

MODERN BUSINESS

Its Organization and Management

By

SATYA SARAN CHATTERJEE, M.A.

Commerce, Burdwan University. Author of "An Introduction to Management—Its Principles & Techniques".

TTA ... THE WORLD PRESS PRIVATE LTD
1975

CONTENTS

CHAPTER

PAGE

Part One—Introduction

1. THE NATURE AND PURPOSE OF BUSINESS 1
Meaning of business—Classification of business activities: industry, commerce and trade—Classification of business enterprises: industrial, marketing, financial and service enterprises—Motives and objectives of business—Social responsibilities of business—Basic common features of business—Formal study of business: Business & Economics, Business & Ethics, and Business & other sciences.

2. SIGNIFICANCE OF ORGANIZATION, MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL 17
Meaning of organization: process of organization, principles of organization and significance of organization—Meaning of management: management & organization, management & administration, levels of management and importance of management—Functions of management—Nature and significance of co-ordination—Nature and significance of control.

Part Two—Business Organization

3. OWNERSHIP FORMS OF BUSINESS 28
Nature of ownership forms—Sole proprietorship: advantages, disadvantages and evaluation—Partnership: basic features and subsidiary features—Formation of partnership and its legal aspects: partnership deed, rights and obligations of partners and registration of firms—Classes of partners and partnership—Dissolution and liquidation of partnership—Advantages and disadvantages of partnership—Limited partnership: features, merits and defects—Joint Hindu family business; joint Hindu family and partnership—Company or corporation: features, company and partnership, and company and joint-stock company—Advantages & disadvantages of company—Co-operative association: features, co-operative versus company, classes of co-operatives, and merits and drawbacks of co-operatives—Development of co-operatives in India: new measures for development—Considerations in the choice of forms.

4. PROMOTION AND FORMATION OF COMPANIES
 Meaning and nature of promotion: steps in promotion—Incorporation of companies: different methods of incorporation and types of companies—Registration of company—Memorandum of Association: forms and contents, its clauses and alteration of Memorandum—Articles of Association: forms and contents, alteration of Articles and Memorandum versus Articles—Prospectus: its contents, issue of prospectus and liability for mis-statements—Allotment of shares: irregular allotment and allotment returns—Commencement of business: minimum subscription.

5. REGULATION OF COMPANY FORMATION
 History of Company law in India: desiderata & objectives of the reform of 1956—Important amendments to the Companies Act—Regulatory measures concerning company formation: additional matters in prospectus, administrative machinery, security listing and sanction of Capital Issues Control—Company law administration: Registrars, Regional Directors, Company Law Board, Company Law Advisory Committee and working of companies—Capital Issues Control: working of the control—Growth and significance of private limited companies: privileges of private limited companies and obligations of private limited companies.

Part Three—Corporate Management

6. COMPANY MANAGEMENT AND THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS 10
 Nature of company management—Problems of company management: reasons for separation of ownership and management—Regulatory measures as to management: shareholders' control and direct restrictions on management—Organization of the board of directors: requisite conditions for appointments, number of directors, members of the board, minority representation, tenure of office, remuneration of directors and meetings of the board—Powers and duties of directors: position, powers, duties and liabilities of directors—Critical study of the board: character of the board, role of the board and effectiveness of the board.

7. COMPANY MANAGEMENT AND THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE . . 12
 Forms of the chief executive—Executive committee of directors—Managing directors or whole-time directors—The old system of managing agents: origin & importance, achievements of managing agents, failures of managing agents and reasons for the abolition of the system—Managers.

8. SECRETARIAL PRACTICE AND COMPANY PROCEDURES . . 134
 The company secretary: rights & powers, duties & responsibilities and liabilities—Shares and shareholders: share capital, shares versus stock, classes of shares, voting rights on shares, shares with & without a par value, issue of no-par shares, issue of shares at premium & discount, right shares and bonus shares—Debentures: classes of debentures, shares versus debentures and kinds of securities—Methods of marketing securities: brokerage & commission—Evidence of share ownership: share certificate versus share warrant—Transfer of shares: registered transfer, blank transfer, mortgage of shares, transmission of shares and lien & forfeiture of shares—Books of the company: statutory & optional books, registers of members, debenture holders and of mortgages & charges and annual return—Company meetings and their formalities: statutory meeting, annual general meeting, extra-ordinary general meeting, directors' report, chairman's speech and other formalities—Resolutions: ordinary, special and resolution requiring special notice—Minutes.
9. OFFICE ORGANIZATION AND ROUTINES 161
 The business office—Organization of the office—Office location and layout—Office systems and routines: routines as to correspondence—Office machines and equipments—Methods of filing: basis of filing, filing equipments and indexing.

Part Four—Business Combinations

10. BUSINESS EXPANSION AND SIZE OF UNITS 175
 Expansion of business: internal and external—Causes of combinations—Advantages and evils of combination—Limits to the expansion—Factors affecting the size—Too big enterprises—Size of industrial units in India: large industries, small industries as ancillaries to large industries and biggest companies in India.
11. CLASSIFICATION OF COMBINATION 191
 Types of combination: horizontal, vertical and circular—Forms of combinations—Associations: trade associations, chambers of commerce and informal agreements—Pools—Cartels: growth of cartels in Germany and international combines—Combinations trusts—The Community of interests—Holding companies: advantages, disadvantages and regulation—Consolidations: consolidation vs. cartel—Combinations in Indian industries: industry-wise and form-wise combinations and joint enterprises—Government policy on combinations: Mahalanobis Committee, Monopolies Enquiry Commission, and the Monopolies and Restrictive Trade Practices Act.

Part Five—Management in Action

12. OPERATING ORGANIZATION AND STRUCTURAL FORMS . . . 219
 Departmentation: considerations in grouping activities—Nature of delegation: benefits and difficulties of delegation and principles and practices of delegation—Nature and importance of decentralization—Degrees of decentralization: functional organization structures and divisional organization structures—Types of authority relationships: line authority, staff authority, functional authority and line & staff system—Line and staff organization: merits and defects—Committees in organization.

13. THE PROCESS OF PLANNING AND CONTROL . . . 233
 Nature of planning: components of planning—Policies for the business—Essential steps in control: establishment of standards, evaluation of performance and correction of deviations—Means of measuring performance.

14. TOOLS OF FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL CONTROL . . . 240
 Accounting records and control: ratio analysis—Budgeting and budgetary control: types of budgets and advantages of budgetary control—Cost accounting and cost control: elements of cost, allocation of overhead expenses, fixed & variable expenses and standards for cost control.

15. SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO MANAGEMENT . . . 253
 The nature of approach—Scientific management: principles and features of scientific management, Taylor's functional foremanship and criticisms of scientific management—Rationalization: meaning, rationalization vs. scientific management, advantages and difficulties of rationalization—Rationalization in Indian industries—Productivity: nature and meaning, measurement of productivity, importance of productivity analysis, tools of productivity, contributory to productivity and productivity movement in India.

Part Six—Financing Activities

16. THE CORPORATE CAPITAL STRUCTURE . . . 273
 Meaning of capital structure—Amount of capitalization: theories of capitalization, over- and under-capitalization, evils and remedies thereof—Composition of capital structure: factors of capital gearing—Estimating total capital requirements: fixed capital, working capital, amount of working capital and main determinants thereof—Company failures, reorganization and liquidations: causes of company failures and reorganization & liquidations under the company law.

17. FINANCIAL MARKETS AND RAISING OF CAPITAL . . . 292
 Sources of capital—The financial market: bill market, money market and Deposit Insurance Corporation of India—Capital market of India: growth of Indian capital market, investment trusts, the Unit Trust of India, Industrial banks, insurance companies and the LIC of India, provident funds, building societies and special finance corporations—Raising of capital—Sale of securities: place of debentures and foreign investments—Non-banking borrowings: private deposits, public deposits and Indigenous bankers—Commercial banks: social control of banks and nationalization of 14 banks—Retained profits: dividend policy—The State assistance.

18. SPECIAL FINANCE AND DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS . . . 319
 The Industrial Finance Corporation of India: objects & scope, forms of assistance, financial resources, management, working, evaluation of activities and future—The State Financial Corporations: functions, financial resources, management, working and critical review—The Industrial Credit and Investment Corporation of India: forms of assistance, financial resources, management and working—The Industrial Development Bank of India: objects and scope, financial assistance, financial resources, management and working—The Industrial Reconstruction Corporation of India: objects and scope, functions and forms of assistance, financial resources and working—The National Industrial Development Corporation—The National Small Industries Corporation.

19. SHORT-TERM FINANCING AND CREDIT INSTRUMENTS . . . 339
 Nature and extent of credit: credit information and credit analysis—Forms of credit: bank credit, trade credit, instalment credit and negotiable instruments—Cheques: drawing of cheques, endorsement, general rules for endorsement, crossing of cheques and dishonour of cheques—Bills of exchange: inland and foreign bills, acceptance of bills, due date & days of grace, negotiation of bills, accommodation bills, dishonour of bills, and acceptance & payment for honour—Promissory notes—Hundis—Other credit instruments.

20. STOCK EXCHANGES . . . 357
 Nature of stock exchange: functions & services and importance of security listing—Organization of stock exchanges: constitution, management, membership, brokers & jobbers on the London Exchange and tarawaniwalas & brokers on the Bombay Exchange—Methods of trading: clients' orders and their execution, settlement of ready delivery contracts, settlement of forward delivery contracts, methods of trading on the London Exchange and stock exchange clearing house—Stock exchange speculation: benefits and evils of speculation, kinds of speculators and forms of speculative transactions—Stock exchange reforms: the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, Directorate of Stock Exchanges and appraisal of the reform measure.

CHAPTER

Part Seven—Manufacturing Activities

21. PLANT LOCATION, LAYOUT AND BUILDING ... 382
 Location of industries: Weber's deductive theory and Florence's inductive theory—General factors of location: primary factors and secondary factors—Specific location factors—Concentration and dispersal of industries: Government policy on location—Plant layout: systems of production and product & process layout—Plant building—Organizing for production or factory organization.
22. PRODUCTION CONTROL AND METHODS ENGINEERING ... 397
 Production planning and control: routing, scheduling, dispatching and inspection—Statistical quality control and principles of S.Q.C.—Automation and cybernetics—Methods engineering: use of methods—Methods standardization—Work simplification.
23. PURCHASING AND STOREKEEPING ... 408
 Purchasing of materials: quantity and quality, purchasing policies and procedures for purchasing materials—Storekeeping of materials: inventory valuation and handling of materials.

Part Eight—Personnel Activities

24. PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT ... 415
 Meaning of personnel management—Importance of personnel management—Selection of personnel: job analysis, sources of recruits, selection procedures and recruitment practices in India—Placement, promotion and transfer: job evaluation and merit rating—Education and training: training methods in India—Evaluation of personnel management: turnover and absenteeism, and labour efficiency.

CHAPTER

PAGE

25. INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS ... 428
 Meaning of industrial relations—Aims of industrial relations—Motivation of employees: labour participation in management—Industrial discipline: the code of discipline in India—Industrial disputes: causes of disputes and consequence & extent of disputes—Role of trade unions: aims of trade unions, trade unions in India, weaknesses of unions in India and trade union legislation—Settlement of industrial disputes: voluntary methods and statutory methods.
26. WAGE SYSTEMS ... 449
 Consideration in wage payments—Forms of wage payments: time wages, piece rates and modified time & piece rates—Incentive plans of wage payment: the Halsey Premium Plan, the Rowan Premium Plan, the Taylor Differential Piece-rate Plan, the Gantt Task & Bonus Plan, the Emerson Efficiency Bonus Plan and the Bedeaux Points Premium Plan—Supplementary Incentive plans—Profits sharing and co-partnership—Wage policy and wage legislation: the Minimum Wages Act, the fair wages committee, the profit sharing committee, compensation for lay off & retrenchment, the Payment of Wages Act, wage boards and Bonus Commission and the Payment of Bonus Act.
27. EMPLOYEE WELFARE AND LABOUR LEGISLATION ... 466
 Welfare activities and their objects & effectiveness—Labour Legislation: factory legislation, mining legislation, plantation legislation and social security legislation including the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Maternity Benefit Acts, the Employees' State Insurance Act, the Coal Mines Provident Fund & Bonus Schemes Act and the Employees' Provident Fund Act—Industrial housing.

Part Nine—Marketing Activities

28. PRODUCT MARKETS AND MARKETING FUNCTIONS ... 480
 Market and its classification—Marketing functions—Buying & assembling—Selling & dispersing—Storing: warehouse & their advantages—Standardization, grading, branding, packing & packaging—Financing—Pricing: resale price maintenance & price marking—Risk assuming—Nature of insurance: insurable risks, principles of insurance, life insurance, fire insurance, marine insurance, casualty & liability insurance and fidelity & guarantee insurance—Lloyd's organization.

CHAPTER

29. TRANSPORTATION AND TRAFFIC SERVICES
 Functions of transport—Different modes of transport and their comparative advantages and disadvantages: motor transport, railways, water transport, air transport and pipelines—The Indian railways: development, nationalization, fixation of rates, basis of rates and rail-road competition and co-ordination, means of co-ordination and road development in India—Shipping lines in India: growth, nationalization, shipping competition and co-operation and coastal shipping—Airlines in India: evolution and nationalization—Traffic services and carriage documents like railway receipts, bill of lading & consignment note.
30. ADVERTISING AND SALES PROMOTION
 Role of advertising and salesmanship—Importance of advertising: advantages, criticisms and regulation thereof—Pros and cons of advertising—Advertising media: selecting the advertising media and measuring effects of advertisement—Advertising copy and its make-up: advertising themes and advertising layout—Advertising campaign and marketing research—The advertising agency—Salesmanship: importance of salesmanship and the team of salesmen—Sales promotion: premiums, samples, contests, fairs & exhibitions and public relations.
31. CHANNELS OF DISTRIBUTION
 Trade channel and its selection: considerations in selecting channels—Classes of middlemen: mercantile agents, wholesalers and retailers—Elimination of middlemen—Types of retail organization: unit stores & others—Multiple shops: advantages and limitations—Departmental stores: advantages, limitations and departmental store vs. multiple shop—Discount houses: potentiality of the discount house in India—Mail-order houses—Other types of retailing: super-markets, vending machines and direct selling by manufacturers.
32. FOREIGN TRADE
 Difficulties of foreign trade: exchange control and import quotas & licence restrictions—Methods of securing foreign trade—Price quotations and use of codes—Export trade procedure: indent or order, shipping & credit enquiry, packing & forwarding, customs formalities, bill of lading & freight note, shipping documents, marine insurance and securing payment—Import trade procedure: indent or order, letter of credit & exchange booking, advice note & documentary bills and customs & clearing formalities—Some aspects of foreign trade: customs duties, bonded warehouse, chartering of ships and letters of credit.

CHAPTER

33. COMMODITY EXCHANGES AND FUTURES TRADING 569
 Nature of commodity exchanges—Cash and futures markets: features of futures contracts—Organization and operation of exchanges: constitution, management, membership and methods of trading—Nature and functions of speculation: kinds of speculative transactions—Importance of hedging: limitations of hedging—Evils of futures trading—Regulation of futures trading and the Forward Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1952—Some organized commodity markets: tea auction, raw jute & jute goods, cotton and oilseeds.
- Part Ten—Role of State in Business*
34. ECONOMIC AND INDUSTRIAL POLICY 588
 Evolution of mixed economy: features of mixed economy—Nationalization of industries: arguments for and against it—The industrial policy: industrial policy statement of 1973—The Industries (Development & Regulation) Act and its provisions—The problem of foreign capital: some aspects of foreign capital.
35. MANAGEMENT OF STATE ENTERPRISES 599
 Forms of organization—Departmental organization—Statutory or public corporations—The Government Company—Differences in the forms of organization—Shortcomings of public enterprises—Administrative problems of State enterprises: organization, public accountability and autonomy & efficiency.
36. INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND EXPORT PROMOTION 612
 Development of large-scale industries and measures for their development—Small-scale industries & their development: the NSIC, SIDCs, financial help, technical help, industrial estates, marketing assistance and industrial co-operative; separate boards for village & cottage industries—Export promotion: the STC, the MMTC, ECGC and other measures, export promotion and the EEC countries.
37. PUBLIC UTILITIES AND THEIR REGULATION 624
 Nature of activities—Peculiar problems—Regulation of working—Determination of rates and questions involved therein.
- SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY 629
- SUBJECT INDEX 631