CANDIDATE PROFILE: ALEX KOLODIN , SECRETARY OF STATE

VOTE FOR Alex Kolodin – Fighting for transparency and lawful elections. From his web page:
Alex has been practicing election law in Arizona for over a decade. In 2014, as a rookie lawyer, Alex litigated one of the first cases that established that election-related metadata stored on central count computers was a public record. In 2020, Adrian Fontes tried to give an illegal instruction to every person who voted by mail in Maricopa County. Alex took him to the Arizona Supreme Court and not only won the case, but won the right for every Arizona voter to challenge unlawful acts by elections officials. In 2024, when Adrian Fontes refused to comply with his obligations under the National Voter Registration Act, Alex took him to court and won again.

In June, Alex delivered where D.C. failed, sponsoring HCR 2001, the FAST Act (AKA the Save AZ Act). After two years of work, the legislature voted to send it straight to the 2026 ballot (now PROP 144), beyond the reach of governor Hobbs's veto pen. This amendment puts the rules in Arizona's constitution, where they belong: Only U.S. citizens may vote, every voter must show government-issued id, foreign money is banned from our elections, and election day means election day-with the fast, Florida-style results Arizonans deserve. now it's up to the voters to make it law.

Recently, as Chair of the Select Committee on Election Integrity and Florida Style Voting Systems, he has been working to pass security measures that would further speed up election results.

Alex is a graduate of Georgetown University and the University of Pennsylvania Law School, and a former Reagan Fellow at the Goldwater Institute's Scharf Norton Center for Constitutional Litigation. He lives in Scottsdale with his wife and two children.
