

A HISTORY OF INDIAN PUBLIC LIFE

(VOLUME TWO)

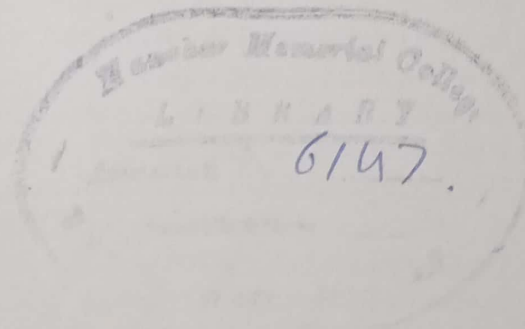

THE PRE-MAURYA AND THE
MAURYA PERIODS

U. N. GHOSHAL, M.A., PH.D.,

Formerly Professor of History, Presidency College, Calcutta

Formerly Editor, 'Journal of the Greater India Society'

Honorary Fellow, The Asiatic Society, Calcutta

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

1966

CONTENTS

Analytical table of contents	xi
Chronology of principal literary sources	xvii
Chronological table of pre-Maurya and Maurya periods	xviii
Historical traditions of Indian rulers and their governments	xviii
List of principal States of the pre-Maurya period	xix

PART ONE: THE PRE-MAURYA PERIOD

I Introduction	1
Appendix A	9
II The monarchic State — I. Structure of the Central Government	12
Appendix B	30
Appendix C	32
Appendix D	34
III The monarchic State — II. Working of the Central Government	42
IV The monarchic State — III. Political Organization	56
V The monarchic State — IV. Economic Organization	85
VI The monarchic State — V. Finance	109
VII The monarchic State — VI. Law and Justice — Police and Jails	121
VIII The monarchic State — VII. Military Organization	146
IX The monarchic State — VIII. Local Government — General survey of monarchic constitutions	160
X Republics and mixed constitutions	185
XI Inter-State relations	198
XII Kingdoms and republics of the Indus valley	207
XIII Summary and conclusion	214

PART TWO: THE MAURYA PERIOD

I Sources of information — Political history	239
II Divisions of the Maurya Empire — Organization of the Central Government	241
III Political Organization	246
IV Economic Organization	254
V Law and Justice — Police and Jails	261
VI Provincial and Local Government	265
VII Military Organization — Inter-State relations	270
VIII Conclusion	274
List of original works quoted and abbreviations	289
Glossary of Sanskrit and Sanskritic terms	294
English index and glossary	308