

A Text Book of ACCOUNTANCY

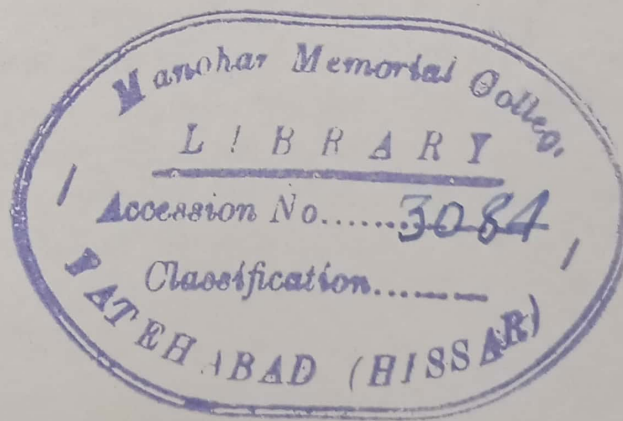

For First Year P. U. C.

by

C. C. PATTANSHETTI

M.A., PH.D.

*Professor and Head of the Department of Commerce,
Karnatak University,
Dharwar*

SOMAIYA PUBLICATIONS PVT LTD
BOMBAY

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
Introduction. Objects of Book-keeping. Double entry and Book-keeping. Explanation of certain terms used in Book-keeping — Financial Transactions or Money Transactions. Account — Personal — Real — Nominal. Debtor. Creditor. Goods. Assets. Liability. Capital. On account. The Theory of Double entry — Advantages. Classification of accounts. Rules for Debit and Credit.
JOURNALISING	11
Definition. Use of Journal. Rules for journalising.
THE LEDGER	22
The Ledger — Importance of Ledger — Classification of Ledger Accounts. Grouping of Ledger Accounts. Sub-divisions of the Ledger. Posting. Balancing of accounts. Balancing of personal accounts. Balancing of Real or Property Accounts — Cash accounts — Goods accounts — Other Real Accounts. Balancing Nominal or Fictitious account — Capital account — Drawings account.
SUBSIDIARY BOOKS	45
Purchases books, Sales Book, Return Inwards Book, Return Outwards Book. Postings from the purchase books. Bills receivable Book, Bills payable book Journal proper. Advantages of subsidiary books.
THE CASH BOOK	59
Introduction. Postings from the Cash book. Cash discount and trade discount. Recording of Bank Transactions Cash book with discount and Bank columns. Contra-entries in the Cash book. Petty Cash book. The imprest system of petty cash.
BANK RECONCILIATION STATEMENT	82
Introduction. Reasons for differences between the balances as per the cash book and the pass book. Overdraft.
BILL TRANSACTIONS	98
Introduction. Inland and Foreign bills. Parties to a bill of Exchange — Advantages. Tenure of the Bill. Days of grace. Acceptance of the bill. Different kinds of acceptance. Disposal

CONTENTS

- of the bill. Promissory note. Difference between Bill of Exchange and Promissory note. Bills receivable and bills payable. Treatment in accounts. Renewal of the bill. Accommodation bills. Important points. Bills receivable and bills payable Book Posting.
8. THE JOURNAL 148
Introduction. Opening entries. How to post the opening balances? Closing entries. Transactions of a special nature. Rectification of errors — one sided errors — Double sided errors. Suspense account. Creation of the Suspense account. Effects of errors on final accounts. Rules for rectification — First stage — Second stage — Third stage.
9. TRIAL BALANCE 165
Introduction. Proof of accuracy of ledger. Title of trial balance alone. Preparation of trial balance. Errors disclosed by the trial balance. Errors not disclosed by trial balance or errors which do not affect trial balance — errors of omission — errors of commission — Compensating or off-setting or equalising errors — errors of principle. How to detect errors.
10. ADJUSTING ENTRIES IN FINAL ACCOUNTS 177
Introduction. Outstanding expenses. Outstanding liability shown in Trial Balance. Prepaid expenses. Outstanding Income or Accrued Income or Income earned but not received. Income received in advance or unearned income. Bad debts. Treatment in final accounts. Reserve of Bad and doubtful debts. Treatment in accounts. Bad debt written off and then realised. Reserve for discount on debtors and creditors. Depreciation. Treatment of depreciation when included in trial balance. Depreciation on addition to property. Interest on Capital and drawings.
11. FINAL ACCOUNTS 196
Introduction. Rules for construction of Final accounts. Items explained. Credit side. Profit and Loss Account. Calculation of Commission. Balance Sheet. Setting out of Assets and Liabilities. Title of the balance sheet.
12. CONSIGNMENT ACCOUNTS 242
Consignments. Difference between a consignment and a Sale. Procedure followed in case of consignments. Entries in books of the Consignor. Entries in the books of the Consignee. When goods are charged at Proforma Invoice price.
13. JOINT VENTURE ACCOUNTS 268
Introduction. Separate books of accounts. When accounts are kept in the books of the Ventures.