

R D DIKSHIT

Political Geography

A Contemporary Perspective

Contents

Introduction vii

Acknowledgements xi

List of Figures xvii

- 1. History, Development, Nature and Scope of Political Geography 1
 - History and Development 1
 - Scientific Determinism and Social Darwinism of Post-Ritterian Geography 5
 - Ratzel's laws of spatial growth of States 6
 - Ratzel's contributions to scientific political geography: a critical evaluation 8
 - Followers of Ratzel and the Rise and Demise of German Geopolitics 11
 - The German geopolitik 12
 - Nature of Political Geography 14
 - The Retreat from Political Geography 16
 - From the study of power politics to Geopolitik 16
 - A new dispensation: Chorology and exceptionalism 17
 - Impact of the new dispensation: rehabilitation, decline and neglect 19
 - Scope of Political Geography 20
 - Political Geography of Conflict Resolution: a Contemporary Perspective on the Scope of Political Geography 23
 - References 25

- 2. The State as a Politico-Territorial Phenomenon 28
 - Introduction 28
 - An Expanse of Territory Delimited by Boundaries 29
 - Physical attributes of territory 29
 - An Effective Administrative System 46
 - Degree of political control 49
 - The form of internal organization 49
 - The effectiveness of central authority 49
 - Population Factors in Political Geography 49
 - Size of population 50
 - Density and distribution 51
 - Quality of population 51
 - The structure of population 51
 - Ethnic-cultural diversity 53
 - Economic Structure and Circulatory System 54
 - Models of Morphology of State-Areas 55
 - (1) The Old World model 55
 - (2) The New World model 55
 - (3) The Third World model 55
 - References 57

- 3. Boundary Studies in Political Geography 59
 - Introduction 59
 - Distinction between frontiers and boundaries 59
 - Classification of International Boundaries 60
 - The genetic or functional classification 61
 - Morphological classification 62
 - The Changing Importance of International Boundaries as Elements in Inter-State Relations 70
 - Boundaries as Economic Barriers 70
 - Boundaries as barriers to information flows 73
 - Classification and Case Studies 75

xiv Political Geography

Border Landscapes 76
Advantages and disadvantages of life in border zone 77
References 78

4. Core-Areas and Capitals 80

Core-Areas 80
The core-area concept: some clarifications 81 Nuclear core: some case studies 82
Capitals 90
Types of capitals 91 Capitals: a morphological classification 92 Factors in the development of capital cities 93
Federal Capitals 95
Capitals in classical federations essentially new and neutral 96 New and neutral capitals not needed in every type of federation 97
Conclusion 100
References 101

5. Global Strategic Views 102

Introduction 102
Geostrategic Ideas of Mahan 103
Determinants of Sea Power 104
Mackinder's Heartland Thesis 106
Fundamentals of the Heartland thesis 107 The modified concept of "strategic Heartland" 111 The modified Heartland of 1943 112 A critical re-evaluation of Mackinder's thesis 114
Variants of the Heartland Thesis 115
Spykman and the Rimland theory 117 Meaning and the functional criteria 120 Hooson: The Heart of the Heartland 120
Contemporary Relevance of the Heartland Thesis 122
Global Strategy in an Air Age 123
Strategy in a New Ocean Age 126
References 129

6. Approaches to the Study of Political Geography 131

Methodological Developments until 1950 131
The Functional Approach in Political Geography 134
Analysis of the political geography of a State: internal 134 Analysis of External functions 139
Summary and Conclusion 141
A Unified Field Theory of Political Geography 142
The idea-area chain 142 Application to political areas 143 Studies of national power 144
Boundaries, capitals, cities 144 Kinetic and Dynamic fields 144 Utility of the theory 145
Towards a Generic Approach in Political Geography 146
A Geographical Model for Political Systems Analysis 149
Political process 150 Spatial attributes 151 The model 152
A Critical Summing Up 154
Some other Methodological Statements 156
References 158

7. Nation and the State: Geographical Perspectives on State-formation and Nation-building 160

State and Nation 160
Nation-building 161
The Geographical Perspective 162
The State in Political Geography 164
State-idea 164
Study of Nation-building through the Analysis of Spatial Patterns 165
Nation-building in Federal Societies: Some General Patterns 166

Appendix	171
An Introduction to Transaction Flow Analysis	171
References	173
8. The Impress of Politics Upon the Environment	175
Introduction	175
The Impress of Effective Central Authority Upon the Landscape	175
Expressions of security	175
Special features of boundaries	176
Expressions of governmental activity	177
Laws resulting in landscape modifications	178
Government and regional geography	178
Towards a Framework for the Study of Effective Central Authority upon the Landscape	179
Form or structure of government	179
The governmental process	180
The stage of resource development	180
Cultural geographic base as a modifying element	181
The hypothesis	182
Discussion	182
India: a case study	183
Geography of Governmental Spending	188
Political Landscape and Value Systems: A Developmental Approach	190
Socio-political values and landscape	191
Metropolitan political landscape	193
Conclusion	195
References	195
9. Geography and Federalism	197
The Nature of Federalism	198
Federation, Confederation and Unitary States	198
Confederations, leagues and alliances	199
Federalism as a constitutional compromise	201
Stages of Federalism	202
Federalism and Democracy	205
The Geography of Federalism	206
Geographers and Federalism	209
Area, population and the federal form of government	212
The concept of symmetry and asymmetry and the nature of federal societies	213
Conclusion	215
References	216
10. The Geography of Colonialism	219
The Nature of Colonialism	219
Types of Colonialism	221
The concept of administrative distance	222
Colonialism: A Historical Overview	222
Factors in Decolonization	226
Patterns of Colonial Rule	228
Indirect Rule	228
Direct Rule	229
The post-1945 Developments and Neocolonialism	230
Suggestions for Research	235
References	236
11. Electoral Studies in Political Geography	237
Place of Electoral Studies in Political Geography	238
Approaches to the Study of Geography of Elections	240
The areal or traditional approach	240
Spatial or behavioural approach	247
Approaches to the Electoral Studies and the Regional Context	252
Geography of Campaigning	252
Spatial Organization of Electoral Areas and the Geography of Representation	253
Electoral Abuse:
Malapportionment	253
Gerrymandering	254
References	256
Index	259