

Abul Kalam Azad

An Intellectual and Religious Biography

Ian Henderson Douglas

edited by Gail Minault and Christian W. Troll

921
-c-✓

Contents

Editors' Foreword	viii
Author's Acknowledgements	x
Abbreviations	xii
INTRODUCTION	1
I PREPARATORY YEARS (1888–1910)	27
The Ancestral Background	30
Early Islamic Training	37
A Wider World	44
Intoxication with Sir Sayyid	51
The Loss of Faith	63
Formation of his Political Thought	77
Recovery of Faith	87
II AL-HILAL AND KHILAFAT: RELIGIOUS AND POLITICAL ACTIVISM (1910–1922)	97
The Mission of al-Hilal	103
The Hizbullah	114
The Message of al-Hilal	127
Continuation of the al-Hilal Period: Tazkira	162
The Khilafat Movement: 1920–2	170
Appendix to Chapter II: Letter from Azad to Sayyid Sulaiman Nadwi dated February 1914	182

III TARJUMAN AND FREEDOM'S DAWN: RELIGIOUS SCHOLARSHIP AND NATIONALIST POLITICS (1923-1958)	189
The Emergence of Azad's Quranic Commentary	196
The Tarjuman al-Quran	203
An Assessment of Azad's Tarjuman	213
Nationalist Politics	222
Ghubar-e-Khatir	226
The Dawn of Freedom	234
Minister of Education	238
IV AZAD: THE MAN AND HIS MEANING	253
Postlude	281
Editors' Conclusions	282
Glossary	306
Bibliography	315
Biographical Note on the Author	340
Index	343

Plates

- Frontispiece*: Abul Kalam Azad at the age of sixteen, in 1904.
(between pp. 164 and 165)
- A session of the Nadwatul Ulama, Lucknow, April 1912.
- The front page of al-Hilal, 4 June 1913.
- Azad as he appeared in the first edition of Tazkirah, 1919.
- A page from Azad's manuscript of Tarjuman al-Quran, published in 1930.
- A sketch of Azad by Amina Ahmad, 14 June 1945.

Lord Wavell with Maulana Azad, Simla Conference, June-July 1945.
Azad relaxing during the Simla Conference, June-July 1945.
Azad with Abdul Ghaffar Khan, 1946.
Azad with Nehru and Sarojini Naidu, December 1948.
Nehru with Azad, 16 May 1949.
Azad at the grave of Jinnah, July 1951.
Azad as Education Minister.
Nehru gazing at the body of Azad, 22 February 1958.
Azad's mausoleum.