

The Foundation of Muslim Rule in India

A History of the Establishment and Progress of the Turkish Sultanate of Delhi : 1206-1290 A. D.

THIRD REVISED EDITION

A. B. M. HABIBULLAH

Department of Islamic History & Culture,
University of Dacca.
Formerly of Calcutta University.

CENTRAL BOOK DEPOT

ALLAHABAD

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
I Introductory	...
II The Background	1
III The Initial Conquest	18
IV The Delhi Sultanate : 1206-1235	44
V Dynastic Troubles and Rebellions : 1235-1265...	73
VI Hindu Aggression : 1235-1265	96
VII Security And Consolidation : 1265-1287	120
VIII End of The Mamluk Dynasty : 1287-1290	135
IX Foreign Invasions And The Western Frontier...	157
X The Central Government	169
XI Provincial Administration	192
XII The Fighting Forces	207
XIII Law And The Judiciary	217
XIV Finance And Currency	225
XV Society And Culture	232
XVI The 'Protected People' (Zimmi)	244
XVII The Sultanate In Retrospect	264
XVIII Architectural Monuments	277
 Appendices
A. Baran " Farman " of Muizzuddin Muhammad
b. Sam	303
B. Site of Muizzuddin's battle with Prithviraja	304
C. Conversion of the Khokars	305
D. Bakhtiyar's expedition to Tibet	306
E. Bibliography	307
INDEX	315

Illustrations

I	Minaret of Jam.	Frontispiece
II	Kaiqubad embracing his father (From Qiranus-Sadain , B.M. Stowe Or, 14f. 95r.)	Facing page 140
III	Jalaluddin Mangbarni drying his clothes on the bank of the Indus (Jamiut-twarikh , Asiatic Society of Bengal Ms. no. D. 31, f. 86r.)	„ 174
IV	Jam Minaret : balconies	„ 286
V	Sultan Ghari. Delhi	„ 298

Maps

I	Northern India c. 1206	„ 72
II	The Kingdom of Delhi c. 1235	„ 94
III	The Delhi Sultanate c. 1280	„ 156
IV	The Western Frontier	„ 190

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The two photographs of the Jam Minaret are reproduced with the kind permission of Delegation Archaeologique Francaise in Afghanistan, received through Professor Schlumberger.

For permission to reproduce the miniature from the Qiranus-Sadain manuscript thanks are due to the authorities of the British Museum.

The painting from the Jamiut-Twarikh is reproduced with the courteous assistance and permission of the Asiatic Society of Bengal.