

Chapter 3	Modifications to Traditional Development Theory	34
I.	The Entrepreneurship and Disharmonious Growth - Schumpeter	34
A.	The Entrepreneur and His Role	35
B.	Development Via Inflation	36
C.	Appraisal	38
II.	The Stagnationists and the Post-Keynesian Growth Theorists	39
A.	Keynesian Employment Theory	40
B.	Post-Keynesian Growth Theory	42
Chapter 4	Recent Contributions to Development Theory (I)	46
I.	The Population Trap	47
II.	The Role of Natural Resources and Technology	49
III.	Unfavorable Terms of Trade and Foreign Monopoly	54
Chapter 5	Recent Contributions (II)	58
I.	Development with Unlimited Supplies of Labor	58
II.	Noneconomic Factors in Development	61
III.	Investment in Human Resources	64
IV.	Stages of Growth	66
A.	Rostow's Five Stages	67
B.	Conclusions	69
Chapter 6	Programs and Policies	71
I.	The "Big-Push" Versus the Selective Approach	72
II.	The Role of the Government	77
III.	Development Planning	80
Chapter 7	Development Policies in Major Economic Sectors	85
I.	The Agricultural Sector	85
II.	Manufacturing Activity	89
III.	Social Overhead Capital	94

Chapter 8	Financing Development	97
I.	The Inflation Problem	97
II.	Taxation	102
III.	Foreign Assistance: Private and Public	105
Chapter 9	Concluding Remarks	112
I.	Theories and Policies	112
II.	Development Prospects	116
Selected Bibliography		118
Index		121