

Jawaharlal Nehru

The Discovery of India

Manohar Memorial College
LIBRARY
Accession No. 414
Classification
PATEHABAD (BISSAR)

Asia Publishing House

CONTENTS

Chapter 1 Ahmadnagar Fort

Twenty Months—Famine—The War for Democracy—Time in Prison:
The Urge to Action—The Past in its Relation to the Present—Life's Philosophy—The Burden of the Past . . . . . 15

Chapter 2 Badenweiler, Lausanne

Kamala—Our Marriage and After—The Problem of Human Relationships—Christmas 1935—Death—Mussolini. Return. . . . . 39

Chapter 3 The Quest

The Panorama of India's Past—Nationalism and Internationalism—
India's Strength and Weakness—The Search for India—Bharat Mata—
The Variety and Unity of India—Travelling through India—General
Elections—The Culture of the Masses—Two Lives . . . . . 49

Chapter 4 The Discovery of India

Indus Valley Civilization—The Coming of the Aryans—What is Hinduism?—The Earliest Records. Scripture and Mythology—The Vedas—
The Acceptance and Negation of Life—Synthesis and Adjustment. The Beginnings of the Caste System—The Continuity of Indian Culture—
The Upanishads—The Advantages and Disadvantages of an Individualistic Philosophy—Materialism—The Epics, History, Tradition, and Myth—
The Mahabharata—The Bhagavad Gita—Chandragupta and Chanakya.
The Maurya Empire Established—The Organization of the State—Buddha's
Teaching—The Buddha Story—Ashoka . . . . . 69

Chapter 5 Through the Ages

Nationalism and Imperialism under the Guptas—South India—Peaceful Development and Methods of Warfare—India's Urge to freedom—Progress versus Security—India and Iran—India and Greece—The Old Indian Theatre—The Vitality and Persistence of Sanskrit—Buddhist Philosophy—
Effect of Buddhism on Hinduism—How did Hinduism Absorb Buddhism in India?—The Indian Philosophical Approach—The Six Systems of Philosophy—India and China—Indian Colonies and Culture in South-East Asia—The Influence of Indian Art Abroad—Old Indian Art—India's Foreign Trade—Mathematics in Ancient India—Growth and Decay . . . 136

Chapter 6 New Problems

The Arabs and the Mongols—The Flowering of Arab Culture and Contacts with India—Mahmud of Ghazni and the Afghans—The Indo-Afghans.
South India. Vijayanagar. Babar. Sea-Power—Synthesis and Growth of Mixed Culture. Purdah. Kabir. Guru Nanak. Amir Khusrau—The Indian Social Structure. Importance of the Group—Village Self-Government. The Shukra Nitisara—The Theory and Practice of Caste.
The Joint Family—Babar and Akbar. The Process of Indianization—The

Contrast between Asia and Europe in Mechanical Advance and Creative Energy—Development of a Common Culture—Aurangzeb Puts the Clock Back. Growth of Hindu Nationalism. Shivaji—The Marathas and the British Struggle for Supremacy. Triumph of the British—The Backwardness of India and the Superiority of the English in Organization and Technique—Ranjit Singh and Jai Singh—The Economic Background of India. The Two Englands . . . . . 2

Chapter 7 The Last Phase (1) Consolidation of British Rule and Rise of Nationalist Movement

The Ideology of Empire. The New Caste—The Plunder of Bengal Helps the Industrial Revolution in England—The Destruction of India's Industry and Decay of her Agriculture—India Becomes for the First Time a Political and Economic Appendage of Another Country—The Growth of the Indian States System—Contradictions of British Rule in India. Ram Mohan Roy. The Press. Sir William Jones. English Education in Bengal—The Great Revolt of 1857. Racialism—The Technique of British Rule. Balance and Counterpoise—Growth of Industry. Provincial Differences—Reform and other Movements among Hindus and Moslems—Kemal Pasha. Nationalism in Asia. Iqbal—Heavy Industry Begins. Tilak and Gokhale. Separate Electorates. . . . . 24

Chapter 8 The Last Phase (2) Nationalism vs Imperialism

Helplessness of the Middle Classes. Gandhi Comes—The Congress becomes a Dynamic Organisation under Gandhi's Leadership—Congress Government in the Provinces—Indian Dynamism versus British Conservatism in India—The Question of Minorities. The Moslem League. Mr. M. A. Jinnah—The National Planning Committee—The Congress and Industry. Big Business versus Cottage Industry—Government Checks Industrial Growth. War Production is Diversion from Normal Production . . . . . 35

Chapter 9 The Last Phase (3) World War II

The Congress Develops a Foreign Policy—The Congress Approach to War—Reaction to War—Another Congress Offer and its Rejection by the British Government. Mr. Winston Churchill—Individual Civil Disobedience—After Pearl Harbour. Gandhi and Non-violence—Tension—Sir Stafford Cripps comes to India—Frustration—The Challenge: Quit India Resolution . . . . . 41

Chapter 10 Ahmadnagar Fort Again

The Chain of Happening—The Two Backgrounds: Indian and British—Mass Upheavals and their Suppression—Reactions Abroad—Reactions in India—India's Sickness. Famine—India's Dynamic Capacity—India's Growth Arrested—Religion, Philosophy, and Science—The Importance of the National Idea. Changes Necessary in India—India: Partition or Strong National State or Centre of supra-national State?—Realism and Geopolitics. World Conquest or World Association. The U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R.—Freedom and Empire—The Problem of Population. Falling Birth-rates and National Decay—The Modern Approach to an Old Problem—Epilogue . . . . . 479

Postscript . . . . . 567

Index . . . . . 605