

We've Learnt Nothing from History

PAKISTAN: POLITICS AND MILITARY POWER

M. ASGHAR KHAN

OXFORD

CONTENTS

	page
Introduction	xi
Preface	xvii
1. The Quaid-i-Azam as I Saw Him	1
2. The Army Enters Politics	6
3. How Bangladesh was Born	31
4. Rebirth of Democracy	56
5. The Guardians of the Law	83
6. Pakistan's Second General Elections	110
7. Political Dialogue	128
8. The Army Digs In	149
9. The Real Martial Law	174
10. The Hanging of Bhutto	188
11. Pakistani Politics and the Role of the ISI	195
12. Balochistan in a Federation	201
13. Twelve Provinces for Pakistan	209
14. The King's Party	213
15. Corruption	218
16. Devolution of Power	227
17. 'Jihad' and the United States	232
18. Indo-Pak Relations	235
19. The Future of Democracy in Pakistan	247
20. General Musharraf's Five Years in Power	254
APPENDIX A: Malik Wazir Ali vs. The State. Writ Petition under article 199.	259
APPENDIX B: Letter from J.A. Rahim to Asghar Khan	262

APPENDIX C: Asghar Khan's reply to J.A. Rahim 264

APPENDIX D: Statement of Air Marshal (retd.)
Asghar Khan in the Lahore High Court, 1980 266

APPENDIX E: Articles by Ardeshir Cowasjee 278

Index 295