

2222

EVOLUTION OF INDIAN CULTURE

OL 572
Ramesh Singh DEB

Book
Ph...

B. N. LUNIYA

LAKSHMI NARAIN AGARWAL. AGRA.

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I

THE PHYSICAL FEATURES OF INDIA AND THE UNDERLYING UNITY

Various names of the Country—Splendid Isolation of India—Main Geographical Divisions of India—Influence of Geography upon Indian History—General Features of Indian History—Underlying Fundamental Unity in Diversity—The Ideal of Unity is very ancient in India—Agencies for fostering the Fundamental Unity and Uniform Culture. 1-21

CHAPTER II

THE PRE-HISTORIC PERIOD

Palaeolithic Age or the Old Stone Age—Neolithic Age or New Stone Age—The Age of Metals—Races—Contributions of the Races to the Indian Culture—The Indus Valley Civilisation—The City—The People—The Age of the Indus Valley Civilisation—Race of the Indus Valley People—Harappa—Destruction of the Indus Valley Civilisation. 22-41

CHAPTER III

THE VEDIC AGE

The Aryans—The Vedic Literature—The Age of the Vedic Literature—The Early Vedic Age—Political Organisations—Social Life—Economic Life—Significant Aspect of the Rigvedic Mythology—Philosophy of the Rigvedic Age—General Conclusions. 42-63

CHAPTER IV

LATER VEDIC AGE AND EPIC PERIODS

Elaboration of the Administrative Machinery—Society—Economic Conditions—Religious Development—The Age of the Sutras—Culture in the Sutra Age—The Epics—Gleanings from the Smritis or the Dharma-Shastras—The Caste System—General Conclusions. 64-103

CHAPTER V

JAINISM AND BUDDHISM

Original Jainism and Buddhism were only a new reformed form of Brahmanism or Hinduism—Jainism—Contributions of Jainism to Indian Culture—Buddhism—The Buddhist Sangha or Church—Jainism and Buddhism—The Decline of Buddhism—Other Sects. 104-144

CHAPTER VI

THE PRE-MAURYAN AGE (650-321 B.C.)

Social Life—Economic Condition—Religion. 145-158

CHAPTER VII

PERIOD OF EMPIRES

Chandragupta Maurya (322-298 B. C.), Bindusara, Asoka (273-233 B. C.), The Sunga Empire (187-75 B. C.) and its importance—Pushyamitra Sunga—The Kanva Dynasty (75-30 B. C.)—The Empire of the Satvahanas or the Andhras—Indo-Greek Rule (190-50 B. C.)—Culture and Civilisation in Mauryan Age—Mauryan Administration—Social Conditions—Economic Conditions—The Mauryan Art—Life in the Sunga-Satvahana-Saka Age—Characteristics of the Sunga-Satvahana-Saka Age—Political Conditions—Social Conditions—Economic Conditions—Religious Conditions—Art—Description of the Monuments of the period—Life and Culture during the period of the Kushans. 159-210

CHAPTER VIII

THE GUPTA EMPIRE AND THE HINDU CULTURAL REVIVAL

Salient Features of the Gupta Age—Civilisation and Culture under the Imperial Guptas—The Administrative Organisation—Monarchical Governments—Provincial Administration—Social Conditions—Economic Condition—Religions—Literary Activity—Sciences—Education—Arts. 211-250

CHAPTER IX

INDIA AND THE WESTERN WORLD

251-264

CHAPTER X

HINDU CULTURAL EXPANSION

Colonial and Cultural Expansion—China, Korea and Japan—Colonisation of Further India—Indo-China—Kambuja or Funan—Malaya Archipelago—Arts. 265-292

CHAPTER XI

CONTRIBUTION OF SOUTH INDIA TO INDIAN CULTURE

South or Deccan—Tamil Culture—Pallava Contribution to Indian Culture—The Mysore Plateau—South India and Islam. 293-323

CHAPTER XII

THE AGE OF SEGREGATION, DISRUPTION AND DISINTEGRATION
(600-1200 A.D.)

The Age of Harsha—Culture in Rajput period—Rajputs a proud Aristocracy. . . . . 324-352

CHAPTER XIII

INDIA AND ISLAM

Establishment of Delhi Kingdom—Expansion and Consolidation of Delhi Kingdom—Collapse of the Delhi Sultanate (1412-1526 A.D.)—The Muslim State and its Government—Economic Conditions—Effects of the Impact of the Indian and the Islamic Civilisations—Religion—Reformer Saints—Literature—Education
—Fine Arts—Architecture—Provincial Architecture—Hindu
Architecture. . . . . 353-426

CHAPTER XIV

INDIAN CULTURE AND THE MUGHALS

Establishment of the Mughal Rule—Life under the Mughals —Social Conditions—Economic Conditions—Education—Literature
—Architecture—The Legacies of the Muslim Age and the Mughal
Rule. . . . . 427-483

CHAPTER XV

CHRISTIAN SEA-POWERS IN INDIA AND THE GREAT RECOVERY

Legacies of the British Rule—Renaissance—Condition before Renaissance—General Features of the Indian Renaissance—Effects of the Renaissance—India and the western countries and impact of their culture. . . . . 484-528

CHAPTER XVI

MODERNIZATION

Industrial Labour—Agriculture—Means of Transport and Communications—Social and Religious Reform Movements—Raja
Ram Mohan Roy and the Brahma Samaj—Hindu Society—Social Reforms—Education—Education during the British Period—Secondary Education Commission 1952—All India Council of Secondary Education—New pattern of Secondary Education—Social Education
—Primary Education—All India Council for Elementary Education
—Vocational Education : Technical, Commercial and Art Education
—Literature—Fine Arts. . . . . 529-642

BIBLIOGRAPHY

643-647