

THE HISTORY OF ARYAN RULE IN INDIA

[From the Earliest Times to the Death of Akbar]

6092

by

E.B. HAVELL

Author of "The Ancient and Medieval Architecture of India",
"Indian Architecture : Its Psychology, Structure and History",
"Indian Painting and Sculpture",
"The Ideals of Indian Art" etc.

CONTENTS

PART I: ĀRYĀVARTA BEFORE THE MUHAMMADAN CONQUEST

CHAPTER	PAGE
I. ARYANS AND NON-ARYANS IN VEDIC INDIA	3
The One in Many : The Aryans in Mesopotamia : Anglo-Saxons and Indo-Aryans : The Matriarchal and Patriarchal Systems : Aryan Village Organisation : Early Aryan Religion.
II. THE EPIC AGE	33
Political Development in the Epic Age : The Rāmāyana and Mahābhārata : The Sūrya-vamsa and the Chandra-vamsa.
III. THE BUDDHA AS A STATESMAN AND SOCIAL REFORMER	45
The Advent of Gautama Buddha : The Differentiation of his Teaching from that of Brahmanism : The Organisation of the Sangha : Parliamentary Institutions in Buddhist India : The Buddha's Social and Political Influence.
IV. THE BUDDHIST AND JAIN SANGHAS—ALEXANDER'S RAID	57
Aryan Genius for Organisation : The Work of the Buddhist Sangha before the Time of Asoka : Contact between Hellenic and Indo-Aryan Civilisation : The Persian Empire and Alexander's Raid into Northern India.
V. THE MAURYAN EMPIRE	66
The Revolt in India and the Founding of the Mauryan Empire : Chandragupta and his Policy as an Imperialist : The Aryan Freeman : The Centralisation of the Village Communities : The Co-operative System in Ancient India : Roads and Waterways : Irrigation : Department of Navigation : Chandragupta's Capital and Municipal Government : Drink Traffic and Gambling : Department of

ARYAN RULE IN INDIA

CHAPTER		PAGE
	Agriculture : Administration of Justice : The Imperial Council : Chandragupta's Daily Routine of Work : Court Life : Imperial Revenue : The Army and Navy : Chandragupta's Successor, Bindusāra.
VII. ASOKA	Accession of Asoka : Buddhist and Jain Propaganda : Asoka's Early Life and Military Conquests : His Conversion : The Edicts : His Foreign Missions : General Assembly of the Sangha at Pātaliputra : Asoka's State Pilgrimages : Progress of the Dharma in India and Beyond : Asoka as a Democratic Leader : Brahmanical Influence upon Buddhism : Asoka as a Popular Educator : The Weakness of Buddhism as a Social and Political Creed : The Development of Buddhist Ritualism : Death and Canonisation of Asoka as a Buddhist Saint : Asoka's Private Life.	89
VII. MAURYAN ART	The Monuments of Asoka's Reign : The Two Phases of Asokan Art : The King's Craftsmen and Aryan Artistic Traditions : 'Persian Bell-shaped Capitals' : The Symbolism of the Lotus Flower : Buddhist Hermitages and Chapter-houses : The Popular Art of Bharhut and Sānchi : Indo-Aryan Symbolism ; the Swastika, Stūpa, the Holy Mountain and Tree : The Buddha worshipped as the Deity : The Stūpa in Asoka's Time : The Temple of Bodhi-Gaya : The Sikhara : The Wooden and Stone Buildings in the Mauryan Epoch : The Continuity and Vitality of Indian Art Traditions : The Aniconic Symbolism of Asokan Sculpture.	104
VIII. THE BREAK-UP OF THE MAURYAN EMPIRE AND THE TURKI INVASIONS	Asoka's Successor, Dasaratha : The Break-up of the Mauryan Empire : The Sunga Dynasty : Pushyamitra revives the Great Horse-sacrifice : Buddhism and Brahmanism : Patānjali, the Sanskrit Grammarian, and the Revival of Brahman Scholarship : The Alleged Persecution of Buddhists by Pushyamitra : The End of the Sunga Dynasty : The Kāva Dynasty : Invasions of India by Turki Tribes : Menander and the Establishment of a Turki Buddhist Dynasty in the North-West Provinces.	119
IX. THE ARYANISATION OF SOUTHERN INDIA—THE KUSHĀN EMPIRE	The Shifting of Indo-Aryan Political Power Southwards : The Practical Application of Vedic Philosophy to Indian Life : Aryan Influence upon Early Dravidian Civilisation : The Dynasties of Southern India : Trade of Southern India in Early Times : The Rise of the Andhra Power : Popular	127

xviii

CONTENTS

CHAPTER		PAGE
	Buddhism and the Teaching of the Buddha : The Beginnings of Gandharan Art : Yoga in Early Buddhist Times : The Doctrine of Reincarnation : The Symbolism of Aryan Village-planning : Hellenistic Influence in the Kushān Empire : Mahāyāna Buddhism and the Spread of Buddhist Propaganda in China : The Extent of the Kushān Empire : Kanishka and Nāgārjuna : Intercourse between India and the Graeco-Roman World : Kanishka summons a General Assembly of the Sangha : Kanishka's Wars and Death : His Successors : Development of India's Maritime Trade and Colonies : Mahāyānist and Hīnayānist Art
X. THE GUPTA EMPIRE	The Beginning of the Gupta Era and the Indo-Aryan Revival : Chandragupta of the Gupta Line : The Buddhist Sangha in the Fourth Century A.D. : Chandragupta's Conquests : Aryan versus Turki Domination : Samudragupta and his Campaigns : The Revival of Sanskrit Learning : The Vaishnava Cult : Popular Education under the Gupta Emperors : The Gupta Recensions of the Indo-Aryan Epics.	147
XI. INDIA IN GUPTA TIMES	The Code of Manu : The Influence of Buddhist Ethics upon Indo-Aryan Social Life : The Theory of Kingship : Imperial Taxation : The Ethics of Ritualistic Purity : The Relationship of the Sexes : The Law of Karma : The Accession of Vikramāditya : The Iron Pillar at Delhi : Vikramāditya's Conquests : Fa-Hien's Observations on the Condition of India : Indian Culture in Gupta Times : Religious Tolerance : The Principles of Indo-Aryan Religion.	159
XII. THE HUNS IN INDIA—GUPTA ART AND ARCHITECTURE	Kumāragupta : Indo-Aryan Imperialism, its Strength and Weakness : Skandagupta and Buddhist Teaching : The Hun Invasions : The Indo-Aryan Military Code : Skandagupta's War Finance : His Death : Puragupta : Balāditya and the Wars with the Huns : The Hun Ruler Toramāna : Mihiragula's Savagery rouses a General Revolt : Defeat of the Huns by a Confederation of Indo-Aryan States : Effect of the Hun Invasions upon Indo-Aryan Social and Political Life : Gupta Architecture and the Derivation of the Sikhara.	171
XIII. HARSHA AND THE HEGIRA	Northern India after the Defeat of the Huns : The Rise of the Chalukyan Power in the Dekhan : Pulakēsini I : Harshavardhana of Thanēshar restores the Fortunes of Āryāvarta	187

xix

CHAPTER	PAGE
and is opposed by Pulakésin II : Harsha's Court : Hiuen-Tsang and his Indian Pilgrimage : His Observations on the Character and Condition of the People and the Government of the Country : Public Instruction : The Universities : Nālanda : Hiuen-Tsang's Visit to the King of Kāmarūpa : He attends Harsha's Court and instructs the Emperor and his Sister in the Tenets of the Mahāyāna School : Harsha's Personal Character : He convokes a General Assembly of the Saṅgha to listen to Hiuen-Tsang's Arguments : The Great Festival of the Trimūrti : Indian Political Life in the Seventh Century : The Hegira and the Influence of Buddhism on Islam.

XIV. THE DEKHAH AND SOUTHERN INDIA FROM THE SEVENTH TO THE ELEVENTH CENTURIES	212
Pulakésin II, Ruler of the Dekhan : The Rise of Saivism in the Dekhan and Southern India : The Parliament of Religions and its Authority : The Historical Evidence of Temple Architecture : Fergusson's Misleading Classifications : The Early Saiva Revivalists : Sankarāchārya and his Mission : Local Self-government in Southern India : The Sukrā-niti-sāra on Caste and the Organisation of Village Life ; Craft-guilds and Mercantile Corporations ; Imperial Taxation ; The Jurisdiction of the King and his Officers ; Planning of the Royal Capital ; the King's Ministers ; Parks and Forests ; Administration of Justice ; the Ethics of Sukrāchārya : The Dravidian and Aryan Ideals : South Indian Inscriptions relating to Local Self-government : The Chola System of Government : Brahmanical 'Tyranny' : The Chola Kings and the Aryanisation of the South.

XV. THE ARTISTIC RECORD OF SOUTHERN INDIA FROM THE SEVENTH TO THE ELEVENTH CENTURIES	242
--	-----

XVI. ISLAM'S FIRST FOOTING IN INDIA—NORTHERN INDIA FROM THE SEVENTH TO THE ELEVENTH CENTURIES	247
---	-----

Harsha's Successor, Arjūna or Arunāsa : Conflict with China and Tibet : The Arab Invasion of the Eighth Century : Effect upon Islam of Contact with Indo-Aryan Civilisation : The Political Degeneration of Āryāvarta : The Rajputs and Rājputāna : Struggles with the Arabs : Rajput Culture : The Gūrjara Kingdom : Kashmir and its Chronicles.

CONTENTS

PART II: THE MUHAMMADAN CONQUEST AND THE INDO-ARYAN RENAISSANCE

CHAPTER	PAGE
I. MAHMŪD OF GHAZNI	279
The Beginning of Turkish Domination in Islam : Mahmūd of Ghazni and his Raids into India : Death of Mahmūd : His Character.
II. THE AFGHAN AND TURKISH SULTANS OF DELHI	290
Fall of the Ghaznevide Empire : Revolt in India : The Afghan Dynasty of Ghūr : Shihab-ud-din's Invasion of India : Defeat and Death of Prithivi-rāja : Fall of Kanauj : Sack of Benares : Bihār raided : Qutb-ud-din, Sultan of Delhi : 'Saracenic' Culture and Indo-Aryan Art : The Political Ethics of Islam : Muhammadan Conquest of Gaur : Altamsh : The Khilji Dynasty : 'Ala-ud-din and his Kultur : Effect of his Policy upon Islam in India : Mubārīk Khan : The Tughlak Dynasty : Tughlak Shah : Muhammad Tughlak and his Atrocities.
III. FIRUZ SHAH	315
Firuz Shah and his Rajput Mother : His Early Life and Accession to the Throne of Delhi : His Administrative Reforms : Public Works : Organisation of Slavery : The Social Programme of Islam.
IV. THE PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECT OF THE MUHAMMADAN CONQUEST	324
The rapprochement between Hinduism and Islam : Development of the Aryanisation of the South : The Aryanisation of Islam and the Hindu Renaissance : Sunnis and Shīahs.
V. BREAK-UP OF THE DELHI EMPIRE	335
Musalman Gaur and its Architecture : The Sultans of Jaunpur : Husain Shah and his Patronage of Hindu Learning : The Cult of Satya-Pir : The Jaunpur School of Islam : The Kulbarga Dynasty : The Gujerat Dynasty and Wars with the Rajputs of Mewār : The Portuguese in India : The Afghan Dynasty of Mālwa : The Farūki Dynasty of Khāndēsh.

ARYAN RULE IN INDIA		PAGE
CHAPTER VI. MARCO POLO	India in the Thirteenth Century as described by Marco Polo.	359
VII. THE MOGUL INVASION	Timūr, the Ancestor of the Great Moguls, and his Invasion of India.	367
VIII. THE FOUNDING OF THE MOGUL EMPIRE	Effects of the Mogul Invasion : The Sayyid Dynasty of Delhi : The Lodi Dynasty : Bābur's Conquest.	378
IX. THE TURKISH DYNASTY OF BIJĀPŪR	Yūsuf 'Adil Shah and the War with Vijayanagar : Political Influences in the Dekhan : Ismail 'Adil Shah I : The Struggle for Mastery in the Dekhan : Ibrāhīm 'Adil Shah I : Ibrāhīm dismisses Turkish and Mogul Officers : Friendly Relations with Vijayanagar : Asad Khan : Wars with Ahmadnagar : Death of Ibrāhīm.	385
X. FALL OF VIJAYANAGAR	All 'Adil Shah renews the Alliance with Vijayanagar and attacks Ahmadnagar : The Musalman League for the Destruction of Vijayanagar : The Battle of Talikota.	399
XI. HINDU INDIA IN THE MUHAMMADAN PERIOD— CHAITĀNYA	Village Life : Chaitānya's Birthplace : His Boyhood : Enters a Sanscrit Tōl : Becomes the Head of a Tōl : His Fame as a Pandit : Philosophical Contests : Visit to Gayā and Change in his Spiritual Outlook : His Mission : Opposition from the Brahman Aristocracy : Popularity with the Masses : Influence upon Islam : Essence of his Teaching.	407
XII. BĀBUR	Bābur, his Character and Attitude towards Indian Life : Establishes his Capital at Agra : Defeat of the Rajputs : Administrative Measures and Public Works : Death.	420
XIII. HUMĀYŪN	Humāyūn's Character : Fights with his Relatives for the Throne : Shēr Khan defeats Humāyūn and forces him to leave India.	428

CONTENTS		PAGE
CHAPTER XIV. SHĒR SHAH'S REIGN AND THE RESTORATION OF THE MOGUL DYNASTY	Shēr Shah's Administrative Policy : Revenue System : Treatment of the Ryots : Military and Civil Organisation : His Campaigns : Takes Chitor : His Tomb at Sahserām : Salīm Shah : Shaikh 'Alāi and his Preaching : Muhammad 'Adil Shah and the Break-up of the Delhi Empire : Return of Humāyūn and his Accidental Death.	437
XV. AKBAR : THE PROTECTORATE OF BAIRĀM KHAN	Accession of Akbar : Bairām Khan as Protector : Defeat and Death of Hēmū at Pānipat : Struggles with the Afghans of Bengal : Akbar assumes the Government : Bairām Khan's Rebellion and Death.	450
XVI. AKBAR AS RULER OF ĀRYĀVARTA	Akbar and the Associates of his Boyhood : The Insubordination of his Generals : Murder of the Prime Minister by Adham Khan : Akbar's Marriage with a Rājput Princess : Rāja Bihārī Mall and Rājput Influence at Court : War with the Rāna of Mewār : Afghan Rebellion in Bengal : Attempt on Akbar's Life : Akbar abolishes Taxes on Pilgrims : Rebellion of Mirza Hakīm : Siege and Capture of Chitor : Founding of Fatehpur-Sikri : Paizi and Abul Fazl : Akbar's Life at Fatehpur-Sikri.	458
XVII. AKBAR AS RULER OF ĀRYĀVARTA (continued)	War with Gujerat : Revolt of the Mirzas : War with the Afghans in Bengal : Todar Mall and his Financial Reforms : Akbar's Land Revenue Policy : Rāja Mān Singh's Campaign in Rājputāna.	480
XVIII. AKBAR AS SPIRITUAL LEADER OF ISLAM	Akbar's Religious Studies and Views : The Debates in the Ibādat-Khāna : The Imperial Library : Psychological Research : Akbar assumes the Spiritual Leadership of Islam : Administration of the Crown Domains : Renewed Disturbances in Bengal and Gujerat.	492
XIX. THE DĪN-ILĀHĪ	The Dīn-Ilāhī and its Relationship to Indo-Aryan Religious Orders : Proclamation of the Dīn-Ilāhī : Changes in Court Ceremonial and Ritual of Divine Service : Rāja Todar Mall becomes Diwān of the Empire : Akbar's Reply to the Charge of Apostasy : Influence of the Dīn-Ilāhī.	511

ARYAN RULE IN INDIA

CHAPTER

XX. AKBAR AS CHAKRA-VARTIN

PAGE
520

Akbar removes his Capital to Lahore ; Defence of the North-west Frontier : A Māhdi Pretender : Death of Rāja Birbal : Conquest of Sind, Kāthiāwār, Katch, and Orissa : Akbar Undisputed Master of the Ancient Āryāvarta : His Administrative Policy : Claims Sovereignty over the Dekhan : Chand Bībī and the Defence of Ahmadnagar : Akbar leaves Lahore and assumes Command in the Dekhan : Rebellion of Prince Salīm and Murder of Abul Fazl : Akbar's Domestic Troubles and Death.

INDEX

539

MAPS

ANCIENT INDIA

From Fergusson's History of Eastern and Indian Architecture, by kind permission of Mr John Murray.

3

INDIA UNDER MUHAMMADAN RULE

From Fergusson's History of Eastern and Indian Architecture
by kind permission of Mr John Murray.

279