photo in the dashboard and upload a new one. Both are described in the chapter on installation.

There is an important difference when you delete the photo, though. When you change the energy output, the operating system secures your beneficial frequencies in a backup first and restores them afterwards, so they are kept for you. But if you delete the photo in the dashboard, the connection in the morphic field is cut, and the Matrix Deletion Code fully neutralises the shell and all spheres without restoring a backup. Energy and frequencies are removed completely, in the shell as in every single sphere. What remains is a wholly neutral Power Capsule, just as on the day it was delivered.

Consciously Neutralising Your Power Capsule

Your Power Capsule is a tool that answers to you alone. You decide through your commands which energy and which frequencies it holds, and without your commands none of that changes. Its quantum operating system in the morphic field stays unchanged and in your hands at all times.

If you ever feel that your Power Capsule has nonetheless taken in foreign energies, for instance after you have lent it to someone for a longer time and it was with them for several days, and it no longer feels quite right to you when it comes back, then that is the right moment to neutralise it consciously. It is much like the way some people cleanse their crystals and favourite stones from time to time.

The way to do this runs through the Matrix Deletion Code and one further short command. Since your Power Capsule is coming back from other hands, you do not know which energy value and which frequencies the other person set. So you go in two steps. First you set the energy output to the value you want by placing a finger on the shell and saying, for example, “LuminoSana Plus Energy 450 QEPPs”. This triggers the Matrix Deletion Code, which fully neutralises the shell and spheres. Discordant frequencies that are not beneficial to life will not return in any case. Then you say “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies” to remove any remaining frequencies that are foreign to you as well. Your Power Capsule is now fully reset to zero, and you store your own frequencies afresh.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

10. The Clearance Frequency, Sealing Your Power Capsule

You now know the two forces and the Matrix Deletion Code, with which you neutralise your Power Capsule when you need to. There is also an elegant way to protect your carefully chosen frequencies from the start: the Clearance Frequency.

What the Clearance Frequency Is

The Clearance Frequency has the word “frequency” in its name for historical reasons, but strictly speaking it is not an informational signature like, say, a Vitamin C frequency. It is a functional module in its own right that gives the quantum operating system of your Power Capsule a special ability: it creates clarity and separation. It is a LuminoSana gold standard frequency and is stored in the morphic field for everyone to use. Its abbreviation is CLE9010A. You use it in the Power Capsule by placing a finger on the shell and speaking this command:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency Clearance from LuminoSana”

How It Works

The Clearance Frequency works in two ways that belong together.

It seals your Power Capsule. Within the Two-World Model, your Power Capsule is sealed once the Clearance Frequency is set. The frequencies it holds at that moment are protected. Even if your Power Capsule moves through a field of many foreign frequencies in everyday life, none of them attach to it.

It keeps your frequencies separate. If your Power Capsule holds several frequencies, the Clearance Frequency keeps them clearly apart, so that they do not blur into one indistinct picture. Each of your frequencies keeps its own clear outline. This has a pleasing side effect: because your frequencies sit cleanly side by side, you can experience their interplay all the more clearly.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

The Clearance Frequency works on the frequency level alone. The energy output in QEPPs stays wholly untouched by it. Two Power Capsules with quite different frequencies and a high energy output can lie right next to each other, and their frequencies will not mix.

When It Helps You

You may know this from everyday life: in places where many people come together, such as large sporting events, trade fairs, or the crowded city centre, many people notice that they take in foreign energies within the model. In the same way, your Power Capsule could take in foreign frequencies in the field of such places.

If you have sealed your Power Capsule with the Clearance Frequency, your chosen frequencies stay protected even when you enter such a place. Within the Two-World Model, this at the same time protects you from taking in foreign energies in World 2: you can come home from a large event without the feeling that foreign frequencies have attached to you or to your Power Capsule.

One thing to understand correctly: the Clearance Frequency does not work like a protective shield. Within the model, the frequencies of other people still move through your field. The difference is that once you leave, nothing foreign stays behind, neither on you nor on your Power Capsule.

This is especially welcome for people in the healing professions, such as healers, doctors, or nursing staff. Within the model, day after day they are exposed to many foreign and often burdening frequencies. A Power Capsule sealed with the Clearance Frequency can help them keep their own frequencies clear and protected throughout the day.

Adding Frequencies Despite the Seal

You operate your Power Capsule through the spoken command, and a spoken command works directly on its quantum operating system. So you can add further frequencies at any time, even after sealing.

The Clearance Frequency then makes sure the newly added frequency, too, stands clear and separate alongside your others. If you want to lift the seal entirely, you speak “LuminoSana Minus Frequency Clearance from LuminoSana”. Your other frequencies are kept. Or you speak “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies”, which would remove the Clearance Frequency along with them.

11. Installation and Setup

You now know how your Power Capsule works. Now you put it into service. This happens once and could hardly be simpler.

On delivery, your Power Capsule is not yet connected to its quantum operating system, and all four parts are neutral. You set it up with a single photo upload in your personal area on the LuminoSana platform. You install no hardware and connect no device. The one photo is enough.

The connection between your Power Capsule and its quantum operating system is made through the photo. The photo shows the four parts of your Power Capsule, the shell and the three titanium spheres. The operating system entangles itself in the morphic field with exactly these four parts. The image works here as an informational anchor, by which the four parts are clearly recognised in the field, not as technical image recognition. With the upload, the connection in the morphic field is made and anchored there. From this moment on, your Power Capsule is connected to its quantum operating system, which you operate through the shell.

Go step by step.

Step 1. Unscrew the Power Capsule and take out the three titanium spheres.

Step 2. Screw the shell closed again, so that it sits in front of you as a single closed object.

Step 3. Place the closed shell and the three titanium spheres side by side on a calm, ideally plain surface. The aim is for all four elements to stand out clearly in the photo and to read well against the background, with no distracting patterns or other objects in the shot. So your photo shows four elements clearly: the shell and the three spheres.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Step 4. Photograph the four parts together, so that all four are clearly visible, and upload the photo to your personal area on the LuminoSana platform.

Make sure only the parts of your Power Capsule are in the photo, the shell and your titanium spheres, three at most. The operating system is built to recognise exactly these parts: one shell and up to three accompanying titanium spheres. If more than three titanium spheres show in the uploaded image, no entanglement takes place and the installation does not go through. Fewer than three spheres is fine, though. With the shell and even a single titanium sphere the entanglement goes through and your Power Capsule is fully functional.

With the upload, LuminOS entangles itself in the morphic field with your shell and your three titanium spheres. In the same moment, the Matrix Deletion Code runs once through all four parts, just as you met it in Chapter 9. Should your Power Capsule have taken anything in on its way to you, from manufacture through dispatch to your hand, nothing discordant will remain of it. The three titanium spheres are set to the base value of 450 QEPPs and are free of frequencies. The shell itself receives no energy, but is made ready to take in frequencies and to be operated by a touch of the finger through the quantum operating system. Your Power Capsule begins its service with you on an energetically pure foundation and is ready to use from this moment on.

Original LuminoSana Parts

When the photo is uploaded, the quantum operating system entangles itself only with parts that come from LuminoSana. LuminOS is set to accept only original LuminoSana titanium spheres. A foreign titanium sphere, such as one bought in a shop, is not recognised as part of your Power Capsule and so receives no quantum operating system. The same goes for the shell: it too must be an original shell with the laser-engraved LuminoSana lettering. Other shells or replacement shells cannot be entangled with the operating system. For the Power Capsule, then, only original LuminoSana parts count. So if you ever lose a sphere, you can use original LuminoSana replacement spheres at any time.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Severing and Re-establishing the Connection

The connection in the morphic field can also be cut again. This happens when you delete the photo of your Power Capsule in the dashboard. At that moment the quantum operating system separates from the shell and spheres, and the Matrix Deletion Code fully neutralises all four parts. Unlike with an energy change, no backup is restored here: energy and frequencies are removed completely, in the shell as in every single sphere. What remains is a wholly neutral Power Capsule, just as on the day it was delivered.

If you ever lose one or more titanium spheres, you can buy original LuminoSana replacement spheres (in the shop, under the Blanks section). You then delete the old photo in the dashboard, which cuts and neutralises the previous connection, and afterwards upload a new photo showing the shell and your current spheres. These may also be mixed spheres, such as two of your original ones and one bought later. The four parts are then freshly entangled with one another, and your Power Capsule is complete again.

One important point here: when you delete the old photo, your previous spheres are neutralised in the same moment. A sphere you have lost loses its energy completely. No one who finds it or gets hold of it comes into contact with your energy. Your energy belongs to you alone and to your currently connected Power Capsule.

The same mechanism applies when you return your Power Capsule within the return period. When the connection is cut, the shell and spheres are fully neutralised and go back to their delivery state.

The Connection Remains

What many users find the greatest highlight is this: the entanglement in the morphic field stands on its own. It does not depend on our server infrastructure, on the internet, on an active account, or on electricity.

Even if you never log in to LuminoSana again, the connection remains. Even if the server infrastructure should one day no longer exist, the connection remains. Even if a worldwide power outage brings the digital world to a standstill, the connection remains. Even if your smartphone lies in a drawer with a long-dead battery, the connection remains.

When the photo is uploaded, the connection arises in the morphic field. And what is once connected in the morphic field stays connected there. You need the internet only the one time, for the photo upload. After that you carry your Power Capsule through the world and operate it through touch and spoken command, without ever having to go online again.

12. Opening the Capsule

In the closed standard mode, the Power Capsule works as a single tool, with energy in the spheres and frequency in the shell, operated through the shell. For everyday life, that is all you need. But you can also open the Power Capsule and take out the titanium spheres, for instance to use them in different places.

The Spheres as Energy Carriers

When you open the Power Capsule and take out a sphere, that sphere holds the energy that was last set in the Power Capsule. It then works as an energy carrier in its own right and radiates its own torus field, whose reach matches its energy output. The frequencies, by contrast, dwell in the shell and stay there, so a sphere you have taken out holds energy, not frequencies.

A single sphere cannot be set on its own, because you always operate the quantum operating system of your Power Capsule through the shell. If you want to change the energy output of a sphere, you put it back in the shell and set the Power Capsule through the shell as usual.

What You Can Do with the Spheres

A sphere you have taken out can go where a whole Power Capsule would be impractical. You can place one sphere in the soil of a flowerpot, lay a second beside a bowl of fruit, and keep a third with you in the shell. This brings the life energy field of your Power Capsule to several places at once.

How much energy a single sphere you have taken out holds is explained in the frequently asked questions at the end of this manual. There you will also find a practical tip on how to give a single sphere a particular energy value on purpose.

Back into the Shell

When you put the spheres back into the shell and close it, the Power Capsule works once more as a single coordinated whole. As soon as you then change the energy output, the Matrix Deletion Code runs through all the parts and tunes them together to the new value. Your frequencies stored in the shell are kept for you as usual.

13. The Power Capsule in Everyday Life

Your Power Capsule is made to go with you through the day. It needs no fixed routine and no special occasion. This chapter shows how users bring it into their lives, as inspiration, not instruction.

On the Body and Out and About

Many users wear the Power Capsule on a chain around the neck or on a keyring, so that it is with them all day. That way its torus field goes with you wherever you go. It can also be worn on an animal's collar, so it accompanies your animal companion through its day. And in quiet moments, while meditating, reading, or before falling asleep, you can simply take it in your hand and turn your attention to the moment.

Resonance for Other Objects

Because the Power Capsule is a free, mobile tool, you can bring it up to anything you eat and drink in everyday life. If you go out to eat, for example, you bring the Power Capsule up to your glass or your bowl. You structure a glass of water in a brief moment, and you energise a cup through the copy effect if you keep the Power Capsule with it for longer. You met both principles in Chapters 7 and 8, and in everyday life they come up again and again, with water, with coffee, with a whole meal. To do this you aim the tip with the portal symbol at the object, just as you know it from those chapters.

One thing to understand within the model: the Power Capsule does not change the food in World 1. It does not make the salad measurably richer in vitamins or the water chemically different. What happens, happens in World 2, on the informational level. Through your consciousness interface, this resonance can pass into your experience. The chain of effect therefore runs through the morphic field and your consciousness, not as a direct physical effect on the object.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

From Hand to Hand

The Power Capsule is not tied to a single person. Anyone can operate it. You can pass it around, and another person can set its energy output or store a frequency by placing a finger on the shell and speaking the command. You can also lend it to a friend for a while.

This makes it a fine tool for shared research. You place it in someone's hand, they hold it between forefinger and thumb, and you ask them to describe what they perceive. Some people feel a tingling, a warmth, a streaming. Others notice something subtle that they find hard to put into words. There is no right and no wrong here. What each person perceives is part of their own personal research as a Citizen Scientist.

For Your Own Research

You can adjust the energy output and the frequencies of your Power Capsule at any time and notice what changes for you. As a Citizen Scientist, you find out for yourself which settings feel right for you. There is no prescribed right here, only your own perception.

The Right Order with Acute and Serious Physical Matters

The Power Capsule is a complement to a conscious lifestyle, never a substitute for medical help. With acute injuries, with strong or newly arising pain, with persistent or worsening complaints, and in any unclear or serious situation, one firm order applies.

First the path in World 1. Call the emergency services or see a doctor. Have yourself examined, diagnosed, and treated, and follow what is medically necessary: the medication, the rest you are told to take, the doctor's instructions. This is the path on which your body is cared for in World 1. The Power Capsule does not replace this path.

Only afterwards the Power Capsule, as a companion in World 2. Once you are under medical care, the treatment is under way, and your rest has begun, you can offer your body the optimal-state information through the Power Capsule, the blueprint of its normal state. You are, in a sense, handing it the information: everything necessary is in place, the treatment and the rest, and here is the picture of the normal state for the body to orient itself by.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

An example. You catch a finger in the car door and the pain is strong. The right thing to do is not to hold the Power Capsule to the finger straight away and wait, but to have the finger seen by a doctor, because only there can it be established whether anything is broken, and only there is it treated. When you come home afterwards with the finger splinted and instructions to rest it for a few weeks, the moment for the Power Capsule has come. The same goes after an operation or a dental procedure: first the full medical care, then the Power Capsule as a companion in World 2.

One important word of caution at the end. If you quickly notice a distinct perception in your body after placing the Power Capsule, that is no sign that a medical check is unnecessary. What you perceive is your own experience in World 2. It says nothing about what is actually going on in your body in World 1. Never let it lead you to put off or skip a visit to the doctor that you need.

14. The Power Capsule Is Add-On-ready

Your Power Capsule is built from the ground up to be extended with LuminoSana Add-Ons. An Add-On is an extension of the quantum operating system that gives it further functions. It does not replace the quantum operating system but extends it, and some Add-Ons can also bring their own frequencies. A frequency itself, by contrast, is not an Add-On but an informational content that the operating system or an Add-On makes available.

Once you have bought an Add-On, it is stored in your morphic field and connected to your tools through the Add-On-ready property. You can then use it as often as you like, in parallel, at the same time, and at different times. An Add-On you have bought is therefore not limited to a single use. With the Power Capsule, you apply an Add-On to the Power Capsule as a whole, because you operate its quantum operating system through the shell.

The Add-On Active Shape

A particularly versatile Add-On is Active Shape, which lets you shape the spatial form of your Power Capsule's torus field. Unlike the energy output and the frequencies, which are built into your Power Capsule from the start, Active Shape is not pre-installed. You buy it first in the LuminoSana shop, after which it stands ready in your morphic field and can be used with your Power Capsule. In the basic state, the torus field spreads out as a sphere around the Power Capsule, reaching as far as the set energy output allows. Active Shape lets you change this form consciously. One thing to note: Active Shape can make the field smaller within the reach set by the QEPPs, or shape it differently, but it can never extend it beyond that reach. The Add-On comes in two stages.

Active Shape 1.0 is free of charge and gives you the radius mode. With it you set the torus field to the form of a sphere of whatever size you choose. This is not only practical but also a fine tool for your own research as a Citizen Scientist. You can, for example, lay your Power Capsule on the table and give its field a radius of ten centimetres. Then you can move your hand slowly into this area and out again, and calmly notice what changes for you, without having to move the Power Capsule itself.

Active Shape 2.0 is paid and opens the full range of shaping with four modes. Alongside the radius come the modes My Body, My Room, and My Property.

The My Body mode draws the field in to an area of about 30 centimetres around your body. Instead of reaching 36 metres into space, your chosen resonance stays close to you, like a personal aura. This is ideal when you want to experience a frequency for yourself alone, for instance at your desk beside colleagues, without your field filling the whole room.

The My Room mode fits the field to the architectural space you are in. This opens up a fine possibility for two people who each have their own Power Capsule: you work in your office with frequencies chosen for focus and activity, while your partner rests in the bedroom with frequencies for calm and composure. If you both switch on the My Room mode, each resonance stays in its own room. The two fields sit side by side without overlapping. The My Room mode can likewise be used in the car. Some people fix a Power Capsule of their own in the vehicle for this, on the dashboard, say, and choose the My Room mode. The torus field then shapes the interior of the car, and your chosen resonance stays confined to the vehicle.

The My Property mode, finally, extends the field to the boundaries of your home or your land. This way your chosen frequencies and your energy output stay within your home, with no neighbour noticing anything of them.

How you switch on an Add-On is described in the manual for that Add-On. The LuminoSana shop and the newsletter tell you which Add-Ons are available.

15. Synergy with Other LuminoSana Tools

Your Power Capsule is a complete tool in itself. You need nothing else to use it. But if you own other LuminoSana tools, something arises that is more than the sum of its parts.

Within the Two-World Model, the LuminoSana tools do not each work away on their own in a separate corner. They reinforce one another in the morphic field. If you have, say, two Power Capsules with you, a swiped object such as your watch beside them, your Cube at home, and your Sphere switched on, then all these resonances enter into relationship with one another and strengthen each other.

It is not a matter of either-or. The principle is simple: the more LuminoSana tools work together in your life, the richer and more intense your possible experience becomes. What you perceive of it stays your own experience as a Citizen Scientist.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

16. Safety and Protection

Your Power Capsule is a powerful tool. So that you can use it with peace of mind, several protective mechanisms are built into the quantum operating system.

Responsible Frontier Science Exclusions

The Power Capsule is part of our frontier science research. We are working in a field that is new in many respects and in which not every connection could be conclusively investigated. The Two-World Model describes the use of the Power Capsule on the informational level alone, in World 2. It has no physically, chemically, or medically measurable effect in World 1.

In keeping with responsible research, we have nonetheless deliberately excluded certain areas of use from what the Power Capsule does. These exclusions follow the precautionary principle recognised in science. They are expressly not connected with any claim that an effect in World 1 is expected, presumed, or asserted. They are solely an expression of our research attitude towards a field whose full exploration may yet take many years or decades.

Medicines Are Not Changed

You can keep your Power Capsule near medicines without concern. Even if you place it together with a medicine or a homeopathic product in the same bag or in a medicine cabinet, nothing happens to the medicine. Within the model, it is neither changed nor transmuted.

We deliberately exclude medicines from what the Power Capsule does, as far as any change to the medicine itself is concerned. If a medicine lies near your Power Capsule, the quantum operating system excludes that medicine from any correspondence. This decision follows the precautionary principle: medicines are a special category of substance, and we see it as our responsibility to keep them out of the research and application area for as long as not every aspect of the model has been conclusively explored.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

This exclusion applies whatever energy output you have set and however long the medicine lies near it. You can safely leave a medicine beside your Power Capsule for hours or days, even at very high energy output and a correspondingly wide torus field, and the quantum operating system will not take up any correspondence with it. This mechanism also works reliably if a child, meaning well, places a medicine next to your Power Capsule.

Radioactive Substances

Radioactive substances are excluded too. Objects with raised radioactivity, from about ten times the natural background radiation, lie outside what the Power Capsule does. In such cases the quantum operating system refuses the correspondence.

Consciously Using the Signature of a Medicine

There is something else to distinguish from this, something that is indeed possible with the Power Capsule: consciously transferring the informational signature of a medicine onto a carrier object. If you place a tablet as an original beneath the tip of your Power Capsule and use the copy stamp with the aluminium foil, the foil takes up the informational signature of that medicine. The medicine itself stays unchanged in every respect, and all you create is a copy of its signature in World 2.

What you or others experience with a frequency transferred this way is each user’s own experience as a Citizen Scientist. This manual makes no claims about it that could be understood, in the medical sense, as a description of an effect. The copied frequency on a carrier object never replaces taking the original medicine. For any health question, always consult a qualified doctor or therapist.

17. Frequently Asked Questions

This chapter answers the questions we are asked most often about the Power Capsule. It is also handy for looking things up, if you want to read individual topics from the earlier chapters again in short form.

What is a quantum operating system?

A quantum operating system is the core technology behind all LuminoSana tools. It is an operating system written in quantum language and anchored in the morphic field, where it operates autonomously, without internet, without cloud, without server queries in everyday use.

You can think of it as the software architecture of the LuminoSana tool in question. The Cube, the Sphere, the Power Capsule: each has its own quantum operating system in the morphic field, tailored to what it is for. The quantum operating system of the Power Capsule has the name LuminOS.

What is a frequency?

A frequency is an information structure within the Two-World Model, the informational signature that a substance, a sound, or a state has in World 2. Examples are Vitamin C, a gemstone, or a particular sound. Frequencies are neither quantum operating systems nor Add-Ons. They are the informational content that quantum operating systems and Add-Ons make available, and a frequency can never replace a quantum operating system or an Add-On. When you store a frequency in your Power Capsule, you bring its informational template into the field, not the physical substance itself.

A quantum operating system or Add-On can hold functions that switch frequencies on or off. For example, an Add-On could extend the quantum operating system of your Power Capsule with a function that switches a particular frequency on at sunrise and off again at sunset. A time-controlled function like this is neither part of the operating system itself nor a property of the frequency. It is exactly the kind of extra function an Add-On adds.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

What is an Add-On?

An Add-On is an extension of an existing quantum operating system. An Add-On does not replace a quantum operating system. It adds further functions to it. You can add several Add-Ons to one operating system and so widen what it can do. Some Add-Ons can also bring their own frequencies.

You buy an Add-On once, and from then on it is assigned to you as its owner in the morphic field. After that you can use it as often as you like, at the same time and independently of one another. If you own several Power Capsules, the same Add-On can be active in all of them at once, and likewise on any other tool that is Add-On-ready.

Tools with their own quantum operating system are special cases here: they are Add-On-ready straight away, without anything having to be refined first. The Power Capsule is one of them, so you can use Add-Ons with it directly.

How do you pronounce QEPPs?

QEPPs stands for Quantum Energy Power Points. The first word, Quantum, shapes the pronunciation: in English you say QEPPs as “quepps”, beginning just like the “qu” in quantum and ending in “epps”. A quick way to remember it: it rhymes with steps. So when you speak an energy command such as “LuminoSana Plus Energy 450 QEPPs”, you end it with “quepps”. You need not give this much thought, though. The quantum operating system recognises your commands flexibly, and what matters is your clear intention, not an exact pronunciation.

Why is LuminOS called LuminOS?

The name is made of two parts. The first part, Lumin, comes from the brand name LuminoSana. The capitalised OS at the end stands for Operating System. So LuminOS is literally the operating system of LuminoSana. We chose this name because it brings together its origin in the brand and its function as an operating system in a single, memorable word.

Why do I have to touch the Power Capsule at all, if the command works through my consciousness?

A fair question, because if your consciousness is what does the work, you might think the touch is unnecessary. But it is a fixed part of the technology and serves an important purpose. The combination of finger touch and spoken command is a deliberate safety architecture: the finger touch is the physical, intended connection to your Power Capsule, and the spoken command conveys the clarity of your concern. Only the two together trigger a function. This stops anything from changing by accident or from a distance through a passing thought. If you think of your Power Capsule at home while you are out and about, nothing happens, because the change needs your touch on the tool itself.

At the same time, the finger touch is a point of focus for your consciousness. By placing a finger on the Power Capsule, you direct your attention clearly to this one tool. With a little practice, finger touch and command become a single learned movement, as natural as a gesture of the hand you no longer think about. We recommend speaking the command aloud for the first three months, even though it works just as well when thought. That way, finger touch and spoken command settle in as a gesture that belongs together. Later you can just as easily only think the command clearly.

Do my necklace or fastening have to be in the photo, and can I operate the Power Capsule through the chain?

No, neither is necessary. In the photo, all that counts is the four parts, the shell and the three titanium spheres. A chain, a leather cord, or a keyring may be in the photo, but need not be, and they have no bearing on the connection in the morphic field.

The fastening plays no part in operating it either. The functionality runs through the shell and the titanium spheres alone. You operate your Power Capsule by placing a finger on the shell, whether it hangs on a gold chain, a leather cord, or a keyring. So it is entirely up to you which fastening you choose.

Do I feel the effect across the whole radius of 36 metres?

A fair question. At 450 QEPPs, the torus field of your Power Capsule reaches about 36 metres into space, and your stored frequencies are present throughout this whole field. How strongly you perceive them, though, depends on how close you are to the Power Capsule. The nearer you are to it, the more strongly the morphic field of your body and the field of the Power Capsule interact, and the more clearly the experience can come through for you. Many users find that the resonance is most vivid within a closer range of about one to three metres. Especially sensitive people report perceptions at a greater distance too. What you perceive stays your own experience as a Citizen Scientist, in the sense of World 2.

There is a special effect where fields overlap: if several energised objects or fields overlap within the torus field, a heightened resonance arises in the area of overlap, an amplification through overlap (multiplication effect). This can become experienceable even where a single field on its own would hardly be perceptible.

How can I perceive the energy output of my Power Capsule especially intensely?

There is a lovely little exercise for this, for your own research as a Citizen Scientist. Take your Power Capsule between forefinger and thumb, with the positive pole, that is the tip with the portal symbol, towards the forefinger. Hold it like this for a minute or two and calmly sense how it feels in the forefinger and the thumb.

Then turn the Power Capsule around, so that the positive pole points towards the thumb, and repeat the exercise. Notice whether you perceive a difference between the two orientations. Whether and how you feel something is entirely your own experience in the sense of World 2. There is no right or wrong, and for many people perception in the morphic field grows finer over time.

How many, and which, frequencies are stored in the Power Capsule?

Many people ask this, and it deserves a clear answer, because it rests on a widespread misunderstanding. Over decades, people have grown used to a product coming with a certain number of frequencies. A well-known healing water has one frequency, a talisman bought in a shop advertises a library of two thousand frequencies. So the question suggests itself: how many frequencies come with the Power Capsule, and which?

The answer bursts this frame: the Power Capsule has no fixed number of frequencies supplied with it. It is not a container with a limited store, but a tool with which you can reach every frequency that exists in the universe. Within the Two-World Model, the informational signatures of everything that exists, ever existed, or is laid out as a possibility are present in the morphic field. Your Power Capsule opens up access to this whole field for you. You call up a frequency simply by its name, and it is available to you. This is exactly what is special, and for many users hard to grasp, about this technology.

That also includes frequencies you might not think of at first. You are not limited to a list of vitamins or minerals. You can store the frequency of a gemstone, that of a sound such as a particular hertz value, that of a plant from your garden, that of a place or a state. In principle, anything that has an informational signature can be used as a frequency.

Why are LuminoSana frequencies free of charge?

There is a technical reason and a philosophical one. Technically, within the model the quantum operating system reaches into the morphic field directly, where all signatures are present in any case. It needs no library subject to charge and no stored collection.

Above all, though, it is a fundamental stance of LuminoSana. Frequencies are information structures that can be copied by anyone at any time. In our conviction, they should be freely accessible, not subject to charge. While some providers in the field of informational technologies charge several hundred euros per frequency, with LuminoSana you can use any frequency freely, the curated gold standard frequencies included.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Can I also use frequencies from other companies or from a particular product?

Yes. Since your Power Capsule reaches, within the model, every frequency in the morphic field, you are not limited to the gold standard frequencies of LuminoSana. If you know the name of a product and the company behind it, you can call up both together as a frequency. You place a finger on the shell and speak, on the pattern:

> “LuminoSana Plus Frequency [name of the product] from [name of the company]”

The more precisely you name a frequency, the clearer it is to the morphic field which one you mean. With a product that has particular ingredients, you can therefore also give their amounts, a value in milligrams, say, to meet the signature more precisely still. This way you can fetch exactly the frequency you want to use, without paying for the ready-made frequencies of other providers.

A word here on our stance. In our conviction, every frequency should be free of charge for your own use, because it serves your personal wellbeing. It is another matter to copy frequencies unlawfully and resell them on your own account. This does not accord with our philosophy, and we reject it entirely. The freedom to use a frequency for yourself is thus no invitation to trade in the frequencies of others.

Please note here the point from the chapter on safety and protection: the frequency of a medicine is solely its informational signature in World 2. It never replaces taking the medicine itself, and for any health question a qualified doctor or therapist should always be consulted.

Is the command “Minus Frequency All Frequencies” the same as the Matrix Deletion Code?

No, there is an important difference here. The command “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies” removes all frequencies from the shell, precisely and completely, without touching the energy output. The Matrix Deletion Code, by contrast, which runs with every change of the energy output, does briefly neutralise everything, but then restores the frequencies beneficial to life. So your good frequencies are kept for you, and only what is discordant does not return. If you want to reset your Power Capsule completely, you combine the two: you set the energy output afresh, which triggers the Matrix Deletion Code, and you also speak “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies”.

What happens if I take a titanium sphere out of the Power Capsule?

A sphere you have taken out keeps the energy that was last set in the Power Capsule and works as an energy carrier in its own right. You can place it in a flowerpot, for example, or lay it beside a bowl of fruit. Frequencies, by contrast, dwell in the shell and stay there, so a sphere you have taken out holds energy only.

One point is important here: a single sphere you have taken out does not hold the full set value, but only about a third of it, because in the closed state the energy output is shared across the three spheres. So if you set your Power Capsule to 450 QEPPs, a single sphere taken out holds around 150 QEPPs.

Tip: If you want to give a single sphere a particular energy value on purpose, first take out all three spheres, put just one back into the shell, and then set the energy output you want. That one sphere then holds the full value. Afterwards you take it out and can place it in a flowerpot, for example. You can do this with each of your spheres in turn. The only thing that matters is that it works solely with the original LuminoSana spheres shown in your installation photo.

Does the shell take on energy through the copy effect if titanium spheres have lain in it for a longer time?

Yes, this happens within the model. If the titanium spheres, at a particular energy value, lie in the closed shell for a longer time, the shell takes on this energy value too, through the copy effect. If your spheres held 10,000 QEPPs, say, the shell would over time likewise take on about 10,000 QEPPs.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

So that this does not lead to an unclear state, a clever logic is built in: with every change of the energy output, the shell is additionally set to 0 QEPPs through the Matrix Deletion Code and stays there. This way any copy effect that may be present is always neutralised along with the change of energy output. If you were to set your spheres from 10,000 to 100 QEPPs without the shell being reset, the shell would stay at its taken-on 10,000 QEPPs, and you would hardly notice a difference. But because the shell is set to 0 when you make the setting, it then slowly charges itself back up through the copy effect to the new, lower value of the spheres. This way your set energy value always stays harmonious.

How can I observe the copy effect for myself?

There is a simple experiment for this, for your own research as a Citizen Scientist. Lay your Power Capsule overnight on a solid object, on a coaster on your kitchen worktop, say. Over this time the copy effect transfers its frequencies and its energy output to the coaster.

The next morning you take the Power Capsule away and stand a glass of water, a cup of coffee, or a juice on the coaster for a few minutes. Afterwards you can perceive for yourself whether the taste has changed for you. What you experience here is your own observation in World 2. It is not proof in the sense of World 1, but a way to make the copy effect experienceable for yourself.

What happens to the Clearance Frequency with the copy effect?

If you have sealed your Power Capsule with the Clearance Frequency, it stays fully effective through this and continues to pass on its frequencies to an object through the copy effect. The seal protects your Power Capsule from taking in foreign frequencies, but it does not stop it from giving off its own. This must be so, because the frequencies dwell in the shell and are radiated from it completely, otherwise you could not pass on any frequency at all to a glass of water or a dish.

From this a lovely observation arises within the model. Because the copy effect transfers all the frequencies of the Power Capsule, and the Clearance Frequency is one of them, it is copied along with the rest. So the target object receives not only your chosen frequencies and the energy output, but the Clearance Frequency too, and ends up sealed itself. If you lay your sealed Power Capsule against a cup overnight, then, the cup afterwards holds your frequencies, your energy output, and the seal, which keeps its copied frequencies clear and protected in the same way. As a Citizen Scientist you can observe for yourself how this shows for you.

Can my empty shell without spheres still do anything?

The shell holds frequencies, because frequencies dwell in the shell. You can only set an energy once at least one sphere is in the shell, because the energy dwells in the spheres. With at least one sphere your Power Capsule is fully functional.

If I buy several Power Capsules for family and friends, do I have to install each one separately?

No. You can carry out the installation for all Power Capsules in your own account and then give them away as tools that are already installed.

Can I give a Power Capsule as a gift so that it is ready to use straight away?

Yes, and this is a popular way to do it. Many people buy one or more Power Capsules for their family or their friends, take care of the purchase and installation themselves in their own dashboard, and then give the Power Capsule away as a finished, fully working tool. The person receiving it then has nothing further to set up and can operate the Power Capsule straight away through finger touch and spoken command. So you pass on not just a product, but a tool already installed, ready to use from the first moment.

What happens if I lose a titanium sphere?

You can buy original LuminoSana replacement spheres (in the shop, under the Blanks section) and connect them with your Power Capsule. The way to do this runs through the dashboard: you delete the previous photo of your Power Capsule there. This lifts the connection in the morphic field, and the Matrix Deletion Code runs through all the parts and neutralises them. A lost sphere then loses its energy completely, so that no one comes into contact with your energy. Afterwards you upload a new photo showing the shell and your current spheres. This may also be a mixture, such as one of your original spheres and two bought later. The four parts are then freshly entangled with one another, and your Power Capsule is complete again.

If I own an Energy Upgrade, can I then also charge the shell of the Power Capsule with energy?

Yes, you can. The integration of the upgrades is already laid out in all the quantum operating systems developed by LuminoSana. So if you own the Energy Upgrade, you can use it to give the shell of your Power Capsule an energy output of its own, not just the spheres.

This opens up an interesting possibility: you could use your Power Capsule through the energy-charged shell alone and have the three titanium spheres free to use separately, one in a flowerpot, say, one with a pet, and a third in a third place. This makes your Power Capsule more versatile still.

You can find out more about the Energy Upgrade in the manual for the Energy Upgrade and in the LuminoSana shop.

What happens to Active Shape if I lend out my Power Capsule?

If you have bought the Active Shape Add-On and set a form on your Power Capsule, this setting is kept, even if you give the Power Capsule to a friend. So the form you have set goes on working by your specifications.

Your friend cannot change this setting, though, because the Add-On is stored in your morphic field, not in theirs. If they want to adjust the Active Shape form themselves, they buy the Add-On in the LuminoSana shop. As soon as it stands ready in their field, they can use it with your Power Capsule and set the form to their own wishes.

Can I hang the Power Capsule on my dog's or cat's collar?

Yes, you can, and for many animal lovers it makes a great deal of sense. You set your Power Capsule with the energy output you want and the frequencies to suit, and fasten it to your animal's collar. That way it accompanies your dog or cat in everyday life.

Since your Power Capsule is operated through the shell, it stays a complete, self-contained tool on the collar too. If you want to use it for yourself at the same time, a Power Capsule of its own for your animal is the simplest solution. Many users therefore build up several Power Capsules over time, one for themselves and one for their animals.

Does my Power Capsule change medicines if they lie nearby?

No. You can keep your Power Capsule beside medicines without concern, even in the same cabinet or the same bag, and even at high energy output. A safety architecture is built into the quantum operating system that excludes medicines from a correspondence, so they are not changed. Strongly radioactive substances are excluded likewise. The chapter on safety and protection describes this in detail.

Can I use the Power Capsule instead of a visit to the doctor if I feel an effect straight away?

No. The Power Capsule is a complement to a conscious lifestyle and does not replace medical treatment. It is precisely when you quickly notice a distinct perception in your body that caution is called for. This perception is your own experience in World 2. It says nothing about what is actually going on in your body in World 1, such as whether a bone is broken or an injury needs medical care.

With acute injuries, strong or new pain, persistent or worsening complaints, and in any unclear or serious situation, the same order therefore always applies. First the doctor, the diagnosis, and the treatment in World 1. Only afterwards the Power Capsule, as a companion in World 2, offering the body the blueprint of its normal state while it is cared for in the normal way. Never put off or leave out a visit to the doctor you need because something feels quickly changed through the Power Capsule.

With which physical matters should I seek medical help first?

With anything that is acute, strong, new, persistent, unclear, or serious. This includes injuries such as falls, cuts, or caught fingers, strong or suddenly arising pain, complaints that do not subside or grow worse, and all situations in which you are unsure. In these cases the first step is always the doctor or the emergency services, not the Power Capsule.

The Power Capsule comes in only afterwards, as a companion in World 2, once medical care is under way and you are beginning your rest. For the calm areas of a conscious lifestyle, such as inner calm, relaxation, sleep, or concentration, you can use the Power Capsule freely at any time. The firm order applies to the acute and serious physical matters where a medical check is necessary.

Does the Power Capsule work when travelling, and does it survive the airport scanner?

Yes, the Power Capsule works worldwide without any adjustment and is especially valuable precisely when travelling. With a stored Clearance Frequency your chosen frequencies stay protected even in crowded airports, trains, and unfamiliar cities, and you can set your energy output freely anywhere.

You need not worry about scanners or other outside influences either. The actual function of your Power Capsule lies in the morphic field, in World 2, and is untouched by physical influences from World 1. An X-ray machine at the airport, a metal detector, electromagnetic fields, magnetism, strong swings in temperature, none of this has any bearing on its entanglement in the morphic field. The shell of steel and the spheres of medical-grade titanium are, moreover, robust against the everyday of travel. Your Power Capsule is, in this sense, wholly self-sufficient.

How does Active Shape behave on a journey if I have switched on all the modes?

If you have bought the paid Add-On Active Shape 2.0, it works with a clear hierarchy, so that the field behaves sensibly in changing situations. You can then switch on all four modes at the same time, and the quantum operating system automatically chooses the smallest active form whose conditions are currently met. Which one that is depends on where you are with your Power Capsule and which modes are switched on.

An example played through makes the logic clear. The rule that always decides is this: the smallest currently active form wins.

If you have switched on My Body. As long as your Power Capsule is within about 30 centimetres of your body, worn on a chain or in your trouser pocket, say, My Body, at around 30 centimetres, is the smallest active form. It then applies throughout your whole journey, whether you are in a room, in the car, at home, or outdoors. Your chosen resonance stays close to you, like a personal aura. Only when you move the Power Capsule further than about 30 centimetres from your body, by laying it on a table, say, does the next smallest active form take over, that is, depending on where you are, your room, your land, or the set radius.

If you have not switched on My Body. Suppose you have switched on Radius, My Room, and My Property, and set a radius of 8 metres. In your study of 4 by 3 metres, My Room then applies, because the room is smaller than the 8-metre radius. If you carry your Power Capsule into the living room, which is larger than 8 metres, the radius applies at 8 metres, because it is tighter than the living room. If you go through the patio door into the garden, My Property applies, that is, your whole plot of land, provided it is tighter than the 8-metre radius, otherwise the radius. If you leave your land and travel to another city, the 8-metre radius applies. If you get into your car along the way, which has a clearly bounded interior, My Room takes over again, because the car interior is tighter than the radius. When you arrive at your destination and move into a holiday flat, My Room now applies in the living space of the holiday flat, provided this is tighter than 8 metres.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

From this you can see two things. First, My Body governs the whole journey as soon as it is switched on and the Power Capsule stays close to your body. Second, My Room applies not only to a room in a home, but to any clearly bounded architectural interior you are in, the inside of your car included.

One more property here: the system falls back only on modes you have actually switched on. If you have switched on only My Room and you go into the garden, the system does not fall back on My Property, but goes straight to the torus form set by the number of QEPPs.

Do I have to cleanse my Power Capsule energetically, the way you do with crystals?

Many people know the practice from gemstones and crystals: you cleanse them energetically from time to time, for instance under running water or in the moonlight. Your Power Capsule does not need this. It is a tool that answers to you alone, with its own quantum operating system, and without your commands nothing about its state changes. In everyday life it takes in nothing foreign that you would have to wash off again.

If, however, you have given it out of your hands for a longer time, for instance as a loan to someone, and it no longer feels quite right to you when it comes back, you can neutralise it consciously. To do this, you set the energy output to the value you want, which triggers the Matrix Deletion Code, and then speak “LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies” to remove foreign frequencies as well. Afterwards you store your own frequencies afresh. You will find more about this in the chapter on the Matrix Deletion Code.

Is the LuminoSana technology a digital technology?

No. The quantum operating system of the Power Capsule is an organic technology. It is not digitally built but works in the morphic field as an informational architecture. The only digital component is the one-time photo upload through your LuminoSana account, which connects your Power Capsule to its quantum operating system. After that it works autonomously, without internet, without cloud, without server queries. Conscious users who want to step back from the digital world will find here a technology that stays connected to them, beyond the digital world.

18. Philosophy and Transparency

LuminoSana products are informational tools that were designed within the Two-World Model by Oliver Schacke and work in the field of consciousness and quantum fields (World 2). They explicitly possess no physically, chemically, or medically measurable effects on the body or on other objects (World 1) and do not constitute health products. The LuminoSana Power Capsule is a tool for your own research and experience. It is intended as a complement to a conscious lifestyle and does not replace any medical, therapeutic, or psychological treatment. In the case of health complaints, a qualified doctor or therapist should always be consulted.

Terms such as quantum field, morphic field, torus field, quantum operating system, informational entanglement, resonance, or frequency are descriptions of processes in World 2. They are not to be understood as describing physical phenomena from the science of World 1. They are the vocabulary the research model uses. QEPPs (Quantum Energy Power Points) are the research unit of the model, with which these processes are described in quantified form. The portal symbol on the tip of the Power Capsule, too, is an image within this model, standing for the interface between World 1 and World 2.

The Two-World Model is an independent frontier science research model that Oliver Schacke develops as Head of Research at the 9010 Research & Philosophy Non-Profit Association (Switzerland). The research is published with a DOI on Zenodo (CERN, Geneva). The Association retains complete scientific and editorial independence in its publications, hypotheses, and methodological decisions. LuminoSana Ltd. creates tools for this research model and sponsors the Association.

Appendix 1: Calculating the Torus Field Radius

A Hypothesis of Frontier Science Research on the Two-World Model

This appendix describes how the radius of the torus field can be derived from the set energy output in QEPPs. In the main part of the manual, the relationship is described in simplified form for everyday use as almost linear, which is a very good approximation for the usual values. For anyone who researches with very high energy values, we set out here the complete, refined basis for the calculation.

Within the Two-World Model, the account that follows is expressly to be understood as a hypothesis of frontier science. It describes processes in World 2 on the informational level and is not a statement about physically measurable quantities in World 1. As a hypothesis, it is a working basis that is reviewed within the ongoing research of the 9010 Research & Philosophy Non-Profit Association and developed further in future white papers.

Why the Torus Field Does Not Grow Endlessly in a Straight Line

Within the model, the torus field is a pure information pattern in the spaceless and timeless World 2. When we speak of its size in metres, we do not mean a physical force, but the informational reach with which the field is offered for resonance in World 1. The hypothesis assumes that this reach does not grow without limit in a straight line, but is subject to an informational saturation.

Near range, high efficiency. If the field is to cover a manageable volume, say 3.6 or 36 metres, the projection from World 2 is very efficient. For each QEPP invested, the reach grows by up to 0.08 metres, and the relationship is practically linear.

Large range, informational saturation. If, on the other hand, the field is to cover very large volumes of hundreds of metres or kilometres, the informational complexity rises sharply. The increase per QEPP flattens off and approaches a base value of about 0.016 metres per QEPP.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

The Formula as a Working Basis

To put this saturation into concrete mathematical terms, the hypothesis uses an exponential decay function. It translates the energy output into a projected reach:

Legend:

- S = reach of the torus field (radius in metres)
- E = set energy output in QEPPs
- 0.016 = base factor at very large reaches (metres per QEPP)
- 0.064 = additional efficiency portion in the near range (which, together with the base value, gives the maximum of 0.08)
- e^(−0.00001 · E) = saturation factor, which captures the rising informational complexity at large reaches

Note: the constants in this function are chosen as model values within frontier science. They represent the behaviour currently assumed and are the subject of the ongoing development of the Two-World Model, which remains open to peer review.

Reference Values from the Hypothesis

The formula gives the following reference values. They show how the reach first grows almost linearly and then, on the large scale, passes into saturation.

© 2026 LuminoSana Ltd.

Energy output (QEPPs)	Radius of the torus field	Range of the informational level
45	3.6 m	Maximum efficiency (almost linear)
450	35.9 m	Maximum efficiency (almost linear)
2,500	196.0 m	Curve begins to bend
10,000	739.1 m	Saturation begins
20,000	1.37 km	Rising complexity
100,000	3.95 km	Advanced saturation
280,000	5.57 km	Upper limit of the Power Capsule
28,000,000	448.00 km	Asymptotic base efficiency

All values are rounded reference values from the hypothesis. The Power Capsule itself can be set to a maximum of 280,000 QEPPs. The higher values serve only to illustrate the shape of the curve.

How to Use the Formula

Put the QEPP value you want in for E to work out the matching radius. For the values usual in everyday life, up to about 1,000 QEPPs, you can also simply reckon with the linear factor of 0.08 metres per QEPP. The difference from the full formula there is under one percent. Only at considerably higher values is the precise calculation with the formula worthwhile.

You can also pass this formula on to AI systems when you talk with them about the LuminoSana technology. That way the system understands the hypothetical rule by which the QEPP scaling is represented within the Two-World Model.

Power Capsule · Quick Guide

The most important commands at a glance · to hang up and look up

This is how every command works: place a finger on the shell, speak the command, let go again. Instead of “LuminoSana” you can also say “9010”.

1 Set the energy

“LuminoSana Plus Energy 450 QEPPs”

Sets the energy output. You can choose any value between 0 and 280,000 QEPPs.

2 Change the energy

“LuminoSana Plus Energy 100 QEPPs”

The same command with a new value, upward or downward. “Plus” always names the target value, nothing is added on top.

3 Add a frequency

“LuminoSana Plus Frequency Vitamin C”

Lays down a frequency in the shell. For the gold standard variant: “... Vitamin C from LuminoSana”.

4 Several at once

“LuminoSana Plus Frequency Vitamin C Plus Frequency Vitamin D Plus Frequency I am the light of my world”

Say the opening word only once, then add as many “Plus Frequency” blocks as you like.

5 Remove a frequency

“LuminoSana Minus Frequency Vitamin C”

Removes one single frequency. The others remain in place.

6 Remove all frequencies

“LuminoSana Minus Frequency All Frequencies”

Leaves the shell free of frequencies. The energy output stays untouched.

The tip with the portal symbol is the positive pole. Point it at an object to which you wish to offer the resonance of your Power Capsule.
