

HISTORY OF
POLITICAL THOUGHT

VOL. I

ANCIENT AND MEDIEVAL

with

A CHAPTER ON MANU

By
Prof. JYOTI PRASAD SUDH, M. A.,
Retired Head of the Department of Political Science, Muzrai College, Muzrai.

Jai Prakash Nath & Co.,
LEADING EDUCATIONAL PUBLISHERS,
MEERUT CITY.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1. NATURE OF POLITICAL THOUGHT.	1—11
Introductory : 1 Subject-matter of Political Thought : 1. A Few Problems of Political Thought : 3. Political Thought and the Environment ; 6. European and non- European Political Thought ; 8. Division of the Sub- ject : 10.
Chapter 2. THEORY OF THE CITY-STATE.
Introductory : 12. The Scope of Greek Political Thought : 14. The City-State : 15. Characteristics of Greek Political Thought : 20. The City-States and Slavery : 22. The States of Athens and Sparta : 24.
Chapter 3. POLITICAL THOUGHT BEFORE PLATO.	26—40
Introductory : 26. The Sophists : 28. Nature and Convention : 32. Socrates 33. Mission of Socrates : 36. Socratic Doctrines : 37.
Chapter 4. PLATO : THE REPUBLIC.	41—96
Introductory : 41. Life of Plato : 41. The Practical Nature of Plato's Thought : 44. The Method of Plato : 45. The Dialogues of Plato : 46. The Nature and Purpose of the Republic : 46. Meanings of Re- public and Justice : 50. Sophists' Theory of Justice : 52. Glaucon's View : 56. Construction of the Ideal State : 57. Justice in the Ideal State : 60. Criticism of Plato's Theory of Justice : 64. The Theory of Edu- cation in the Republic—Introductory : 69. The Nature and Aims of Education ; 76. Plato's Edu- cational Method : 70. Educational Curriculum : 72. Principles of Government in the Ideal State : 74. The Rule of Philosopher-kings ; 75. Theory of Com- munism in the Republic—Introductory : 82. Communism of Property : 83. The Communism of Wives : 87. Republic as an Ideal : 92. Decline of the State and its Corrupt Forms : 93.

Chapter 5. PLATO (CONTINUED) : THE STATESMAN AND THE LAWS. 97-111

Introductory : 97. Transition from the Republic to the Statesman : 97. The Laws : 100. The Theory of State in the Laws : 102, The Necessity and Nature of Law : 104. The Laws and the Idea of a Mixed Constitution : 106. Social and Political Institutions : 107. The Republic and the Laws : 109. The Influence of Plato : 110.

Chapter 6. ARISTOTLE : POLITICAL IDEALS 114-161

Introductory : 114. Life of Aristotle : 114. Aristotle's Relation to Plato : 116. Aristotle's Method : 122. Politics, an incomplete work : 123. The New Science of Politics : 126. The State, its Nature, Origin and Purpose : 128. The Nature of Household : 135. The Nature and Justification of Slavery : 137. The Nature and Use of Property : 140. Aristotle's Criticism of Communism of Wives : 144. Constitutional Rule versus Despotic Rule : 147. Citizenship : 149. Meaning of Constitution : 152. Classification of Constitutions : 154. Conflicting Claims to Power : 156. Monarchy : 160. Summary : 161. The Ideal Life : 161. The Ideals of the State : 162.

Chapter 7. ARISTOTLE (CONTINUED) : POLITICAL ACTUALITIES. 165-183

Introductory : 165. The New Trend in Aristotle : 165. The Democratic Principle : 167. The Oligarchic Principle : 168. Polity : 168. Tyranny : 171. Organs of Government : 171. Revolutions : 171. The Causes of Revolutions : 173. Precautions against Revolutions : 176. The Hellenic and the Universal in Aristotle : 177. The Influence of Aristotle : 181,

Chapter 8. POLITICAL THOUGHT AFTER ARISTOTLE. 184-196

Introductory : 184. The Rise of the New Attitude : 185. The General Nature of the New Schools : 189. Epicureanism : 189. Stoicism : 190.

Chapter 9. ROMAN POLITICAL IDEALS. 196-216

Introductory : 196. Political Career of Rome : 197. Impact of Greece on Rome : 198. Development of Roman Law : 198. Development of Law under the Empire : 201. Roman Concept of Law : 202. Roman Contribution to Political Thought ; 204. Polybius : 207. Cicero : 208. Seneca : 213.

Chapter 10. THE INFLUENCE OF EARLY CHRISTIANITY. 217-243

Introductory : 217. The Legacy of Greece and Rome : 217. The Contribution of Christianity : 219. The Growth of the Christian Church : 222. The effects of the Triumph of Christianity : 223. Political Ideas of Early Christianity : 226. The Emergence of a New Problem : 231. Saint Ambrose : 252. St. Augustine : 233. Augustine's Philosophy of History : 235. The City of God and the Earthly State : 237. Augustine on Justice and Peace : 239. Augustine on State and Government : 240. The State and the Church : 241. Influence of St. Augustine : 243. Gregory the Great : 243. The Theory of Two Swords : 244.

Chapter 11. THE GENERAL BACKGROUND OF MEDIEVAL POLITICAL THOUGHT. 247-267

Introductory : 247. Beginnings of the Medieval Era : 247. Chief Features of the Medieval Period : 248. Growth of the Papal Power : 250. Political Ideas of the Teutons : 256. Feudalism : 260. The Holy Roman Empire : 267.

Chapter 12. MEDIEVAL POLITICAL THOUGHT : CONTROVERSY BETWEEN THE CHURCH AND THE STATE

268—295

Introductory : 268. Universalism, the note of Medieval Thought : 270. The Era of Conflict between the State and the Church : 272. Relation between the State and the Church: Supremacy of the State : 279. Supremacy of the Church : 279, Independence of the State : 285. The Fourteenth Century Controversy : 288.

Chapter 13. SOME MEDIEVAL THINKERS.

296—341

Introductory : 296. Gregory VII : 296. John of Salisbury : 297. St. Thomas Aquinas : 300. Thomas on Law : 306. Egidius Romanus : 314. Dante : 317. John of Paris ; 322. Marsilio of Padua : 327. William of Occam 337.

*Chapter 14. THE CLOSE OF THE MIDDLE AGES.
THE CONCILIAR MOVEMENT.*

342—367

Introductory : 342. Conciliar Movement : 344. The Schism ; 345. Purposes of the Conciliar Movement : 346. The Council of Constance : 347. The Council of Basle and the Failure of the Movement : 350. Importance of the Movement : 351. John Gerson : 352. Nicholas of Cusa : 354. Medieval Idea of Kingship : 360. Medieval Idea of Law : 362. Medieval Idea of Representation : 363. Natural Law : 364.

Appendix : Political Ideas of Manu.

369—370

ix

...

...

...

...

...

i—vi