

vi

Chapter 4
FUNCTIONS OF VILLAGE PANCHAYATS 25
 The Present Position—Proposals of U. P. Local Self-Government Committee—Proposals of the Balwantray Mehta Committee—Criticism—Conclusion—Judicial Duties of Village Panchayats—Method of Grant of Powers.

Chapter 5
LOCAL AREAS AND AUTHORITIES 31
 The Existing Local Areas and Authorities—No Difference of opinion about Municipalities—Notified Areas should be abolished—The Areas of Rural Local Government—Local Areas and Authorities below the District Boards—The Scheme of Three Sets of Rural Areas—Intermediate Authorities have not worked well—Reaction against the District as an Area of Rural Local Government—The case for and against the Village as a Local Area—The Local Authority above the Village Panchayats — Balwantray Mehta Committee's Scheme for Rural Local Areas—The Case for the District Board—Adjustment Within and beyond the District —The Conclusion.

Chapter 6
CONSTITUTIONAL STRUCTURE OF LOCAL BODIES 43
 Present Constitution of Local Bodies—Constituencies and method of Election—Minority Representation—Secret Voting by Coloured Ballot Boxes—The Size of the Boards —Term—The Constitution of Rural Local Bodies as proposed by the Balwantray Mehta Committee—Criticism of Mehta Committee Proposals regarding the Constitution of Local Bodies.

Chapter 7
THE LOCAL EXECUTIVE 49
 The Nature of Local Executive in India at Present — Instability of the President's Office—Issues Involved in the reform of the Local Executive—No Ideal Solution—Proposals of the U. P. Local Self-Government Committee—Criticism—Local Executive under the Balwantray Mehta Scheme—Suggestions for the Improvement of the Plan—Conclusion.

vii

Chapter 8
THE PERMANENT SERVICE 60
 Importance of Permanent Services—Present Condition of Local Services—Recruitment—Security of Tenure—Absence of Political Neutrality—Need for Drastic Reform—The Suggested Remedy of Provincialization—Proposals of the U. P. Local Self-Government Committee—Objections to Provincialization — Reforms Actually Made—Local Service under Balwantray Mehta Report—The Alternative to Provincialization—Recruitment—Security of Tenure — Transfers—Promotions—Conditions of Service—The Subordinate Staff —In-Service Training—Unions and Associations of Local Employees—Administrative Organization within the Local Bodies.

Chapter 9
THE PRESIDENT—CENTRAL CONTROL 75
 The Forms of Central Control Today—The Agency of State Control—Criticism—The Proposals of the U. P. Local Self-Government Committee—Criticism of the Scheme—Central Control and Reforms—External Control under the Balwantray Mehta Scheme.

Chapter 10
LOCAL FINANCE 85
 Sources of Local Revenues—Income of Indian Local Bodies Expenditure—Causes of the low Income and Expenditure of Indian Local Bodies—Local Borrowing—Government Grants —Proposal for enlarging the Resources of Local Bodies—Local Finance Enquiry Committee, 1950—Taxation Enquiry Commission Report 1954-55—Local Finance under Balwantray Mehta Committee Scheme—Criticisms and Suggestions Budget Making and Control of Expenditure—Audit.

Chapter 11
SOME CONCLUDING OBSERVATIONS 100

Chapter 12
THE FUTURE OUTLOOK 103

INDEX 107