

(iv)

and underdeveloped Economies—Disguised unemployment—its form and extent etc. etc.)	... 467
Chapter 34—Full Employment—Monetary Policy (Monetary Policy and Full employment—Aims and objectives of Monetary Policy—Limitations—Monetary measures during inflation—during depression—Monetary Policy in Underdeveloped Economies)	... 480
Chapter 35—Full Employment—Fiscal Policy (Meaning—Importance—Objectives of Fiscal Policy—Instruments of Fiscal Policy—Taxation—Public Expenditure—Budget—Public Debt—Fiscal Policy in Inflation and Deflation—Fiscal Policy and Monetary Policy—Fiscal policy in Underdeveloped Economy)	... 493
Chapter 36—Other Measures for Full Employment (Other Measures—Wage adjustment—Price Flexibility including Price Control and Rationing—Consumption Function—Stabilizing Income—Automatic Stabilizers—Organization of Labour Market—Diversification of Industries—International Measures)	... 508
Appendix III—A Note on Incomes Policy	... 520
Chapter 37—Keynesian Theory and Underdeveloped Economies (Keynes' General Theory—Inapplicability of its assumptions in underdeveloped Economies—Keynesian Tools and Their Inapplicability—Keynesian Economics in Developing and Socialist Economies—Conclusion)	... 523
Chapter 38—What remains 30 years after Keynes wrote the General Theory?	... 538
Glossary of Concepts	... 546
University Questions	... 557
Index	