

BUSINESS ETHICS

THOMAS M. GARRETT
UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON

THE TIMES OF INDIA PRESS
BOMBAY

Contents

Preface	vii
I Basic Theory	1
1 Some Basic Principles	3
Introduction, 3; Specifically Human Ends, 5; Responsibility in a General Sense, 7; Types of Evil and Consequences, 8; Proportionality, 9; Minor Evils or Physical Evils, 11; Problems, 12; Positive Obligations, 14; Rights, 16; Cooperation in Evil, 17; Location of Responsibility, 18; The Gray Areas, 19; Practical Application, 19; Negative Obligations, 20.
2 Economic and Political Considerations	24
Introduction, 24; The Purpose of the Firm, 25; The Societal Nature of the Firm, 26; The Rights and Obligations of Management, 27; The Firm and its Economic Relationship, 30; Business Power and the Broader Society, 31; The Hierarchy of Goals, 33.
II Relationship of the Firm to the Employee	37
3 Hiring and Firing	39
Introduction, 39; Determining Job Qualifications, 40; The Use of Statistics, 41; Preferential Hiring, 42; Nepotism, 44; Special Problems, 44; Promotions, 45; Firing, 46; Just Cause, 47; Due Process, 48; Mitigation of Harmful Effects, 49; The Obligations of Employees, 50; Some Points of Broader Significance, 51.

Contents

4	Wages and Working Conditions	xii
	Introduction, 53; Wages Versus Income, 53; Fair Wages, 54; Profit Sharing, 57; Stability of Work, 58; Working Conditions, 59; Work Satisfaction, 61.	53
5	Private Lives and Company Lives	63
	Introduction, 63; Rise of the Problem, 64; The Value of Privacy, 64; Areas of Legitimate Interest, 67; Garnishments, 69; The Means of Investigation, 69; Toward a Solution, 71.
III	Relationship of the Employee to the Firm	73
6	Fiduciary Relationships and Conflicts of Interest	75
	Introduction, 75; Conflicts of Interest, 76; Bribery, Extortion, and Gifts, 77; Payola, 81; Financial and Other Interests, 81; Moonlighting, 82; Preventing Conflicts of Interest, 83; Executive Piracy, 84; By Way of Summary, 86.
7	Secrecy and Espionage	88
	Introduction, 88; Non-Obligatory Secrets, 90; Insider Information, 91; Cases, 92; Obligations of Former Employees, 95; Secrecy and the Public Interest, 96; Commercial Espionage, 97; Obligations of the Employer, 99; Job Recommendations, 99; By Way of Summary, 100.
8	Honesty and Expense Accounts	102
	Introduction, 102; Obligations of Owners and Managers, 104; Expense Accounts, 105; The Flat Allowance, 105; Reimbursement Directly to the Employee, 106; Double Expense Accounts, 108; The Wife on the Expense Account, 108; Company Policy, 109; Cooperation in Theft, 110; Preventative Ethics, 112; Additional Cases and Basic Principles, 113; Questions on Cases, 114.

Contents

xiii	IV Relationship of the Firm to Other Economic Agents	115
9	Relations with Customers: Safety and Information	117
	Introduction, 117; Health and Safety, 118; The Fair Sales Contract, 119; Fraud, Lying, and Deception, 120; Ignorance and Disclosure, 122; Disclosure in the Sale of Credit, 122; Some Special Problems in Advertising, 124; Irrational Desire, 126; Publicity and Public Relations, 127; Packaging and Labeling, 129; The Ethics of Buyers, 131; By Way of Summary, 132.
10	Relations with Customers: Prices	133
	Introduction, 133; Difficulties with Existing Theories, 134; Difficulties with the Law, 135; Pricing Practices and Problems, 136; A Very Tentative Theory, 137; Price Fixing, 137; Price Leadership, 138; The Administered Price, 139; Resale Price Maintenance, 141; Price and Advertising, 142; Price and Passion, 144; Discriminatory Pricing, 145; By Way of Summary, 148.
11	Relations with Competitors	149
	Introduction, 149; General Principles, 149; Denigration of Competitors, 150; Unfair Interference and Related Practices, 152; Price Cutting, 153; Cooperation among Competitors, 157; Unethical Cooperation and Competition, 158; The Moral Atmosphere of Competition, 159.
12	Stockholders, Dealers, and Suppliers	161
	Introduction, 161; Relations with Stockholders, 163; Reporting, 164; Managerial Compensation, 166; Dividends and Retained Earnings, 167; Relations with Dealers, 168; Solutions, 171; Relations with Suppliers, 171; Food for Thought, 173.

Contents

V Relationship of the Firm to Non-Business Groups

13 Relations with Unions and Local Communities

Introduction, 177; The Union, 177; Attitudes toward the Union, 178; "Right to Work" Laws, 179; Sweethearts Forever, 180; Other Abusive Practices, 181; Creative Ethics, 182; The Local Community, 183; Power Shifts and Values, 184; Plant Relocation, 185; Natural Resources, 187; By Way of Summary, 188.

14 Business and the Social Economy

Introduction, 189; The Paradoxes of the American Economy, 190; Hiding the Problem, 191; The Myth of Competition, 192; The Transcendental Margin, 193; Profits and Social Costs, 194; Economic Dislocation and Stability, 195; New Concepts and New Values, 196; Relations with Governments, 197; Lobbying, 198; Planning, 199; International, 201; In Conclusion, 202.

A Bibliographical Note

Index

xiv

175

177

189

204

205