

GENERAL AND SOCIAL LETTER WRITING

By

A. G. ELLIOT

*Author of Business Letters, Contracts and Etiquette;
Non-Fiction Writing and Publishing; Publisher of Right Way Books, etc.*

ELLIOT

RIGHT WAY BOOKS

KINGSWOOD SURREY

CONTENTS

CHAP.		PAGE
	Introduction	5
I.	Outline of requirements. Writing materials. Handwriting. Envelopes. Poste Restante. Stamping. Registered Letters and Express Letters. Post Cards. Dating Correspondence. Letter Headings. Private Letter Heading. General Matters	9
II.	Opening and Closing	23
III.	Punctuation. Grammar	31
IV.	Construction. Paragraphing and Setting Out	40
V.	Style	47
VI.	Dangers of the written word. Pen Friends. Copyright	51
VII	Samples of Easy Letters. The thank you Letter. Wedding Gift. An Occasional Gift. For a Service Rendered. Sending a Gift. Enquiring for Accommodation. Arranging an Appointment. Confirming an Appointment. Sending Enclosures. Advice. Acknowledgements. Courtesy Letter. Writing letters to Children. Apology Letter	57
VIII.	Congratulations, Greetings, Sympathy and Invitations. Informal Invitations. Formal Invitations. Wedding Invitation. Informal Acceptances and Refusals. Formal Acceptances—Wedding, Bridge and Cocktails	64

CHAP.	PAGE
IX. Introductions and Testimonials. Writing of References. Privileged and Confidential References	73
X. The Technique of the Longer Letter	80
XI. Answering a Letter	86
XII. The Difficult or "Tricky" Letter. To a Neighbour regarding a troublesome dog. Request for permission. To an Insurance Company. Asking for Payment. Confidential. Carbon Copy	88
XIII. The Love Letter. Sample "Love" Letters	94
XIV. Applying for a Job. Replying to Advertisements	101
XV. Publicity and Sales Letters	107
XVI. Resignations, Applications for Membership, Semi-official letters, Appeals, Etc.	113
XVII. Forms of Address and Subscription	117
Index	121